Six Die as Bus Hurtles Into Lake From Broken Bridge

By GAVIN SCOTT

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Two barges smashed a gap in the world's longest bridge before dawn today and a Trailways bus plunged over the edge into Lake Pontchartrain, killing six passengers.

Divers recovered some of the bodies from the bus, submerged in about 15 feet of the brackish water. A Coast Guard helicopter rescued one man and plucked another body from the lake.

The bus driver was one of two survivors. Five bodies were recovered. One body was trapped in the bus wreckage.

The heavy barges, one loaded with gravel and the other with a big dredge, knocked down about 200 feet of the causeway—a low bridge resembling a highway on stilts.

The causeway extends 24 miles from New Orleans north across the lake. Cause of the collision was not immediately determined.

The identity of the dead was not immediately learned.

The bus driver, Ernest Vaugh of Jackson, Miss., was reported in critical condition at a New Orleans hospital.

The barges, pushed by the towboat Rebel Jr., jammed the causeway about eight miles from the New Orleans end.

John Lambert, chairman of the Greater New Orleans Expressway Commission, said the causeway will be reopened to traffic in about 10 days, if weather conditions permit.

Jackie Church, 19, of Mandeville—a town on the northern end of the causeway—reached the gap shortly after the bus fell.

Church said he dove in and pulled one man from the water.

Babies Sold for $7,500 Apiece on Black Market

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee opened hearings today on the sale of infants for adoption and heard testimony that children are sold for as high as $7,500 on the baby black market.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., chairman of the subcommittee to investigate juvenile delinquency, began the hearings with a statement that clandestine trade in babies, both interstate and from foreign countries.

Under study is legislation that would provide imprisonment of up to five years of a $10,000 fine or both "for anyone who profited from the placement of a child for adoption if the child were transported in interstate or foreign commerce." The sanction would not apply to legitimate welfare agencies.

Witnesses for the first of two days of hearing included Katherine B. Oettinger, chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Welfare, and Theresa L. Heath of the New York City Police Department, assigned to the district attorney's office squad.

ITU Election Challenged By Minority Report

The recent International Typographical Union election has been challenged.

An unsuccessful candidate, Fred R. Hunt Jr., said this morning in Chicago that a minority report challenging the election was mailed to ITU headquarters and will be filed this week.

Hunt was defeated for a two-year term as president of the 80,000-member union by incumbent Elmer Brown, according to three members of the five-man board of electors.

A story in the June 6 issue of the local morning paper, which is subsidized by the ITU, was headlined:

"No Challenge of Results." Ross Edmonds, chairman of the board of electors, was quoted in the story as saying "The official results of the International Typographical Election will not be challenged."

The same story in the union paper admitted that ". . . irregularities occurred in the reports of 57 locals with a total of 5,612 votes."

The minority report was filed by two of the electors who refused to certify the election, Tom B. Baker who represented Hunt on the board, and John J. Conley of Dallas, Tex.

The three members of the board of electors who certified the election declared Conley defeated for the office of secre-

Red Disarmament Proposal 'Not Acceptable'

GENEVA (AP) — Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster said today Soviet proposals for liquidating all but a handful of nuclear delivery vehicles within 18 months are unacceptable to the United States.

Foster again rejected a proposal by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to leave the few remaining delivery vehicles as a "nuclear umbrella" to be retained through the final stages of a general disarmament treaty.

He also turned down a suggestion by Gromyko's deputy, Valerian Zorin, that the 17-nation disarmament conference here should approve the Gromyko plan in principle and then start technical discussions on it.

Foster said the United States was prepared to begin technical discussions on how to limit and reduce nuclear delivery vehicles, but not at the price of a prior commitment to the Gromyko plan.

New Pikes Peak Summit House Dedicated; Mountain Designated National Monument

SUMMIT HOUSE DEDICATED — Gov. John Love looks at the Pikes Peak Summit House plaque which he unveiled Monday during ceremonies atop the 14,110-foot mountain. With him is Mayor Harry Hoth, who was master of ceremonies. Other photographs appear on page 1-B. (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

With the unveiling of two plaques atop Pikes Peak Monday, the new Summit House was dedicated and the mountain was designated a national historical monument.

Local business executives and city, county and state government officials rode to the top of the mountain aboard two new 80-passenger Swiss diesel electric rail cars, one of which balked about two miles from the summit and forced the ceremonies to be delayed for an hour.

One of the 220-horse power diesel motors overheated and the train was forced to stop. Safety devices held the car stationary while repairs were made.

The lead car, which carried Gov. John Love, Mayor Harry Hoth, and military officials from the Pikes Peak Region reached the summit on schedule.

Another state official, Dr. Alfred A. Edwards, deputy assistant secretary of agriculture, unveiled a second plaque which designated the summit as a national historical monument.

Participating in the ceremony were William Thayer Tutt, president of the Broadmoor Hotel and of the Manitou and Pikes Peak Cog Railway, his brother, Russell Tutt, other Broadmoor executives, and business and industrial leaders from Colorado Springs and Denver. Mayor Hoth presided.

Northern Japan Struck by Quake

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — A tremendous earthquake set off fires and caused milliones of dollars in damage today to Niigata, major port city in northern Japan. Eight persons were killed, two were missing and 108 injured by the quake that jolted the city for 2½ minutes.

Police listed the over-all toll in the stricken northern Japan area including Niigata at 21 dead, 2 missing and 129 injured.

It was the third disaster to strike Niigata in two decades. The important industrial-commercial city of 290,000 was destroyed by a U.S. air raid in the closing days of World War II. The city was rebuilt, only to be leveled by a fire in October, 1955.

The temblor — strongest in Japan since the catastrophic quake of 1923 wiped out Tokyo and Yokohama—hit a vast area of the main Japanese island of Honshu at 1:01 p.m.

Sending a massive ground wave through 10 northern prefectures with a total population of 15 million, it left behind a trail of dead and suffering, flaming industrial installations, broken highways and railways and ugly fissures in the countryside.

Word from Niigata remained fragmentary tonight. But an emergency telecast from the stricken city showed blazing oil tanks, a destroyed bridge and an eight-story hospital tilting on its shattered foundation.

Shortage of water made it impossible to fight flames from burning oil tanks. There was fear that oil spreading over the waterfront and lowland areas might ignite.

Besides Niigata, the hardest hit cities were Murakami, Mizuhara, Mitsuke, and Toyosaka. Damage was not as heavy as in Niigata, which was without gas, water, electricity or normal telegraph and telephone communications.

In the northern area the total of houses destroyed was listed at 371 with 825 others damaged 138 slightly damaged and several hundred flooded at first-floor level.

Five bridges were washed away, the railways were cut in 24 places and highways damaged at 24 places.

A refining center for nearly all of Japan's domestic petroleum, Niigata is on the Sea of Japan 160 miles northwest of Tokyo and is a chief port for trade with the Soviet Union.

The quake, which hit at 1:01 p.m., registered a force of five on Japan's seven-maximum scale in the cities of Niigata, Sendai and Sakata. The Meteorological Agency said this was only slightly less severe than the Tokyo-Yokohama quake 41 years ago which claimed more than 140,000 lives, mostly through fire.

The U.S. Coast Guard and Geodetic Survey in Honolulu said the quake registered 7.25 on the Richter scale, which rated the 1906 San Francisco quake at 8.25.

Commie China Voices Threats In Laos Warfare

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Hints of possible Communist Chinese reactions to American actions in Laos threatened new complications today in the Laotian crisis.

The Peking People's Daily, official newspaper of the Chinese Communist party, charged Monday that U.S. planes made attacks on Pathet Lao headquarters that "were a deliberate provocation against Communist China."

A People's Daily editorial, broadcast by the New China News Agency (NCNA), claimed the alleged bombings had wounded or killed several of the Chinese staff stationed at Khang Khay, site of the Pathet Lao headquarters.

"We want to question the Johnson administration: What are you planning to do? Do you intend to force the (Communist) Chinese people to react to your provocations?" NCNA said.

The editorial caused concern among officials here that the Chinese might take a more direct role in the fighting between the neutralist government troops and the Communist Pathet Lao forces. There have been reports of Communist North Vietnamese troops already helping the Pathet Lao.

The Pathet Lao, in an offensive launched last month, have driven the neutralists off the strategic Plaine des Jarres and have been reported massing for an attack on the last neutralist resistance point at Muong Soui.

Gold Camp Road Fight Between Men Reported

Two men on the Gold Camp Road in the early hours of this morning picked a fight with a group of Ent men, smashed the windows of three cars and cut one man on the head so badly that he required 14 stitches, the sheriff's office reported.

According to Deputy Sheriffs Ray Carey and Bob Walters, Michael Murphy and some friends were on the Gold Camp Road when the two men drove up and started smashing car windows. Murphy received a cut on the head from the pair and was taken to Ent Dispensary for treatment.

Quine Withdraws As Candidate for Judge's Post

Justice of the Peace James F. Quine Jr. has announced his withdrawal as a candidate for district judge, western division of the 4th Judicial District and said he is entering the primary race as district judge in the eastern division.

He will be running against County Judge Charles J. Simon who was designated at the 4th Judicial District Republican assembly June 5.

Both Quine and District Attorney Pat Hinton were designated as candidates for the western judgeship at the assembly.

The western division covers El Paso and Teller Counties and the eastern, Lincoln and Kit Carson.

Quine said this morning that both judgeships will be voted on by all four counties and that as the state statute makes no provision for a second meeting of the assembly, he must present a petition bearing 300 signatures to permit him to enter the race. The signatures must be those of Republicans who have been registered as such for the past 12 months.

Giving the reason for his switch, Quine said he had been contacted by many mutual friends of Hinton's and himself and that as he was anxious to preserve harmony and unity within the party, he thought it advisable not to compete against the district attorney.

Quine also added that Hinton had served him as deputy district attorney for two years while Quine held the office of district attorney for eight, and that consequently there was a strong friendship between them.

He concluded saying he had spoken with people in the eastern counties who were all agreeable to the change in plan.

Trains Roll Again As Court Stops One-Day Strike

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Trains were rolling again today as court orders ended a one-day strike against six mid-continent railroads.

Union officials said the men were returning to work as the orders were served, but one official said the strike would resume when the restraining orders expire.

Injunction hearings are set for late this week and next week.

Jury Selection Is Begun in Chavez Trial

Jury Selection for the trial of Eliseo Antonio Chavez, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, started in District Court this morning with Judge Russell Miller on the bench.

Chavez, 29, 231 N. Cheyenne Ave., is alleged to have attacked his wife Martha, 29, 231 E. Vermijo St., with a butcher knife and a paring knife April 15.

Beer Better For Teeth Than Fruit Juice

LONDON (UPI) — Beer is good for the teeth, a British dental survey said today.

A team from London's Guy's Hospital said it soaked young, healthy teeth in 14 different solutions, including beer and fruit juices.

After six weeks, it said, the teeth in the fruit juice developed cavities. Those in the beer were as good as new.

States Face Explosive Legislative Changes; City Voters Strengthened

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Practically every state in the union faced today an explosive change in its lawmaking and politics which should eventually give city voters a more equal voice in their state governments.

The Supreme Court, arguing that "legislatures represent people, not trees or acres," decreed Monday that seats in both houses of every state legislature must be apportioned by population.

The decision held unconstitutional the division of representation in six states—Virginia, Maryland, New York, Delaware, Alabama and Colorado—but foreshadowed a similar holding in as many as 40 other states.

Reaction was swift and noisy—joy from urban leaders and outrage from state's righters and rural - dominated legislatures.

Both Republicans and Democrats, digging into voting and population charts, figured the decision would help them.

All agreed that rural residents who for generations have held a disproportionate share of voting power in most states, would be the losers.

The problem pondered in statehouses today was what to do. Secial sessions of the legislatures may be needed in some cases. Fortunately the court gave time for planning and preparations. It ruled that action on the decision need not be taken before this year's general elections Nov. 3.

But it noted that in Maryland's case it does not have a state election until 1966 and it added that "under no circumstances" should that election "be conducted pursuant to the existing or any other unconstitutional plan."

In its decision, the court held unconstitutional the so - called "little federal" systems in which state legislatures are made up like the U.S. Congress with districts represented equally in one house and by population in the other.

This aspect of the ruling was called "utter nonsense" by Dr. William Prendergast, research director for the Republican National Committee.

"There's no sense in having two houses if they represent the same thing," he declared. "I trust they won't find the U.S. Senate unconstitutional."

This was much the same view of Gov. John Connally of Texas, a democrat, who said: "The ruling does violence to at least a measure of the checks and balances we've adhered to in our legislative bodies since the foundation of this country."

Some governors ranted, including Arkansas' Orval E. Faubus, who charged that the court had intruded on what is "clearly a state matter" and said, "This ruling lends an awful lot of credence to the views of

Nikita Plotted With Hungarians, Albanians Claim

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The pro-Chinese Communists of Albania charged today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev plotted with the Hungarian rebels during their 1956 uprising to overthrow the Stalinist leadership of the Hungarian Communist party.

Zeri I Popullit, paper of the Albanian party which is a sounding board for Peking in Europe, said Khrushchev in fact "protected" the short-lived revolutionary government of Premier Imre Nagy, who was executed in Hungary in 1958, presumably on Soviet insistence.

The article was one of a series in which the Albanian newspaper had promised to expose skeletons in the Communist closet. The series was entitled "unmasking to the very end the dangerous maneuvers of the Khrushchev group relating to the alleged struggle against the personality cult." By the "personality cult," Communists mean Stalinism.

Court to Name Attorney for Murder Suspect

Richard Olin Gooch, charged with the first degree murder of his wife Monday, appeared in District Court this morning for his preliminary hearing before Judge David W. Enoch.

The 38-year old Ft. Carson sergeant was advised of his right to a trial by jury, a speedy trial, and that he be represented by counsel. The defendant, who stood quietly and respectfully before the judge, said he was without funds and Judge Enoch indicated that the court would appoint an attorney and continued the matter to June 19 for arraignment.

Earlier, Gooch had voluntarily permitted press photographers to take his picture. He appeared without handcuffs and

Barry Declares He Will Lead GOP to Victory

By WALTER R. MEARS

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater declared today he intends to lead the Republicans to victory at the polls next November.

Goldwater said he can do the job, no matter what "the doom shouters" say.

"I intend to lead a united party on a platform of principle—the same platform and the same principle in every part of this nation," the front-running Republican presidential contender said in an address prepared for the Texas Republican convention.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who plunged into the race for the GOP nomination Friday, argues a Goldwater ticket would spell defeat for Republicans seeking congressional seats, state and local offices.

Out to round up Texas delegates votes at the Republican National Convention, Goldwater declared: "Whatever the dopesters and pollsters say—whatever we hear from the doom shouters in both parties—I intend to lead all the candidates to victory, North and South, East and West, in November."

"The Republican party can win the South in 1964," Goldwater said. "The Republican party can win the nation in 1964.

"From the courthouse to the Congress, we are going to concede nothing."

Goldwater aides said the senator's congressional supporters, more than 60 strong, will de-

Peace Formula Acceptable To Indonesia

TOKYO (UPI)—Malaysia and Indonesia today appeared ready to accept a peace formula aimed at settling the nine month old territorial dispute between them, according to Philippine sources here.

They said President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines presented the formula to Indonesian President Sukarno and Prime Minister Tengku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia in separate meetings in Tokyo.

They said it could become the basis for a summit meeting between the leaders of all three countries.

The sources said the peace formula called for the creation of a four-member commission to investigate the dispute between Malaysia, Indonesia, and the Philippines and then recommend a settlement.

The settlement would be binding on all three countries, according to the sources.

Red Disarmament Proposal 'Not Acceptable'

GENEVA (AP) — Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster said today Soviet proposals for liquidating all but a handful of nuclear delivery vehicles within 18 months are unacceptable to the United States.

Foster again rejected a proposal by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to leave the few remaining delivery vehicles as a "nuclear umbrella" to be retained through the final stages of a general disarmament treaty.

He also turned down a suggestion by Gromyko's deputy, Valerian Zorin, that the 17-nation disarmament conference here should approve the Gromyko plan in principle and then start technical discussions on it.

Foster said the United States was prepared to begin technical discussions on how to limit and reduce nuclear delivery vehicles, but not at the price of a prior commitment to the Gromyko plan.

Northern Japan Struck by Quake

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — A tremendous earthquake set off fires and caused milliones of dollars in damage today to Niigata, major port city in northern Japan. Eight persons were killed, two were missing and 108 injured by the quake that jolted the city for 2½ minutes.

Police listed the over-all toll in the stricken northern Japan area including Niigata at 21 dead, 2 missing and 129 injured.

It was the third disaster to strike Niigata in two decades. The important industrial-commercial city of 290,000 was destroyed by a U.S. air raid in the closing days of World War II. The city was rebuilt, only to be leveled by a fire in October, 1955.

The temblor — strongest in Japan since the catastrophic quake of 1923 wiped out Tokyo and Yokohama—hit a vast area of the main Japanese island of Honshu at 1:01 p.m.

Sending a massive ground wave through 10 northern prefectures with a total population of 15 million, it left behind a trail of dead and suffering, flaming industrial installations, broken highways and railways and ugly fissures in the countryside.

Word from Niigata remained fragmentary tonight. But an emergency telecast from the stricken city showed blazing oil tanks, a destroyed bridge and an eight-story hospital tilting on its shattered foundation.

Shortage of water made it impossible to fight flames from burning oil tanks. There was fear that oil spreading over the waterfront and lowland areas might ignite.

Besides Niigata, the hardest hit cities were Murakami, Mizuhara, Mitsuke, and Toyosaka. Damage was not as heavy as in Niigata, which was without gas, water, electricity or normal telegraph and telephone communications.

In the northern area the total of houses destroyed was listed at 371 with 825 others damaged 138 slightly damaged and several hundred flooded at first-floor level.

Five bridges were washed away, the railways were cut in 24 places and highways damaged at 24 places.

A refining center for nearly all of Japan's domestic petroleum, Niigata is on the Sea of Japan 160 miles northwest of Tokyo and is a chief port for trade with the Soviet Union.

The quake, which hit at 1:01 p.m., registered a force of five on Japan's seven-maximum scale in the cities of Niigata, Sendai and Sakata. The Meteorological Agency said this was only slightly less severe than the Tokyo-Yokohama quake 41 years ago which claimed more than 140,000 lives, mostly through fire.

The U.S. Coast Guard and Geodetic Survey in Honolulu said the quake registered 7.25 on the Richter scale, which rated the 1906 San Francisco quake at 8.25.

Commie China Voices Threats In Laos Warfare

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Hints of possible Communist Chinese reactions to American actions in Laos threatened new complications today in the Laotian crisis.

The Peking People's Daily, official newspaper of the Chinese Communist party, charged Monday that U.S. planes made attacks on Pathet Lao headquarters that "were a deliberate provocation against Communist China."

A People's Daily editorial, broadcast by the New China News Agency (NCNA), claimed the alleged bombings had wounded or killed several of the Chinese staff stationed at Khang Khay, site of the Pathet Lao headquarters.

"We want to question the Johnson administration: What are you planning to do? Do you intend to force the (Communist) Chinese people to react to your provocations?" NCNA said.

The editorial caused concern among officials here that the Chinese might take a more direct role in the fighting between the neutralist government troops and the Communist Pathet Lao forces. There have been reports of Communist North Vietnamese troops already helping the Pathet Lao.

The Pathet Lao, in an offensive launched last month, have driven the neutralists off the strategic Plaine des Jarres and have been reported massing for an attack on the last neutralist resistance point at Muong Soui.

Gold Camp Road Fight Between Men Reported

Two men on the Gold Camp Road in the early hours of this morning picked a fight with a group of Ent men, smashed the windows of three cars and cut one man on the head so badly that he required 14 stitches, the sheriff's office reported.

According to Deputy Sheriffs Ray Carey and Bob Walters, Michael Murphy and some friends were on the Gold Camp Road when the two men drove up and started smashing car windows. Murphy received a cut on the head from the pair and was taken to Ent Dispensary for treatment.

Poland Warns Red China May Be 'Left Out'

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka said today that if the Red Chinese do not participate in a world conference of Communist parties they would automatically put themselves out of the international Communist movement.

Gomulka, first secretary of the party, announced full Polish support for Soviet Premier Khrushchev's conference plan after a long attack against the Chinese.

Quine Withdraws As Candidate for Judge's Post

Justice of the Peace James F. Quine Jr. has announced his withdrawal as a candidate for district judge, western division of the 4th Judicial District and said he is entering the primary race as district judge in the eastern division.

He will be running against County Judge Charles J. Simon who was designated at the 4th Judicial District Republican assembly June 5.

The western division covers El Paso and Teller Counties and the eastern, Lincoln and Kit Carson.

Quine said this morning that both judgeships will be voted on by all four counties and that as the state statute makes no provision for a second meeting of the assembly, he must present a petition bearing 300 signatures to permit him to enter the race. The signatures must be those of Republicans who have been registered as such for the past 12 months.

Giving the reason for his switch, Quine said he had been contacted by many mutual friends of Hinton's and himself and that as he was anxious to preserve harmony and unity within the party, he thought it advisable not to compete against the district attorney.

Quine also added that Hinton had served him as deputy district attorney for two years while Quine held the office of district attorney for eight, and that consequently there was a strong friendship between them.

He concluded saying he had spoken with people in the eastern counties who were all agreeable to the change in plan.

Trains Roll Again As Court Stops One-Day Strike

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Trains were rolling again today as court orders ended a one-day strike against six mid-continent railroads.

Union officials said the men were returning to work as the orders were served, but one official said the strike would resume when the restraining orders expire.

Injunction hearings are set for late this week and next week.

Jury Selection Is Begun in Chavez Trial

Jury Selection for the trial of Eliseo Antonio Chavez, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, started in District Court this morning with Judge Russell Miller on the bench.

Chavez, 29, 231 N. Cheyenne Ave., is alleged to have attacked his wife Martha, 29, 231 E. Vermijo St., with a butcher knife and a paring knife April 15.

Beer Better For Teeth Than Fruit Juice

LONDON (UPI) — Beer is good for the teeth, a British dental survey said today.

A team from London's Guy's Hospital said it soaked young, healthy teeth in 14 different solutions, including beer and fruit juices.

After six weeks, it said, the teeth in the fruit juice developed cavities. Those in the beer were as good as new.

With the unveiling of two plaques atop Pikes Peak Monday, the new Summit House was dedicated and the mountain was designated a national historical monument.

Local business executives and city, county and state government officials rode to the top of the mountain aboard two new 80-passenger Swiss diesel electric rail cars, one of which balked about two miles from the summit and forced the ceremonies to be delayed for an hour.

One of the 220-horse power diesel motors overheated and the train was forced to stop. Safety devices held the car stationary while repairs were made.

The lead car, which carried Gov. John Love, Mayor Harry Hoth, and military officials from the Pikes Peak Region reached the summit on schedule.

Another state official, Dr. Alfred A. Edwards, deputy assistant secretary of agriculture, unveiled a second plaque which designated the summit as a national historical monument.

Participating in the ceremony were William Thayer Tutt, president of the Broadmoor Hotel and of the Manitou and Pikes Peak Cog Railway, his brother, Russell Tutt, other Broadmoor executives, and business and industrial leaders from Colorado Springs and Denver. Mayor Hoth presided.

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Practically every state in the union faced today an explosive change in its lawmaking and politics which should eventually give city voters a more equal voice in their state governments.

The Supreme Court, arguing that "legislatures represent people, not trees or acres," decreed Monday that seats in both houses of every state legislature must be apportioned by population.

The decision held unconstitutional the division of representation in six states—Virginia, Maryland, New York, Delaware, Alabama and Colorado—but foreshadowed a similar holding in as many as 40 other states.

Reaction was swift and noisy—joy from urban leaders and outrage from state's righters and rural - dominated legislatures.

Both Republicans and Democrats, digging into voting and population charts, figured the decision would help them.

All agreed that rural residents who for generations have held a disproportionate share of voting power in most states, would be the losers.

The problem pondered in statehouses today was what to do. Secial sessions of the legislatures may be needed in some cases. Fortunately the court gave time for planning and preparations. It ruled that action on the decision need not be taken before this year's general elections Nov. 3.

But it noted that in Maryland's case it does not have a state election until 1966 and it added that "under no circumstances" should that election "be conducted pursuant to the existing or any other unconstitutional plan."

In its decision, the court held unconstitutional the so - called "little federal" systems in which state legislatures are made up like the U.S. Congress with districts represented equally in one house and by population in the other.

This aspect of the ruling was called "utter nonsense" by Dr. William Prendergast, research director for the Republican National Committee.

"There's no sense in having two houses if they represent the same thing," he declared. "I trust they won't find the U.S. Senate unconstitutional."

This was much the same view of Gov. John Connally of Texas, a democrat, who said: "The ruling does violence to at least a measure of the checks and balances we've adhered to in our legislative bodies since the foundation of this country."

Some governors ranted, including Arkansas' Orval E. Faubus, who charged that the court had intruded on what is "clearly a state matter" and said, "This ruling lends an awful lot of credence to the views of

Nikita Plotted With Hungarians, Albanians Claim

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The pro-Chinese Communists of Albania charged today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev plotted with the Hungarian rebels during their 1956 uprising to overthrow the Stalinist leadership of the Hungarian Communist party.

Zeri I Popullit, paper of the Albanian party which is a sounding board for Peking in Europe, said Khrushchev in fact "protected" the short-lived revolutionary government of Premier Imre Nagy, who was executed in Hungary in 1958, presumably on Soviet insistence.

The article was one of a series in which the Albanian newspaper had promised to expose skeletons in the Communist closet. The series was entitled "unmasking to the very end the dangerous maneuvers of the Khrushchev group relating to the alleged struggle against the personality cult." By the "personality cult," Communists mean Stalinism.

Court to Name Attorney for Murder Suspect

Richard Olin Gooch, charged with the first degree murder of his wife Monday, appeared in District Court this morning for his preliminary hearing before Judge David W. Enoch.

The 38-year old Ft. Carson sergeant was advised of his right to a trial by jury, a speedy trial, and that he be represented by counsel. The defendant, who stood quietly and respectfully before the judge, said he was without funds and Judge Enoch indicated that the court would appoint an attorney and continued the matter to June 19 for arraignment.

Earlier, Gooch had voluntarily permitted press photographers to take his picture. He appeared without handcuffs and

Darling Post Office Closed For Economy

DARLING, Pa. (AP)—Economy has overtaken romance and consequently the famous Valentine's Day post office in this south-eastern Pennsylvania village is being closed.

In the last 40 years Miss Martha Darlington has been postmistress, enthusiastically giving an assist to cupid every Feb. 14.

Darling, with a population under 100, had its own valentine postmark—heart - shaped, of course—and year after year letters flooded in from just about everywhere to be stamped with the love symbol.

Peace Formula Acceptable To Indonesia

TOKYO (UPI)—Malaysia and Indonesia today appeared ready to accept a peace formula aimed at settling the nine month old territorial dispute between them, according to Philippine sources here.

They said President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines presented the formula to Indonesian President Sukarno and Prime Minister Tengku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia in separate meetings in Tokyo.

They said it could become the basis for a summit meeting between the leaders of all three countries.

The sources said the peace formula called for the creation of a four-member commission to investigate the dispute between Malaysia, Indonesia, and the Philippines and then recommend a settlement.

The settlement would be binding on all three countries, according to the sources.

Barry Declares He Will Lead GOP to Victory

By WALTER R. MEARS

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater declared today he intends to lead the Republicans to victory at the polls next November.

Goldwater said he can do the job, no matter what "the doom shouters" say.

"I intend to lead a united party on a platform of principle—the same platform and the same principle in every part of this nation," the front-running Republican presidential contender said in an address prepared for the Texas Republican convention.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who plunged into the race for the GOP nomination Friday, argues a Goldwater ticket would spell defeat for Republicans seeking congressional seats, state and local offices.

Out to round up Texas delegates votes at the Republican National Convention, Goldwater declared: "Whatever the dopesters and pollsters say—whatever we hear from the doom shouters in both parties—I intend to lead all the candidates to victory, North and South, East and West, in November."

"The Republican party can win the South in 1964," Goldwater said. "The Republican party can win the nation in 1964.

"From the courthouse to the Congress, we are going to concede nothing."

'Common Sense' Urged by Old, Famed Distiller

By GEORGE W. HACKETT

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Age shoved Julian P. Van Winkle Sr. into a chair behind an executive's desk but it's never been able to retire him. Mention that word and America's oldest master distiller explodes.

The ever-present cane beats a tattoo on the floor and his cigar quivers as Pappy explains why he is on the job today even though he celebrated his 90th birthday in March.

"I keep young by using a jigger of common sense. Most human beings eat too much, drink too much, smoke too much. And they wear out quicker."

It is a unique operation because Pappy won't allow a chemist on the grounds.

"You can't make good whisky in a hurry," he states emphatically. "That's what these chemists try to do. Whisky is a matter of time and nature."

When he escorts visitors around the plant, Pappy carefully points out that the more than 2,200 windows in 15 unheated warehouses are open eight hours a day. This opening-closing operation costs about $4,000 a year in labor but Pappy contends that "our product sleeps best with the windows open."

Recently, he was taking a Scottish distiller on a warehouse tour when a windstorm arose. As a section of roof flew past his head, the Scot asked his guide, "Dinna ye overdo the ventilation in this place a wee bit?"

When Pappy enrolled at Centre College in his native Danville, Ky., the family expected him to enter politics. His father and an uncle were lawyers and also had served as secretaries of state in Kentucky. But college didn't appeal to Pappy so he came to Louisville, applied for a job at the distillery and was hired immediately.

"Salesmen today don't know what travel is. Their idea is to be home every night. I'd go for 60 days by buggy and train, come back, and go right out again. You gotta keep busy to make money."

This philosophy is passed along to his salesmen who meet in Pappy's office for a pep talk every so often. Eventually, the conversation drifts around to the industry's critics.

"The distiller must face up to his antagonizers," Pappy asserts. "He is not a second-class citizen. Whisky is a government-regulated business, besides being the highest-taxed. Our people go to church and support almost all civic enterprises — with money and not conversation."

Not long ago, the president of a Kentucky college called on Van Winkle for a sizeable contribution.

"What would your trustees think of accepting money from a distillery?" Pappy asked.

"Don't worry," the educator replied. "We figure that money has been working for the Devil long enough. Let us have it for a while."

Pappy handed over a check.

TWO-TIMERS

NEW YORK (UPI)—It used to be that a high schooler had to wait for graduation for his or her first watch, unless he had inherited a family heirloom. But market researchers for a watch company (Bulova) estimated that fully half the members of the class of 1964 who receive a watch for graduation this June will be joining the ranks of two-watch owners.

The researchers figure about 2.2 million youngsters will receive their high school diplomas this June and about one in seven also will get a new timepiece to mark the occasion.

'Common Sense' Urged by Old, Famed Distiller

By GEORGE W. HACKETT

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Age shoved Julian P. Van Winkle Sr. into a chair behind an executive's desk but it's never been able to retire him. Mention that word and America's oldest master distiller explodes.

The ever-present cane beats a tattoo on the floor and his cigar quivers as Pappy explains why he is on the job today even though he celebrated his 90th birthday in March.

"I keep young by using a jigger of common sense. Most human beings eat too much, drink too much, smoke too much. And they wear out quicker."

It is a unique operation because Pappy won't allow a chemist on the grounds.

"You can't make good whisky in a hurry," he states emphatically. "That's what these chemists try to do. Whisky is a matter of time and nature."

When he escorts visitors around the plant, Pappy carefully points out that the more than 2,200 windows in 15 unheated warehouses are open eight hours a day. This opening-closing operation costs about $4,000 a year in labor but Pappy contends that "our product sleeps best with the windows open."

Recently, he was taking a Scottish distiller on a warehouse tour when a windstorm arose. As a section of roof flew past his head, the Scot asked his guide, "Dinna ye overdo the ventilation in this place a wee bit?"

When Pappy enrolled at Centre College in his native Danville, Ky., the family expected him to enter politics. His father and an uncle were lawyers and also had served as secretaries of state in Kentucky. But college didn't appeal to Pappy so he came to Louisville, applied for a job at the distillery and was hired immediately.

"Salesmen today don't know what travel is. Their idea is to be home every night. I'd go for 60 days by buggy and train, come back, and go right out again. You gotta keep busy to make money."

This philosophy is passed along to his salesmen who meet in Pappy's office for a pep talk every so often. Eventually, the conversation drifts around to the industry's critics.

"The distiller must face up to his antagonizers," Pappy asserts. "He is not a second-class citizen. Whisky is a government-regulated business, besides being the highest-taxed. Our people go to church and support almost all civic enterprises — with money and not conversation."

Not long ago, the president of a Kentucky college called on Van Winkle for a sizeable contribution.

"What would your trustees think of accepting money from a distillery?" Pappy asked.

"Don't worry," the educator replied. "We figure that money has been working for the Devil long enough. Let us have it for a while."

Pappy handed over a check.

TWO-TIMERS

NEW YORK (UPI)—It used to be that a high schooler had to wait for graduation for his or her first watch, unless he had inherited a family heirloom. But market researchers for a watch company (Bulova) estimated that fully half the members of the class of 1964 who receive a watch for graduation this June will be joining the ranks of two-watch owners.

The researchers figure about 2.2 million youngsters will receive their high school diplomas this June and about one in seven also will get a new timepiece to mark the occasion.

One School to Have Graduates In Entire County

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP)—The only free school Prince Edward County Negroes have known since the spring of 1959 will give high school diplomas tonight to its first — and last—class of graduates.

Twenty-two Negro pupils and one white boy will be graduated in the exercises in this southside Virginia county, which closed all public schools five years ago to avoid desegregation.

The graduation comes on the same day the county has been directed by a federal judge to say what steps it is taking to comply with a U.S. Supreme Court order to reopen public schools — on a desegregated basis—this fall.

The free school system — financed by private donations—ends its one-year operation today.

William Vanden Heuvel, a special assistant to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the man who perhaps had most to do with setting up the free school program, is to address the graduates.

Richard Moss, the only white senior, is an honor graduate. But the valedictorian, who made the highest grades of all, is Grace Poindexter.

Sunday the cap-and-gowned seniors, sweltering in the hot and humid auditorium were told not to harbor ill feeling.

"Virtue is not a matter of race," Dr. Lawrence Jones, dean of the Fisk University chapel, said in a baccalaureate address, "but of the heart and of the will.

"You must remember that the Free School Association represents an investment of $1 million by people of good will."

NEW YORK (UPI) — When is a feather not a feather? When it's a macaroni, says macaroni maker Vincent S. La Rosa.

Yankee Doodle "stuck a feather in his hat and called it macaroni," he says because macaroni was a slang name for elegant young 18th century Englishmen who affected Italian-style clothes, including plumed hats. American patriots were taunting British officers when they included the phrase in the popular folk song.

Congressmen's Wives Don't Talk of Money

By JOY MILLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—By now you'd think congressional wives would have that $7,500 pay raise spent—at least in their minds.

Their spouses voted it for themselves last week, together with pay boosts for 1.7 million federal workers. The Senate is expected to go along.

An informal poll, though, has turned up the fact that here is an amazing group of wives who would rather not talk about money.

They're not sure how the voters back home are going to take it. The raise wouldn't be effective until next Jan. 3, and the husbands have to get re-elected in November.

A few brave wives ventured opinions.

Mrs. Bob Casey—he's D-Tex.—says candidly: "I do think it's wonderful. I only hope people will understand how much it costs use to live, without too many frills, too."

The Caseys have 10 children, 6 at home. The others are married or at college.

"My husband was a county judge making $15,000 before he came to Washington six years ago. I remember thinking, 'My, his salary as a congressman—$22,500—will certainly make a difference.'

"Well, it hasn't. You can't rent your house back in Houston for what you have to pay here. Houston was generally a much less expensive place to live."

"Pay off some of the notes we've been paying interest on," says Mrs. Casey.

The problem of maintaining two homes plagues most congressional families, along with constant travel to keep the constituency happy. Congressmen find that travel costs take a mighty hunk out of the family paycheck.

Hugh Carey, D-N.Y., is a regular commuter home, where he tries to make ends meet by running his Brooklyn law office on Saturdays. His wife, who stays home in Brooklyn to care for the Carey brood, says cautiously: "We haven't got the raise yet. Just say it will help out."

Mother Carey's chickens number 13, and range in age from 19 years to 3 months. "Oh yes," she adds, chuckling, "we'll find some use for the raise. You know, diapers, shoes, teeth straightened."

"We're from a district that might not understand," says his wife. "It's hard to explain the raise to people who don't make that much in a year."

But, adds Mrs. Shriver, mother of three, "anyone can use money."

The Kastenmeiers have three boys, ages 4½ to 4 months.

"With all children you can hand down clothes, but there isn't much left of a second set of patches," Mrs. Kastenmeier says.

"The raise would make the mortage on the house here easier to meet. And just last week I started worrying about curtains in the Wisconsin place. It's always something."

Katharine St. George, R-N.Y., remains adamant.

"I opposed it," she says. "It's the wrong time. The country is in debt up to its eyebrows. The congressional salary, though, is the least objectional thing in the whole bill."

She shrugs. "But I can use it, certainly, if I get it. Anybody can do that."

Arizona Friends of Barry See Party Split

By DON CARSON

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The top Republicans from Sen. Barry Goldwater's home state believe he will be nominated for president despite the Scranton-Rockefeller coalition.

But they're afraid the struggle for the nomination may split the party and weaken its position in the November challenge to the Democrats.

"I wouldn't care to predict what would happen after the (nominating) convention," said Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona. "But it's not encouraging at all. I think the people are beginning to resent this display of futility."

Keith Brown, Republican state chairman, said Goldwater supporters won't be shaken by the Rockefeller-Scranton combine.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who had been Goldwater's chief rival, announced Monday he was throwing his support to Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania for the nomination.

"Barry is not taking anything for granted," said Brown, "but I say this, the grass roots of the Goldwater support run very deep."

While the Arizonans are convinced Goldwater will win at the San Francisco convention, they aren't so certain about what's going to happen Sept. 8 in their own state.

That's the date of the Arizona primary, and Goldwater is entered in the Senate contest.

The question is whether he'll remain in the race if he gets the presidential nomination.

He must file for the Senate seat because the deadline is July 10, three days before the national convention opens. If he doesn't win in San Francisco, he would have the Senate race to fall back on.

Fannin could seek a fourth term, go after Goldwater's Senate seat or quit public life. He has said he'll do whatever Goldwater wants.

Waiting on the sidelines is two-term Atty. Gen. Robert Pickrell, who says he wants a shot at the governor's chair if Fannin steps out.

Former State Chairman Richard Kleindienst, field director for Goldwater's national campaign has made no statements, but an anonymous group of 26, described by a Phoenix newspaper as prominent Republicans, has said it wants Kleindienst for governor if Fannin doesn't run.

Outside the regular party organization is Evan Mecham, publisher of a Phoenix afternoon daily. He surprised politicians two years ago by defeating Steve Shadegg, a Goldwater aide, in the Republican primary then making a strong showing against veteran Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz.

Mecham has said he'll be a friendly primary opponent in the Senate contest, pulling out if Goldwater loses the presidential nomination or decides to go for both.

'We Were Just Mob,' Rough Rider Declares

LAS VEGAS, N.M. (AP)—A survivor of Teddy Roosevelt's famed Rough Riders, told The Associated Press in a telephone interview that "we were just a mob that went up a hill."

This description of the charge up Kettle Hill at San Juan was offered by Jesse D. Langdon, 84, of East Rockaway, N.Y., chairman of the Association of Roosevelt Rough Riders.

Langdon was one of four survivors of the Rough Riders who met here Sunday for a reunion. The others were Frank C. Brito, 86, Las Cruces, N.M., Charles Hopping, 91, Long Beach, Calif., and Arthur L. Tuttle, 84, Salinas, Calif.

"If the Spaniards had been able to shoot," said Langdon, "we'd never have made it to the top." He recalled that Roosevelt's glasses were shot off and said that in the confusion of the attack many American casualties resulted from American bullets.

"In my belief, even Teddys glasses were shot off from behind, but Teddy was always too much of a politician to admit it," said Langdon.

He commented on present-day U.S. policy with Cuba.

"A bunch like us (the Rough Riders) could straighten it out in a hurry. I think we're (the United States) a bunch of easy marks and very soft. If we had made a state out of Cuba like Teddy Roosevelt wanted we wouldn't be having any trouble," he said.

Rejuvenated Rocket Plane Goes for Ride

The research craft never left its B52 mother ship in a test designed to check control systems which cannot be tested on the ground. The craft was modified after a crash landing in 1962 and is now designated as the X15A2.

Equipped with additional fuel tanks, the ship is designed to fly about 5,000 miles per hour —nearly 1,000 m.p.h. faster than the current X15 speed record.

Lunar Samples Sought By U.S. Scientists

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The mystery of how the earth and moon were formed could be cleared up with samples from the lunar surface.

How to select these samples and bring them back to earth for study were being discussed today by 110 scientists in a manned lunar exploration symposium at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

The group on Monday heard space agency scientists explain the limitations and restrictions on the potential experiments.

An engineer in a spacesuit movements would be restricted movements would b erestricted in a fully inflated suit, and movies were shown of the difficulty an astronaut would have in the one-sixth gravity on the moon.

Crowd Applauds Death Sentence Of Sex Offender

NEW YORK (AP) — A State Supreme Court jury decreed that a habitual sex offender and robber must go to the electric chair for the sex murder of a barmaid. Several women in the court room burst into applause and cheers.

A court attendant, a 25-year veteran on the job, said: "I've never seen anything like this—never, not at such a time."

There was no show of emotion Monday by the doomed man, Winston Moseley, 29, a Negro, confessed slayer of two women and a girl.

The jury ordered death for Moseley for the stabbing of Catherine Genovese, 28, near her home in Kew Gardens, Queens, early last March 13.

One of the group of women who applauded the verdict was recognized as one of 38 residents of the neighborhood who saw or heard Moseley attack the victim—yet did not call police or do anything else to help her.

Nikita Arrives In Copenhagen For Big Tour

By RONALD THOMPSON

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev arrived in Copenhagen today to begin a long-delayed tour of the Scandinavian countries.

The Soviet liner Bashkiria with Khrushchev and his party aboard slid smoothly into its pier. Premier Jens Otto Krag, Foreign Minister Per Haekkerup and other high Danish officials welcomed the visitors.

All ship movements in the harbor—one of the world's busiest — were halted for Khrushchev's arrival. The tightest security precautions in Denmark since World War II went into effect for the Soviet leader's five-day visit.

Four thousand police, many of them imported from the provinces, were on the alert in the city of one million people.

The crowd watching the arrival, restricted to some 2,000, applauded mildly as Mrs. Khrushchev appeared on deck with her husband.

The Soviet premier was also accompanied by his three daughters, Julia, Rada and Elena, and a party of Soviet officials including Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

With the Danish government avowedly determined to avoid any discussion of its defense ties with the West, it appeared that trade would be the big item in talks during Khrushchev's visit.

Foreign Minister Haekkerup told a news conference his government would like to export ships and agricultural products and was interested in importing a variety of products, including oil.

Before pushing on for six-day visits to Sweden and Norway, Khrushchev was expected to tour Denmark's farm areas, including the grain and dairylands of Funen Island south of Jutland.

Haekkerup said his government would give its views on such questions as Cyprus, where Danish troops are serving on the United Nations peace force, and Germany.

"We agree with the general attitude of the western powers on the German problem," he said.

Haekkerup said his government had no intention of discussing with Khrushchev Denmark's membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There have been reports that Khrushchev was eager to discuss Finnish President Urho Kekkonen's proposal for a nuclear-free zone in northern Europe. But Haekkerup said his government is opposed to the plan and "we therefore hope it will not be raised here."

Demos in Texas Stage Critical State Convention

By GARTH JONES

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Texas Democrats meet today in a state convention where the only advance agreement has been on support of President Johnson.

The possibility of a rump convention remained. Efforts for a compromise between forces of Gov. John Connally and Sen. Ralph Yarborough continued into the early morning.

Convention officials indicated the effect of the compromise talks would be revealed when the State Democratic Executive Committee acts today on contested delegations from Harris, Bexar, Dallas, Randall, Hutchinson, Edwards and Sherman counties. The counties have a total of 819 delegate votes.

Yarborough announced Monday night he would be unable to attend because he is flying back to Washington for important votes on the civil rights bill.

President Johnson's close friend and business associate, A. W. Moursund, Johnson City attorney and rancher, was named temporary convention chairman with the job of ruling on any close decisions between Connally's conservative faction and Yarborough's liberals.

The convention program calls for action first on acceptance of 2,834 delegates named in the state's 254 county conventions. Any roll call must tally 1,417 votes to carry.

The 22 congressional districts will then caucus to set up the permanent convention organization. The next principal action will be selecting 120 delegates to the national convention, 25 presidential electors and a national committeeman and committeewoman.

Connally said Monday he expected to be named chairman of the national convention delegation and he expected Yarborough to be named a delegate. Yarborough repeated that he was not seeking the delegation chairmanship or any other party post.

"I would hope the convention would not only endorse President Johnson but recommend and support his program," Yarborough told a fund raising dinner. "We are working together as a united democracy in Texas to the dismay of the disordered and divided Republican party—I repeat together."

Yarborough earlier urged the state convention to pledge support of the national platform that will be written in August. Connally has insisted platform endorsement should wait until the September state convention.

Red China Removes Commander in Tibet

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Communist China has removed its top military - political commander in Tibet, it was reported today.

A spokesman for Tibetan exiles in India said new refugees from Tibet reported that Gen. Chang Kuo Hwa dropped from sight about February.

There have been rumors for weeks that the general had been liquidated for pro - Soviet ideological leanings.

The Times of India reported Gen. Chang resisted the introduction of agricultural communes into Chinese - controlled Tibet and that he and a large number of Chinese-trained Tibetan officers were purged.

There was no way of confirming the reports. The Chinese have tightened border security on the Indian frontier in recent months, and little is known about what is going on in Tibet.

Congressmen's Wives Don't Talk of Money

The problem of maintaining two homes plagues most congressional families, along with constant travel to keep the constituency happy. Congressmen find that travel costs take a mighty hunk out of the family paycheck.

Mother Carey's chickens number 13, and range in age from 19 years to 3 months. "Oh yes," she adds, chuckling, "we'll find some use for the raise. You know, diapers, shoes, teeth straightened."

One congressman who voted against the raise was Garner E. Shriver, Republican from Wichita, Kan.

"We're from a district that might not understand," says his wife. "It's hard to explain the raise to people who don't make that much in a year."

But, adds Mrs. Shriver, mother of three, "anyone can use money."

The Kastenmeiers have three boys, ages 4½ to 4 months.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The top Republicans from Sen. Barry Goldwater's home state believe he will be nominated for president despite the Scranton-Rockefeller coalition.

But they're afraid the struggle for the nomination may split the party and weaken its position in the November challenge to the Democrats.

"I wouldn't care to predict what would happen after the (nominating) convention," said Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona. "But it's not encouraging at all. I think the people are beginning to resent this display of futility."

Keith Brown, Republican state chairman, said Goldwater supporters won't be shaken by the Rockefeller-Scranton combine.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who had been Goldwater's chief rival, announced Monday he was throwing his support to Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania for the nomination.

"Barry is not taking anything for granted," said Brown, "but I say this, the grass roots of the Goldwater support run very deep."

While the Arizonans are convinced Goldwater will win at the San Francisco convention, they aren't so certain about what's going to happen Sept. 8 in their own state.

That's the date of the Arizona primary, and Goldwater is entered in the Senate contest.

The question is whether he'll remain in the race if he gets the presidential nomination.

He must file for the Senate seat because the deadline is July 10, three days before the national convention opens. If he doesn't win in San Francisco, he would have the Senate race to fall back on.

The fates of Gov. Fannin, the attorney general, one of Goldwater's top campaign aides and a newspaper publisher hinge on whether Goldwater stays in the Senate race.

Fannin could seek a fourth term, go after Goldwater's Senate seat or quit public life. He has said he'll do whatever Goldwater wants.

Waiting on the sidelines is two-term Atty. Gen. Robert Pickrell, who says he wants a shot at the governor's chair if Fannin steps out.

Former State Chairman Richard Kleindienst, field director for Goldwater's national campaign has made no statements, but an anonymous group of 26, described by a Phoenix newspaper as prominent Republicans, has said it wants Kleindienst for governor if Fannin doesn't run.

Outside the regular party organization is Evan Mecham, publisher of a Phoenix afternoon daily. He surprised politicians two years ago by defeating Steve Shadegg, a Goldwater aide, in the Republican primary then making a strong showing against veteran Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz.

Mecham has said he'll be a friendly primary opponent in the Senate contest, pulling out if Goldwater loses the presidential nomination or decides to go for both.

'We Were Just Mob,' Rough Rider Declares

LAS VEGAS, N.M. (AP)—A survivor of Teddy Roosevelt's famed Rough Riders, told The Associated Press in a telephone interview that "we were just a mob that went up a hill."

This description of the charge up Kettle Hill at San Juan was offered by Jesse D. Langdon, 84, of East Rockaway, N.Y., chairman of the Association of Roosevelt Rough Riders.

Langdon was one of four survivors of the Rough Riders who met here Sunday for a reunion. The others were Frank C. Brito, 86, Las Cruces, N.M., Charles Hopping, 91, Long Beach, Calif., and Arthur L. Tuttle, 84, Salinas, Calif.

"If the Spaniards had been able to shoot," said Langdon, "we'd never have made it to the top." He recalled that Roosevelt's glasses were shot off and said that in the confusion of the attack many American casualties resulted from American bullets.

"In my belief, even Teddys glasses were shot off from behind, but Teddy was always too much of a politician to admit it," said Langdon.

He commented on present-day U.S. policy with Cuba.

"A bunch like us (the Rough Riders) could straighten it out in a hurry. I think we're (the United States) a bunch of easy marks and very soft. If we had made a state out of Cuba like Teddy Roosevelt wanted we wouldn't be having any trouble," he said.

Rejuvenated Rocket Plane Goes for Ride

The research craft never left its B52 mother ship in a test designed to check control systems which cannot be tested on the ground. The craft was modified after a crash landing in 1962 and is now designated as the X15A2.

Equipped with additional fuel tanks, the ship is designed to fly about 5,000 miles per hour —nearly 1,000 m.p.h. faster than the current X15 speed record.

Crowd Applauds Death Sentence Of Sex Offender

NEW YORK (AP) — A State Supreme Court jury decreed that a habitual sex offender and robber must go to the electric chair for the sex murder of a barmaid. Several women in the court room burst into applause and cheers.

A court attendant, a 25-year veteran on the job, said: "I've never seen anything like this—never, not at such a time."

There was no show of emotion Monday by the doomed man, Winston Moseley, 29, a Negro, confessed slayer of two women and a girl.

The jury ordered death for Moseley for the stabbing of Catherine Genovese, 28, near her home in Kew Gardens, Queens, early last March 13.

One of the group of women who applauded the verdict was recognized as one of 38 residents of the neighborhood who saw or heard Moseley attack the victim—yet did not call police or do anything else to help her.

SECRETARIES BREAK PRECEDENTS For the first time in more than two years of the group's existence, the ARADCOM Secretaries' Club entertains a guest speaker, Lt. Gen. Charles B. Duff (center), commanding general of the Army Air Defense Command. Hitherto the informal club took pride in the claim that it conducts no formal business, schedules no formal after-dinner talks, and has only one formal office, that of moderator held by Mrs. Edwina Moreton (right). Club members were pleased, however, to gain the recognition of the commanding general—and General Duff carried out the spirit of the club by making his remarks brief and informal. Nikita Arrives In Copenhagen For Big Tour

By RONALD THOMPSON

The Soviet liner Bashkiria with Khrushchev and his party aboard slid smoothly into its pier. Premier Jens Otto Krag, Foreign Minister Per Haekkerup and other high Danish officials welcomed the visitors.

All ship movements in the harbor—one of the world's busiest — were halted for Khrushchev's arrival. The tightest security precautions in Denmark since World War II went into effect for the Soviet leader's five-day visit.

Four thousand police, many of them imported from the provinces, were on the alert in the city of one million people.

The crowd watching the arrival, restricted to some 2,000, applauded mildly as Mrs. Khrushchev appeared on deck with her husband.

The Soviet premier was also accompanied by his three daughters, Julia, Rada and Elena, and a party of Soviet officials including Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

With the Danish government avowedly determined to avoid any discussion of its defense ties with the West, it appeared that trade would be the big item in talks during Khrushchev's visit.

Foreign Minister Haekkerup told a news conference his government would like to export ships and agricultural products and was interested in importing a variety of products, including oil.

Before pushing on for six-day visits to Sweden and Norway, Khrushchev was expected to tour Denmark's farm areas, including the grain and dairylands of Funen Island south of Jutland.

Haekkerup said his government would give its views on such questions as Cyprus, where Danish troops are serving on the United Nations peace force, and Germany.

"We agree with the general attitude of the western powers on the German problem," he said.

Haekkerup said his government had no intention of discussing with Khrushchev Denmark's membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There have been reports that Khrushchev was eager to discuss Finnish President Urho Kekkonen's proposal for a nuclear-free zone in northern Europe. But Haekkerup said his government is opposed to the plan and "we therefore hope it will not be raised here."

Demos in Texas Stage Critical State Convention

By GARTH JONES

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Texas Democrats meet today in a state convention where the only advance agreement has been on support of President Johnson.

The possibility of a rump convention remained. Efforts for a compromise between forces of Gov. John Connally and Sen. Ralph Yarborough continued into the early morning.

Convention officials indicated the effect of the compromise talks would be revealed when the State Democratic Executive Committee acts today on contested delegations from Harris, Bexar, Dallas, Randall, Hutchinson, Edwards and Sherman counties. The counties have a total of 819 delegate votes.

Yarborough announced Monday night he would be unable to attend because he is flying back to Washington for important votes on the civil rights bill.

President Johnson's close friend and business associate, A. W. Moursund, Johnson City attorney and rancher, was named temporary convention chairman with the job of ruling on any close decisions between Connally's conservative faction and Yarborough's liberals.

The convention program calls for action first on acceptance of 2,834 delegates named in the state's 254 county conventions. Any roll call must tally 1,417 votes to carry.

The 22 congressional districts will then caucus to set up the permanent convention organization. The next principal action will be selecting 120 delegates to the national convention, 25 presidential electors and a national committeeman and committeewoman.

Connally said Monday he expected to be named chairman of the national convention delegation and he expected Yarborough to be named a delegate. Yarborough repeated that he was not seeking the delegation chairmanship or any other party post.

"I would hope the convention would not only endorse President Johnson but recommend and support his program," Yarborough told a fund raising dinner. "We are working together as a united democracy in Texas to the dismay of the disordered and divided Republican party—I repeat together."

Yarborough earlier urged the state convention to pledge support of the national platform that will be written in August. Connally has insisted platform endorsement should wait until the September state convention.

WINNING SWITCH

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Milwaukee Braves manager Bobby Bragan plays a standard batting order these days with the pitcher batting ninth. But back on Aug. 18, 1956, Bragan, as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, startled everyone when his batting list against the Giants at the Polo Grounds had the pitcher hitting seventh. The Bucs won that day, 9-1.

The first circus in America was brought to this country in 1792 by John Bill Ricketts, famous English equestrian.

Red China Removes Commander in Tibet

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Communist China has removed its top military - political commander in Tibet, it was reported today.

A spokesman for Tibetan exiles in India said new refugees from Tibet reported that Gen. Chang Kuo Hwa dropped from sight about February.

There have been rumors for weeks that the general had been liquidated for pro - Soviet ideological leanings.

The Times of India reported Gen. Chang resisted the introduction of agricultural communes into Chinese - controlled Tibet and that he and a large number of Chinese-trained Tibetan officers were purged.

There was no way of confirming the reports. The Chinese have tightened border security on the Indian frontier in recent months, and little is known about what is going on in Tibet.

Trains Roll Again As Court Stops One-Day Strike

Texas, Louisiana and Colorado.

The railroads are the Missouri Pacific, Missouri-Kansas-Texas (Katy), Texas & Pacific, the Texas and Louisiana lines of the Southern Pacific, the Texas-Mexican Railway, and the Houston Port Terminal Association Railroad.

Louis E. Corsi of Cleveland, public relations director for the union, said the strike was called to "clear up a lot of local conditions that have existed for years—rules, pay, work conditions, everything."

Alarm arose quickly in the wheat belt because the harvest is in full swing. Grain men had visions of new wheat piling up at country elevators and being dumped on the ground, subject to spoilage from rain.

Maynard E. Parks of St. Louis, Missouri Pacific vice president for personnel, said the strike violated a restraining order issued in Washington Sunday by U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff, who set a hearing for June 22.

R. D. Jones, vice president of the brotherhood, who was directing the strike from Houston, said Judge Holtzoff's order applied only to the national matter of reducing the size of train crews.

Jones said the strike involved only local grievances that have been through the Railway Labor Board and many courts.

"We write management to settle our grievances, and management will not answer our correspondence," Jones said.

Restraining orders were issued late Monday in U.S. District Courts by Judge James Meredith in St. Louis, Judge Marion S. Boyd in Memphis, Tenn., Judge Leo Brewster and Judge Joe Ingraham in Houston.

Judge Brewster set a hearing for June 19, Judge Ingraham for June 22, Judges Meredith and Boyd for June 24.

AP Will Open Defense Against Walker Charges

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Associated Press is scheduled to open its courtroom defense today in a $2-million libel suit brought against it by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The AP is pleading truth and the absence of malice to Walker's charge that he was libeled in stories out of Oxford, Miss., that he led a riot charge of University of Mississippi students against U.S. marshal.

Two men were killed during a night of mob disorders Sept. 30, 1962. The riot was occasioned by the admission to Ole Miss of Negro James H. Meredith.

Attorneys for the 54-year-old Walker rested his case late Monday, in the sixth day of the trial. A jury of four women and eight men heard a dozen witnesses for the plaintiff, plus depositions from a number of others.

AP attorneys offered the usual midtrial motions to have the suit dismissed, claiming the plaintiff had failed to sufficiently sustain the complaint. However, after 30 minutes of arguments in chambers, Dist. Judge Charles Murray overruled the motions and ordered the trial continued.

Final testimony for Walker came from Al Kuettner, a United Press International newsman who was not in the courtroom. Instead, excerpts were read from his deposition under oath in advance of the trial. He covered the Oxford riots for the UPI.

Lodge Swims; Says He Is Not Sick at All

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge swam 10 lengths at a club pool today and laughed at a report that he was resigning because of ill health.

"I'm supposed to be sick, am I?" he said smilingly to a newsman who photographed him after the swim.

Lodge denied Monday as "totally untrue" the report in the New York Times that he was resigning within 30 days because of poor health.

Three Persons Injured in Two Car Accident

Three persons were injured Monday night in a two-car accident at Old Highway 85-87 and Bradley Road, the State Patrol reported.

Anthony Fostier, 34, of Ft. Carson, suffered cuts and bruises as did a passenger, Nathella Myers, 38, of 1219 Richard Ave. who was taken to Penrose Hospital by E and E Ambulance. Fostier, the driver of the car, was taken to the Ft. Carson Hospital for treatment.

The driver of the other car, Donald Osborne, 33, of Ft. Carson, suffered scratches.

State Patrolman A. G. Murin said both cars were going north when the Osborn car hit the Fostier vehicle on the rear, forcing it off the right side of the road. The Fostier car rolled on it stop, Murin said. Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the 1964 model Fostier car. The other car was not damaged.

BUILDING THE TRAP—State Highway Department crews began setting the posts this morning which, when the wire is strung and the job completed, will seal off all access to the property of Daryl Welch, 2723 W. Vermijo St. Access to the property is blocked on two sides by a creek, and on the fourth side by a neighbor's fence in the background. Welch, who is unemployed, said recently that his only chance for access to and from his property is over the creek and through a city park. In order to use the creek route he would have to build a bridge, which he can't afford.

States Face Legislative Upheaval After Ruling

those extremists who want to impeach Warren."

Many governors and legislative leaders took the view that the court's decisions were final and definite and the sooner they were complied with the better.

"I regard this decision as the law of the land and it is up to us to carry out reapportionment in accordance with the guidelines set down by the Supreme Court," said Delaware's Gov. Elbert N. Carvel.

Several other governors, including Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, said legal conferences would be held to decide what their states had to do and when.

In several states, court cases are pending whose outcome will determine what action must be taken and when. The lower court findings are bound to be influenced by the Supreme Court's opinions.

Although many states have undertaken reapportionment since the Supreme Court first entered "the political thicket" of apportionment with its milestone decision in 1962 opening federal courts to reapportionment arguments, few have gone so far as Monday's decrees require.

The court brushed aside every argument for state legislatures that are not totally based on population.

The Republican national chairman, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, said the Republicans would be helped because of the party's strength in the mushrooming and under-represented suburbs.

Not so, said Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee. He figures the prospective increase in urban voting power "certainly will benefit the Democrats in the long run."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here in brief are the facts on Monday's historic decision by the Supreme Court on representation in state legislatures:

The decision: Membership in both houses of a state lawmaking body must be based on population. The high court ruled in cases involving New York, Virginia, Delaware, Alabama, Colorado and Maryland.

Eventual result: City voters in most areas will get a more equal voice in state legislatures. Rural voters have had disproportionate voting power in most states.

States affected: Perhaps as many as 46.

Timetable: No deadline set, but the court said action need not be taken before the Nov. 3 general elections.

Political impact: Both Republicans and Democrats claimed the decree would benefit their parties.

Reaction: Ranged from "right and just" to "revolutionary and dictatorial."

Action ahead: Most governors indicated a readiness to call special sessions of state legislatures, if necessary, to comply with the ruling.

New Summit House on Peak Dedicated in Rites

The structure contains 11,000 square feet of floor space and replaces structures which date back to 1873 when the Army Signal Corps built a meteorological station on top of the 14-110-foot mountain.

The summit of the peak may be reached either by the Manitou and Pikes Peak Cog Railway or by the toll road.

The railway was inaugurated in 1890 and is the longest cog railroad in the world. Since 1939 the railroad has been switching from steam engines to diesels, with the two Swiss trains being the latest additions.

The late Spencer Penrose built the present highway in 1915 at a cost of about $500,000. Maintanance was so costly that the highway was turned over to the U.S. Forest Service in 1936, and since 1948 it has been operated and maintained by the City of Colorado Springs.

Special tribute was paid Monday to former councilman Harold Heyse who proposed an increase in highway toll charges from 50 cents to $1 for adults to help provide funds for the summit house. Money was borrowed from the local banks to finance the project.

The summit house contains two large public rest rooms, a curio room, lobby and information desk, concession stand for light lunches, a dispatching room for the cog railway, highway patrol office, photography equipment, telegraph facilities, kitchen, walk-in refrigerators, dormitories for 10 women employes and another for 12 male employes, communications rooms for U.S. Forest Service radio equipment, and several other small rooms.

Jury Selection Starts in Suit

Jury selection for a $25,000 personal injury suit brought by Darwin N. Jackson, Denver, against the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo got under way in District Court this morning.

According to the complaint, on Aug. 24, 1963 the plaintiff was attacked by a bear at the zoo and received serious permanent injuries, including the loss of one finger.

It is alleged that the zoo officials posted no signs warning that the bear was vicious and that keeping a bear constituted a public nuisance.

Two Hubcaps Missing From Resident's Car

Two hubcaps worth approximately $30 were stolen from a 1962 Cadillac belonging to Don Brewer, 1223 N. Hancock Ave., the sheriff's office said Monday.

Brewer told Deputy Sheriff Eldon McCune that the theft could have happened outside his home or on the Broadmoor parking lot.

Civil Defense Director to Be Speaker Here

William P. Durkee, director of civil defense in the Office of the Secretary of the Army, will be the speaker Wednesday at the opening day luncheon of the 42 annual conference of the Colorado Municipal League.

Durkee will address some 213 representatives of cities and towns in the state and their guests on "Meeting Emergencies — A Challenge of the Atomic Age."

The three-day conference will begin in the General Palmer Room of the Antlers Hotel.

Other main speakers who are scheduled to address the general conference of municipal government delegates are: Gov.

John A. Love, who will talk Friday on his local affairs Study Commission; and Hudson Moore Jr., Denver Civic and business leader who will talk to a Thursday luncheon meeting about attracting technological industry to Colorado.

During the three-day meet delegates will discuss the proposed state-wide sales tax for local governments, the highway users tax study and the responsibility of officials for informing the public about local government, and other related topics.

The conference will open Wednesday with an atomic energy seminar for local officials.

Jimmy's Camp Holds Cleanup At Tarryall

Members of Jimmy's Camp Sportsmen's Club had a cleaning up of Tarryall Reservoir Sunday. One group worked on the west side, and the other group took the East side.

A large truckload of trash was gathered up, plenty of beer bottles and cans, paper cups, papers and other kinds of trash. The club also took up three trash barrels to the reservoir. There is room for some more trash barrels up there.

Taking part in the clean-up from the Jimmy Camp Club were Les Conforth, Leo Atkinson, Art Henderson, Lynn Hart, Bill Ellis, Lucille Ellis and Ed Pfersdorff.

Mr. E. W. Forgett was the Wildlife Conservation Officer who has charge of the reservoir up there. He told where most of the trash would be.

only had one deputy sheriff guarding him.

According to a sheriff's report, Gooch, 705 Main St., Security, telephoned the sheriff's office Saturday, saying his wife, Gloria Dean Gooch, 32, had committed suicide with a .38 caliber revolver.

Deputy Sheriff Woodrow Littrell went to the scene and found Mrs. Gooch lying dead on her bed. There were two bullet wounds in her chest. Dr. R. Urich, County Coroner, examined the body and said it was impossible that the wounds had been self inflicted. On Saturday evening Gooch was arrested for investigation of first degree murder and was formally charged Monday by District Attorney Pat Hinton.

Hinton said this morning that Gooch voluntarily submitted to a lie detector test Monday at Police Headquarters. The defendant is being held at County Jail without bond.

Two Men Found Not Guilty by City Judge

Two men who stood trial Monday in Municipal Court on drunk charges were found not guilty by Judge Allan Asher.

They were Archie Cherry, 41, of Ent Air Force Base, and Robert Whittlsey, 44, Holly Hall, Broadmoor. The latter was defended by attorney George Silvola.

Alex Young, 48, 512 S. Weber St., changed his plea to guilty to a drunk charge and was fined $25.

Duane Pumpkinseed, 22, Carson, failed to appear in court for his trial on charges of riotous conduct and drunkenness, and his $50 bond was ordered forfeited. A $25 bond was ordered forfeited by Billy Douglas, 23, 17½ W. Costilla St., when he failed to appear for his trial on charges of riotous conduct and breach of peace.

On the failure of the complaining witness to appear, charges of riotous conduct and breach of peace were dismissed against Lawrence Doolen, 25, of Manitou Springs. Doolen's attorney was Jerry Smith. At the request of the complaining witness, Judge Asher dismissed charges of riotous conduct and breach of peace against Juanita Schlenz, 43, 2020 N. Cooper Ave. She was represented by Ben Fann.

Fann also represented Kenneth Kirkwood, 37, 2531 Waldean Ave., ho was charged with riotous conduct. This charge was dismissed by the judge when the complaining witness failed to appear in court.

Judge Asher also dismissed charges against the following: Thomas Penatzer, 23, Carson, riotous conduct and breach of peace, and Paul Moore, 25, Carson and his wife Carol Moore, 20, 425 E. St. Vrain St. The Moores were charged with disorderly conduct, riotous conduct, and breach of peace.

A suspended $15 fine was imposed on Maurice Gibbons, 42, 1223 N. Weber St., who pleaded guilty to breach of peace. Judge Asher levied a $25 fine against Cerena Richardson, 21, 717 E. Moreno St., whom he found guilty of breach of peace, and levied a $50 fine against Waldo Haywood, 54, 1811 W. Colorado Ave., whom he also found guilto of breach of peace. Haywood was granted a 10-day stay of execution.

Arthur Koop, 37, 2227 Saranac Dr., was found not guilty on a charge of riotous conduct. Madeline Reaves, 27, 415 E. St. Vrain St., was also found not guilty on a charge of riotous conduct and breach of peace.

Jail sentences of 15 days, to be served consecutively, were imposed on Joe Mascarenas, 23, 622 N. Corona St., who was found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon and resisting police. Mascarenas was also fined $25 on a drunk charge to which he entered a guilty plea. Charges of riotous conduct and breach of peace were dismissed.

Tools Worth $176 Stolen From Locker

A box of tools worth $176 was stolen from School District No. 11, 1115 N. El Paso St., the sheriff's office said Monday.

According to Deputy Sheriff Eldon McCune, the tools were removed from the top of a locker in the rear of the building sometime early Monday morning.

ITU Election Challenged By Minority Report

tary-treasurer of the ITU by incumbent William R. Cloud.

Another unsuccessful office seeker, Jesse R. Manbeck, said this morning in Washington, D. C. that the minority report was "very voluminous."

He said that Baker and Conley did not certify the election returns because of irregularities involving about 7,000 votes and 62 locals. More than 7,000 locals went to the polls.

Manbeck earlier charged that 35 locals submitted their returns after the deadline for reporting, four locals submitted revised returns, seven local ballot boxes did not have the official seal of the union, and there were other discrepancies.

The June 6 story in the morning paper denied a statement by Manbeck that ITU headquarters had issued "misleading statements" to the press before final returns were in from the election.

The morning paper did give a running account of the vote tabulation and printed several stories that said the incumbents would win the election by large margins

When 80 per cent of the "expected vote" was in, the morning newspaper declared that "members of the International Union have voted to retain President Elmer Brown, Secretary-treasurer William R. Cloud and other members of the five-state legislative council."

According to figures published in the Typographical Journal and elsewhere, the paper has lost $3,034,629.72 since 1947.

This figure includes the $52,000 published cost of purchasing and remodeling the original Free Press building by Unitypo Corp., a subsidiary of the ITU. It also includes an estimated $600,000 in concealed subsidies from Aug. 1951 through Sept. 1955 which were vertified in a Free Press editorial of May 3, 1957.

Quake Wreaks Havoc In Northern Japan

of nature, were virtually unscathed. The only damage reported by police was a few tiles shaken from buildings.

The Meteorological Agency said weak tremors shook northeastern Honshu about three hours after the major quake.

National police headquarters in Tokyo reported only one death in Niigata, five in Tsuruoka, 120 miles north of Niigata, and three in Akita City.

The dead in Tsuruoka included three kindergarten children whose school collapsed. Thirteen other pupils were injured. Three persons were injured in Akita.

Autonomy Minister Masamuchi Akazawa was ordered to Niigata for an inspection. The army, navy and national police were mobilized and ordered into the disaster area.

Kenichi Yamashita, pilot of an All-Japan Airways jet which flew over Niigata at about 10,000 feet, said he saw smoke rising from the city.

"I saw one large bridge completely collapsed," he reported. "One of the two runways at the airport was covered with water. I tried to raise the Niigata control tower but there was no answer."

First news photos from Niigata showed the Showa-Ohashi bridge destroyed with two of its spans collapsed into the Shinano River. Another bridge was intact.

In the background clouds of black and gray smoke billowed thousands of feet into the sky.

The national police reported more than 50 houses had crumpled in Niigata and one major gasoline company's installation had been destroyed.

Some areas along the east bank of the Shinano River were under two feet of water.

The U.S. Embassy called the Foreign Ministry to offer assistance. Planes of the U.S. 5th Air Force were standing by to move into the disaster area as soon as airport facilities were useable.

The greatest damage appeared to be in the industrial area of Niigata, where petroleum plants of the Showa Oil Co. and the Japan Petroleum Co. and the Niigata Iron Works were ablaze.

Muddy water coursed through the streets and automobiles inched their way.

Two Fraternities At Mines Face Property Taxes

DENVER (UPI)—Two Colorado School of Mines social fraternities today were faced with the unpleasant prospect of paying $6,170 in property taxes on their fraternity houses.

It was revealed Monday that Atty. Gen. Duke Dunbar had ruled for Jefferson County Assessor David Braden by saying the college had no right to lease property to private organizations.

The fraternities, Beta Theta Pi and Kappa Kappa Sigma, contended they were tax-exempt because of their relationship with the college. Their houses were finished on Mines' fraternity row in the spring of 1962 and the tax question had been in contention since.

Dunbar said the Legislature made provision for leasing by Adams State College in 1959 and for Western State in 1961, but had not approved similar legislation for Mines.

Items Reported Taken From Apartment

Morgan Faust, 414 Arrawanna St. reported to the sheriff's office Monday that someone had broken into his apartment and taken a $85 watch, a cigaret lighter and clothing worth a total of $78.

According to Deputy Sheriff Vincent Denbeske, the apartment was locked and there was no indication of forced entry.

clare at a news conference in Washington Wednesday or Thursday that a ticket topped by the Arizona conservative can best help them win re-election this year.

Goldwater is virtually assured of support from the 56-vote Texas delegation to the national convention. That would push his delegate count to 674, —well above the 655 votes he needs to capture the nomination.

Goldwater, in Dallas for a pair of speeches, had little to say about Scranton.

He told a reporter Monday he was not surprised that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—his foe in three presidential primaries—had thrown his support to the Pennsylvania governor. "We'll just have to wait and see" what the result will be, he said.

The Arizona senator assailed President Johnson's fiscal and foreign policies Monday night before some 1,500 cheering Republicans at a $100 a plate dinner.

"I want to enlist your help in getting him out of Washington, and back into the television business," the senator said.

He said the economic policies Johnson espouses show "that this administration's notion of fiscal responsibility went no deeper than the wheeler-dealer mentality of a card shark."

Unless they are reversed, he said, "the trend of government financing clearly indicates that the change from free enterprise to a form of socialism will have been made by the mid-1970s."

Goldwater said Johnson's foreign policy is uncertain and "weak-kneed."

He charged this policy is "leading us into World War III as surely as we were led into World War II by the same kind of stupid ineptitude."

AF to Cease Operation of Texas Station

The Air Force will cease operation of the spacetracking radar at Laredo Air Force Station, Texas, on July 15. A total of 30 civilian contract personnel and four military personnel will be affected by the action.

No decision has been reached on the disposition of the radar equipment which has been operating in Laredo since 1960.

The discontinuance resulted from improvements in other space sensor systems. The improved ranges and operating capabilities of newer space sensors provide adequate surveillance coverage for the tracking requirements of the USAF SPACETRACK System.

The AN - FPS - 78 tracking radar at Laredo was one of the first long distance radars developed to track objects in space. It is a highly modified television transmitter and receiver which was built with available electronic equipment before extensive research had been accomplished in the development of long - range tracking radars.

Trains Roll Again As Court Stops One-Day Strike

Texas, Louisiana and Colorado.

The railroads are the Missouri Pacific, Missouri-Kansas-Texas (Katy), Texas & Pacific, the Texas and Louisiana lines of the Southern Pacific, the Texas-Mexican Railway, and the Houston Port Terminal Association Railroad.

Louis E. Corsi of Cleveland, public relations director for the union, said the strike was called to "clear up a lot of local conditions that have existed for years—rules, pay, work conditions, everyhing."

Alarm arose quickly in the wheat belt because the harvest is in full swing. Grain men had visions of new wheat piling up at country elevators and being dumped on the ground, subject to spoilage from rain.

Maynard E. Parks of St. Louis, Missouri Pacific vice president for personnel, said the strike violated a restraining order issued in Washington Sunday by U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff, who set a hearing for June 22.

R. D. Jones, vice president of the brotherhood, who was directing the strike from Houston, said Judge Holtzoff's order applied only to the national matter of reducing the size of train crews.

Jones said the strike involved only local grievances that have been through the Railway Labor Board and many courts.

"We write management to settle our grievances, and management will not answer our correspondence," Jones said.

Restraining orders were issued late Monday in U.S. District Courts by Judge James Meredith in St. Louis, Judge Marion S. Boyd in Memphis, Tenn., Judge Leo Brewster and Judge Joe Ingraham in Houston.

Judge Brewster set a hearing for June 19, Judge Ingraham for June 22, Judges Meredith and Boyd for June 24.

AP Will Open Defense Against Walker Charges

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Associated Press is scheduled to open its courtroom defense today in a $2-million libel suit brought against it by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The AP is pleading truth and the absence of malice to Walker's charge that he was libeled in stories out of Oxford, Miss., that he led a riot charge of University of Mississippi students against U.S. marshal.

Two men were killed during a night of mob disorders Sept. 30, 1962. The riot was occasioned by the admission to Ole Miss of Negro James H. Meredith.

Attorneys for the 54-year-old Walker rested his case late Monday, in the sixth day of the trial. A jury of four women and eight men heard a dozen witnesses for the plaintiff, plus depositions from a number of others.

AP attorneys offered the usual midtrial motions to have the suit dismissed, claiming the plaintiff had failed to sufficiently sustain the complaint. However, after 30 minutes of arguments in chambers, Dist. Judge Charles Murray overruled the motions and ordered the trial continued.

Final testimony for Walker came from Al Kuettner, a United Press International newsman who was not in the courtroom. Instead, excerpts were read from his deposition under oath in advance of the trial. He covered the Oxford riots for the UPI.

Lodge Swims; Says He Is Not Sick at All

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge swam 10 lengths at a club pool today and laughed at a report that he was resigning because of ill health.

"I'm supposed to be sick, am I?" he said smilingly to a newsman who photographed him after the swim.

Lodge denied Monday as "totally untrue" the report in the New York Times that he was resigning within 30 days because of poor health.

those extremists who want to impeach Warren."

Many governors and legislative leaders took the view that the court's decisions were final and definite and the sooner they were complied with the better.

"I regard this decision as the law of the land and it is up to us to carry out reapportionment in accordance with the guidelines set down by the Supreme Court," said Delaware's Gov. Elbert N. Carvel.

Several other governors, including Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, said legal conferences would be held to decide what their states had to do and when.

In several states, court cases are pending whose outcome will determine what action must be taken and when. The lower court findings are bound to be influenced by the Supreme Court's opinions.

Although many states have undertaken reapportionment since the Supreme Court first entered "the political thicket" of apportionment with its milestone decision in 1962 opening federal courts to reapportionment arguments, few have gone so far as Monday's decrees require.

The court brushed aside every argument for state legislatures that are not totally based on population.

The Republican national chairman, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, said the Republicans would be helped because of the party's strength in the mushrooming and under-represented suburbs.

Not so, said Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee. He figures the prospective increase in urban voting power "certainly will benefit the Democrats in the long run."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here in brief are the facts on Monday's historic decision by the Supreme Court on representation in state legislatures:

The decision: Membership in both houses of a state lawmaking body must be based on population. The high court ruled in cases involving New York, Virginia, Delaware, Alabama, Colorado and Maryland.

Eventual result: City voters in most areas will get a more equal voice in state legislatures. Rural voters have had disproportionate voting power in most states.

States affected: Perhaps as many as 46.

Timetable: No deadline set, but the court said action need not be taken before the Nov. 3 general elections.

Political impact: Both Republicans and Democrats claimed the decree would benefit their parties.

Reaction: Ranged from "right and just" to "revolutionary and dictatorial."

Action ahead: Most governors indicated a readiness to call special sessions of state legislatures, if necessary, to comply with the ruling.

New Summit House on Peak Dedicated in Rites

The structure contains 11,000 square feet of floor space and replaces structures which date back to 1873 when the Army Signal Corps built a meteorological station on top of the 14-110-foot mountain.

The summit of the peak may be reached either by the Manitou and Pikes Peak Cog Railway or by the toll road.

The railway was inaugurated in 1890 and is the longest cog railroad in the world. Since 1939 the railroad has been switching from steam engines to diesels, with the two Swiss trains being the latest additions.

The late Spencer Penrose built the present highway in 1915 at a cost of about $500,000. Maintanance was so costly that the highway was turned over to the U.S. Forest Service in 1936, and since 1948 it has been operated and maintained by the City of Colorado Springs.

Special tribute was paid Monday to former councilman Harold Heyse who proposed an increase in highway toll charges from 50 cents to $1 for adults to help provide funds for the summit house. Money was borrowed from the local banks to finance the project.

The summit house contains two large public rest rooms, a curio room, lobby and information desk, concession stand for light lunches, a dispatching room for the cog railway, highway patrol office, photography equipment, telegraph facilities, kitchen, walk-in refrigerators, dormitories for 10 women employes and another for 12 male employes, communications rooms for U.S. Forest Service radio equipment, and several other small rooms.

Civil Defense Director to Be Speaker Here

William P. Durkee, director of civil defense in the Office of the Secretary of the Army, will be the speaker Wednesday at the opening day luncheon of the 42 annual conference of the Colorado Municipal League.

Durkee will address some 213 representatives of cities and towns in the state and their guests on "Meeting Emergencies — A Challenge of the Atomic Age."

The three-day conference will begin in the General Palmer Room of the Antlers Hotel.

Other main speakers who are scheduled to address the general conference of municipal government delegates are: Gov. John A. Love, who will talk Friday on his local affairs Study Commission; and Hudson Moore Jr., Denver Civic and business leader who will talk to a Thursday luncheon meeting about attracting technological industry to Colorado.

During the three-day meet delegates will discuss the proposed state-wide sales tax for local governments, the highway users tax study and the responsibility of officials for informing the public about local government, and other related topics.

The conference will open Wednesday with an atomic energy seminar for local officials.

Jury Selection Starts in Suit

Jury selection for a $25,000 personal injury suit brought by Darwin N. Jackson, Denver, against the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo got under way in District Court this morning.

According to the complaint, on Aug. 24, 1963 the plaintiff was attacked by a bear at the zoo and received serious permanent injuries, including the loss of one finger.

It is alleged that the zoo officials posted no signs warning that the bear was vicious and that keeping a bear constituted a public nuisance.

Two Hubcaps Missing From Resident's Car

Two hubcaps worth approximately $30 were stolen from a 1962 Cadillac belonging to Don Brewer, 1223 N. Hancock Ave., the sheriff's office said Monday.

Brewer told Deputy Sheriff Eldon McCune that the theft could have happened outside his home or on the Broadmoor parking lot.

Three Persons Injured in Two Car Accident

Three persons were injured Monday night in a two-car accident at Old Highway 85-87 and Bradley Road, the State Patrol reported.

Anthony Fostier, 34, of Ft. Carson, suffered cuts and bruises as did a passenger, Nathella Myers, 38, of 1219 Richard Ave. who was taken to Penrose Hospital by E and E Ambulance. Fostier, the driver of the car, was taken to the Ft. Carson Hospital for treatment.

The driver of the other car, Donald Osborne, 33, of Ft. Carson, suffered scratches.

State Patrolman A. G. Murin said both cars were going north when the Osborn car hit the Fostier vehicle on the rear, forcing it off the right side of the road. The Fostier car rolled on it stop, Murin said. Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the 1964 model Fostier car. The other car was not damaged.

Jimmy's Camp Holds Cleanup At Tarryall

Members of Jimmy's Camp Sportsmen's Club had a cleaning up of Tarryall Reservoir Sunday. One group worked on the west side, and the other group took the East side.

A large truckload of trash was gathered up, plenty of beer bottles and cans, paper cups, papers and other kinds of trash. The club also took up three trash barrels to the reservoir. There is room for some more trash barrels up there.

Taking part in the clean-up from the Jimmy Camp Club were Les Conforth, Leo Atkinson, Art Henderson, Lynn Hart, Bill Ellis, Lucille Ellis and Ed Pfersdorff.

Mr. E. W. Forgett was the Wildlife Conservation Officer who has charge of the reservoir up there. He told where most of the trash would be.

only had one deputy sheriff guarding him.

According to a sheriff's report, Gooch, 705 Main St., Security, telephoned the sheriff's office Saturday, saying his wife, Gloria Dean Gooch, 32, had committed suicide with a .38 caliber revolver.

Deputy Sheriff Woodrow Littrell went to the scene and found Mrs. Gooch lying dead on her bed. There were two bullet wounds in her chest. Dr. R. Urich, County Coroner, examined the body and said it was impossible that the wounds had been self inflicted. On Saturday evening Gooch was arrested for investigation of first degree murder and was formally charged Monday by District Attorney Pat Hinton.

Hinton said this morning that Gooch voluntarily submitted to a lie detector test Monday at Police Headquarters. The defendant is being held at County Jail without bond.

BUILDING THE TRAP—State Highway Department crews began setting the posts this morning which, when the wire is strung and the job completed, will seal off all access to the property of Daryl Welch, 2723 W. Vermijo St. Access to the property is blocked on two sides by a creek, and on the fourth side by a neighbor's fence in the background. Welch, who is unemployed, said recently that his only chance for access to and from his property is over the creek and through a city park. In order to use the creek route he would have to build a bridge, which he can't afford.

Two Men Found Not Guilty by City Judge

Two men who stood trial Monday in Municipal Court on drunk charges were found not guilty by Judge Allan Asher.

They were Archie Cherry, 41, of Ent Air Force Base, and Robert Whittlsey, 44, Holly Hall, Broadmoor. The latter was defended by attorney George Silvola.

Alex Young, 48, 512 S. Weber St., changed his plea to guilty to a drunk charge and was fined $25.

Duane Pumpkinseed, 22, Carson, failed to appear in court for his trial on charges of riotous conduct and drunkenness, and his $50 bond was ordered forfeited. A $25 bond was ordered forfeited by Billy Douglas, 23, 17½ W. Costilla St., when he failed to appear for his trial on charges of riotous conduct and breach of peace.

On the failure of the complaining witness to appear, charges of riotous conduct and breach of peace were dismissed against Lawrence Doolen, 25, of Manitou Springs. Doolen's attorney was Jerry Smith. At the request of the complaining witness, Judge Asher dismissed charges of riotous conduct and breach of peace against Juanita Schlenz, 43, 2020 N. Cooper Ave. She was represented by Ben Fann.

Fann also represented Kenneth Kirkwood, 37, 2531 Waldean Ave., ho was charged with riotous conduct. This charge was dismissed by the judge when the complaining witness failed to appear in court.

Judge Asher also dismissed charges against the following: Thomas Penatzer, 23, Carson, riotous conduct and breach of peace, and Paul Moore, 25, Carson and his wife Carol Moore, 20, 425 E. St. Vrain St. The Moores were charged with disorderly conduct, riotous conduct, and breach of peace.

A suspended $15 fine was imposed on Maurice Gibbons, 42, 1223 N. Weber St., who pleaded guilty to breach of peace. Judge Asher levied a $25 fine against Cerena Richardson, 21, 717 E. Moreno St., whom he found guilty of breach of peace, and levied a $50 fine against Waldo Haywood, 54, 1811 W. Colorado Ave., whom he also found guilto of breach of peace. Haywood was granted a 10-day stay of execution.

Arthur Koop, 37, 2227 Saranac Dr., was found not guilty on a charge of riotous conduct. Madeline Reaves, 27, 415 E. St. Vrain St., was also found not guilty on a charge of riotous conduct and breach of peace.

Jail sentences of 15 days, to be served consecutively, were imposed on Joe Mascarenas, 23, 622 N. Corona St., who was found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon and resisting police. Mascarenas was also fined $25 on a drunk charge to which he entered a guilty plea. Charges of riotous conduct and breach of peace were dismissed.

Tools Worth $176 Stolen From Locker

A box of tools worth $176 was stolen from School District No. 11, 1115 N. El Paso St., the sheriff's office said Monday.

According to Deputy Sheriff Eldon McCune, the tools were removed from the top of a locker in the rear of the building sometime early Monday morning.

ITU Election Challenged By Minority Report

tary-treasurer of the ITU by incumbent William R. Cloud.

Another unsuccessful office seeker, Jesse R. Manbeck, said this morning in Washington, D. C. that the minority report was "very voluminous."

He said that Baker and Conley did not certify the election returns because of irregularities involving about 7,000 votes and 62 locals. More than 7,000 locals went to the polls.

Manbeck earlier charged that 35 locals submitted their returns after the deadline for reporting, four locals submitted revised returns, seven local ballot boxes did not have the official seal of the union, and there were other discrepancies.

The June 6 story in the morning paper denied a statement by Manbeck that ITU headquarters had issued "misleading statements" to the press before final returns were in from the election.

The morning paper did give a running account of the vote tabulation and printed several stories that said the incumbents would win the election by large margins

When 80 per cent of the "expected vote" was in, the morning newspaper declared that "members of the International Union have voted to retain President Elmer Brown, Secretary-treasurer William R. Cloud and other members of the five-state legislative council."

According to figures published in the Typographical Journal and elsewhere, the paper has lost $3,034,629.72 since 1947.

This figure includes the $52,000 published cost of purchasing and remodeling the original Free Press building by Unitypo Corp., a subsidiary of the ITU. It also includes an estimated $600,000 in concealed subsidies from Aug. 1951 through Sept. 1955 which were vertified in a Free Press editorial of May 3, 1957.

These figures do not include the cost of publishing the weekly tabloid of the morning newsper, "On Parade," at the ITU training center.

The Meteorological Agency said weak tremors shook northeastern Honshu about three hours after the major quake.

National police headquarters in Tokyo reported only one death in Niigata, five in Tsuruoka, 120 miles north of Niigata, and three in Akita City.

The dead in Tsuruoka included three kindergarten children whose school collapsed. Thirteen other pupils were injured. Three persons were injured in Akita.

Autonomy Minister Masamuchi Akazawa was ordered to Niigata for an inspection. The army, navy and national police were mobilized and ordered into the disaster area.

Kenichi Yamashita, pilot of an All-Japan Airways jet which flew over Niigata at about 10,000 feet, said he saw smoke rising from the city.

"I saw one large bridge completely collapsed," he reported. "One of the two runways at the airport was covered with water. I tried to raise the Niigata control tower but there was no answer."

First news photos from Niigata showed the Showa-Ohashi bridge destroyed with two of its spans collapsed into the Shinano River. Another bridge was intact.

In the background clouds of black and gray smoke billowed thousands of feet into the sky.

The national police reported more than 50 houses had crumpled in Niigata and one major gasoline company's installation had been destroyed.

Some areas along the east bank of the Shinano River were under two feet of water.

CAN WE LEARN TO RELAX?

A Detroit woman writes: "My husband will retire in 3 months and already is getting jittery about it. He always has acted like a caged lion on weekends and cannot wait to get back to work on Monday. He loves his job and respects his boss, even though he has received only two promotions in 30 years. All my husband knows is work. If he can't relax on Saturdays and Sundays, what will he do when he retires?"

Many people have the capacity for work but not for leisure. Their patterns of everyday living make it difficult to adapt to free time. They are psychologically and emotionally unprepared for leisure. This is true particularly of the conscientious man who has over-evaluated the world of work and has forgotten how to play or enjoy the finer things in life.

We are not trying to underestimate the need for doing a job well and working hard. It is a wonderful trait but the individual misses an important phase of life unless he can complement his work with leisure.

Having a hobby is not necessarily the answer, because in many instances the do-it-yourself projects are more related to work than to leisure. These individuals remain active over the week-end because they think they must work in the garden or in the basement. This is in contrast to wanting to do something. There is a difference between the two attitudes and herein lies one of the secrets of enoyable and productive leisure.

The compulsion to work is more complex than meets the eye. Compulsions are reactions that have a must or imperative quality. They are associated with obligations, expectations, and demands. It involves what you should or ought to do rather than what you want to do.

Many workers cannot enjoy their free time because they feel incapable of being their own boss. Their weak ego needs an authority; without one, leisure becomes uncomfortable. In time these individuals subordinate their own capabilities and concentrate on building their life around the family, business organization, or society. Their time is not their own—it belongs to others.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

More Brazilians Lose Their Political Rights

President Humberto Castello Branco issued the list Sunday a few hours before the purge deadline set last April after the military-civilian - group overthrew Goulart.

Churches Face Problems With Housing Projects

By JOHN PIERSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Council of the Episcopal Church is trying to decide whether to go deeper into the business of advising its local parishes about retirement housing.

Under consideration is a plan for offering not only advice but also seed money to help churches get started.

The National Council already has a Ministry to the Aging Department, but some church leaders are wondering if this office shouldn't do a lot more in the field of housing for the elderly than it's done to date. Recently two parishes were taken by the hand by their builders and got themselves obligated well beyond their resources.

Some members of the Council think this could have been avoided if the two local churches had called on the national office for expert help before they began.

This concern is coming to be shared more and more by other national church groups. At an Interfaith Conference on Housing for Senior Citizens here in April, many clerical and lay leaders indicated they're going to pay much closer attention to what their local churches are up to.

They made plans to exchange information among the national offices of the different faiths, and they asked federal housing officials to let them know whenever a local church applies for help in building retirement housing.

The federal government has two programs of particular interest to churches—direct loans and mortgage insurance.

Under the direct - loan program, the government makes low-interest, long-term loans to groups that want to build rental housing for the elderly. This housing is for people in the "income squeeze" bracket, that is, those who are making too much to qualify for public housing but too little to get into the regular market.

At the start of this year, funds had been reserved for more than 14,000 units in 129 different projects costing almost $160 million. About half these projects were being sponsored by churches.

Under the second federal program — mortgage insurance for rental housing — the government guarantee permits groups to borrow money at 5¾ per cent, which is usually less than they'd have to pay without this backing. The mortgages run for as long as 40 years.

At the beginning of 1964, the government was committed to insure mortgages on 242 housing projects for the elderly containing over 35,000 units at a cost of $410 million. A little more than half of these were church-sponsored.

Officials say these impressive figures should not obscure the fact that a lot of churches are building retirement housing without any financial help from the government.

But whether their financing is public or private, all churches face the same problems they decide to build.

Said one federal official: "The local groups have a lot of enthusiasm but also a lack of sophistication." The other major problem is where they can get the money they need to start. Even before ground is broken there's plenty of work to be done.

The Episcopal Church is wrestling with these problems and other national church groups show signs of doing the same.

Dr. King to Get Degree From Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., a jail inmate two days ago in the nation's oldest city, receives an honorary degree today from Yale—the nation's third oldest university.

The degree will be the second conferred on the Negro integration leader since his release Saturday from jail in St. Augustine, Fla.

Springfield College at Springfield, Mass., honored the minister Sunday.

King, who is free in $900 bond, and several aides were arrested after a sit-in demonstration in St. Augustine.

"I needn't tell you how happy I am to be here," King told the graduating class at Springfield. "Yesterday at this time I didn't think I'd make it."

Johnson Sends 'Peace Corps' To Demo Meet

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson is reported to have sent a political peace corps to Houston to mediate a threatened battle between factions of the Texas Democratic party.

The Texas Democratic convention is Tuesday.

The Houston Post quoted a "reliable source" as saying representatives of the President will act as mediators at a meeting late today between liberal and conservative leaders.

Texas Democrats united following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas last Nov. 22, but friction has arisen over long-standing liberal-conservative lines.

The five-man credentials committee assembled amid threats from liberals they definitely will walk out if their delegations from Houston and San Antonio are not seated.

A group of liberals formed to push demands of U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said Sunday night that seating of the Harris and Bexar County delegations is "the absolute minimum requirement" for convention participation of either delegation.

The San Antonio and Houston delegations are among those from seven counties where outnumbered partisans left May 9 county conventions to hold their own, or rump, conventions.

Forces of Gov. John Connally, a moderate conservative, feel they will be in control regardless of which delegations are seated.

Poland Throws Full Support To Soviet Union

WARSAW, Poland (UPI)—Poland today threw its full weight behind Moscow in its fight with Peking and called for a world Communist summit meeting to restore unity in the socialist camp.

In a blistering attack on Communist China's advocacy of war and violent revolution to advance its cause, Polish party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka warned:

"The parties which do not participate in this meeting would prove that they are outside the international Communist movement."

Experts said this was Gomulka's most outspoken statement to date on the Sino-Soviet dispute.

Gomulka, who made his remarks in a day-long speech at the opening of the fourth congress of the ruling Polish United Workers (Communist) Party (PUWP), accused the Chinese of trying to "turn back the wheel of history" by their policies.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

CAN WE LEARN TO RELAX?

A Detroit woman writes: "My husband will retire in 3 months and already is getting jittery about it. He always has acted like a caged lion on weekends and cannot wait to get back to work on Monday. He loves his job and respects his boss, even though he has received only two promotions in 30 years. All my husband knows is work. If he can't relax on Saturdays and Sundays, what will he do when he retires?"

Many people have the capacity for work but not for leisure. Their patterns of everyday living make it difficult to adapt to free time. They are psychologically and emotionally unprepared for leisure. This is true particularly of the conscientious man who has over-evaluated the world of work and has forgotten how to play or enjoy the finer things in life.

We are not trying to underestimate the need for doing a job well and working hard. It is a wonderful trait but the individual misses an important phase of life unless he can complement his work with leisure.

Having a hobby is not necessarily the answer, because in many instances the do-it-yourself projects are more related to work than to leisure. These individuals remain active over the week-end because they think they must work in the garden or in the basement. This is in contrast to wanting to do something. There is a difference between the two attitudes and herein lies one of the secrets of enoyable and productive leisure.

The compulsion to work is more complex than meets the eye. Compulsions are reactions that have a must or imperative quality. They are associated with obligations, expectations, and demands. It involves what you should or ought to do rather than what you want to do.

Many workers cannot enjoy their free time because they feel incapable of being their own boss. Their weak ego needs an authority; without one, leisure becomes uncomfortable. In time these individuals subordinate their own capabilities and concentrate on building their life around the family, business organization, or society. Their time is not their own—it belongs to others.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

Blurred Vision

R. H. writes: When a person diets to the point of getting blurred eyesight, is this the beginning of malnutrition?

Reply

No. An article on 11 persons who starved for periods of 12 to 117 days listed the side effects of this slimming plan. Blurred vision was not one of them. Why not have your eyes examined?

Birth Control Pills

Mrs. L. P. writes: I am 20 years old and have three children. I would like to try birth control pills but have heard they cause bolod clots in the legs. Is this true?

Reply

Users of these pills have developed phlebitis but the number of cases is no greater than in nonusers of the same age.

Strom Palpitations

G. B. writes: Last winter, before every snowstorm, I developed severe palpitation. Is this as sign of heart disease?

Reply

Possibly, though the relationship to snowstorms probably is coincidental. Examination plus an electrocardiogram will answer your question in a jiffy.

Bleeding Disorders

C. M. writes: Is a bleeder the same as a hemophiliac?

Reply

More Brazilians Lose Their Political Rights

President Humberto Castello Branco issued the list Sunday a few hours before the purge deadline set last April after the military-civilian - group overthrew Goulart.

Churches Face Problems With Housing Projects

By JOHN PIERSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Council of the Episcopal Church is trying to decide whether to go deeper into the business of advising its local parishes about retirement housing.

Under consideration is a plan for offering not only advice but also seed money to help churches get started.

The National Council already has a Ministry to the Aging Department, but some church leaders are wondering if this office shouldn't do a lot more in the field of housing for the elderly than it's done to date. Recently two parishes were taken by the hand by their builders and got themselves obligated well beyond their resources.

Mrs. Waltz Is Honored Guest at Farewell Tea

The 9th Aerospace Defense Division wives honored Mrs. Robert W. Waltz at a farewell tea Wednesday, June 10, at the Skyline Club.

Mrs. Waltz, wife of Col. Robert W. Waltz, is the wife of the first Commander of the 9th Aerospace Defense Division. The 9th is the Air Forces' first defense organization with a full time space mission and it was fitting that Mrs. Waltz should bring the wives of the 9th together in one group.

During her residencce in Colorado Springs, Mrs. Waltz has been active in many civic and charitable activities. She is best known for her work with the El Paso County chapter of the March of Dimes. She has served as a board member and as activities chairman for the chapter. For the past two years she has received special recognition plaques as the representative of the 9th wives. These plaques were awarded for the large amounts of money raised by the group, under her direction, for the March of Dimes.

Despite her varied activities Mrs. Waltz has plenty of time for family and fun. An avid bowler, she belongs to three leagues, and keeps all bowlers on their toes with her 150 average. Her family includes Pam, who just graduated from Wasson and will attend Denver University in the fall; Bob, who will be a high school senior in Alaska; and Jeff, who will be entering junior high school.

Mrs. Waltz was pleased to see many of her special friends at the tea. A few of the guests were: Mrs. C. Roy Slemon, wife of Air Marshall Slemon; Lt. Col. Shirley T. O'Dell; Mrs. A. F. Banville; Mrs. James W. Bathwell; Mrs. J. O. Beckwith; Mrs. R. M. Clark; Mrs. James K. Dowling. Other guests included: Mrs. Edward H. Ellington; Miss Pauline L. Enlow; Mrs. R. W. Gillette; Mrs. H. A. Kortemeyer; Mrs. R. M MacIver; and Mrs. Richard D. Nielsen.

After signing the guest register, presided over by Mrs. Arnold C. McLean, the guests were greeted by Mrs. Waltz and Mrs. David Tutor. Mrs. Tutor presented Mrs. Waltz with an engraved silver vegetable dish on behalf of the 9th wives. Mrs. Waltz also received the traditional bracelet given to all 9th wives when departing. As a humorous note to lighten the occasion, Mrs. Waltz was presented with a collection of S&H Green Stamps, which she collects eagerly.

The tea table, draped with a white lace cloth, was bordered with pink satin ribbon. Spring flowers and silver candleabra decorated the table. Those serving coffee were: Mrs. Isidor Rossoff; Mrs. Philip Doornbos; Mrs. Willard L. Worden; and Mrs. Earl H. Mickelsen. Pouring tea were: Mrs. Robert Harriger; Mrs. Lawrence M. Watson; Mrs. Ben L. Parker; and Mrs. John D. Irvin. Punch was poured by Lt. Co. Shirley T. O'Dell; Mrs. Robert D. Wallace; Mrs. Horace B. Baird; and Mrs. Harold H. Wilson.

Mrs. James C. Stetts served as "floater" and Mrs. Sanford W. Dee was in charge of protocol. Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. Philip O. Doornbos, Mrs. Harold H. Wilson, and Mrs. Robert P. Mangone.

Izaak Walton League To Convene Thursday

Izaak Walton League, Garden of the Gods Chapter, will meet in Room 1 of Carpenters Hall at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

After the business meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Doll will show slides of their trip to Arizona. Refreshments will be served during a social hour.

Entries, Exit Coffee Held At Skyline

The tea table was decorated with arrangements of spring flowers. Those serving were: Mrs. Gage Mersereau, Mrs. William J. Byron, Jr., Mrs. D. W. Pettigrew, Mrs. Jack Donaldson, Mrs. William G. Richardson, and Mrs. R. C. Laidlaw.

The group was called to order by Mrs. R. W. Gillette, new club president. Other new officers are: Mrs. R. J. Miller, first vice president; Mrs. G. K. Ebbe, second vice president; Mrs. G. H. Booth, third vice president; Mrs. H. S. Lewis Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Donalson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. C. Sattler, treasurer; Mrs. E. K. Walton, assistant treasurer; and Mrs. R. R. Horn, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Gillette welcomed two visitors: Mrs. Curtis LeMay and her daughter, Mrs. James L. Lodge. Mrs. LeMay is the wife of Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis LeMay. Mrs. Lodge is the wife of Capt. James L. Lodge, Air Force Academy.

Mrs. James D. Bowen, coffee chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Lt. Col. Charles C. Canfield, director of services. Lt. Col. Canfield spoke on the commissary, giving its history and development. Following his talk the floor was open for a question and answer period. Assisting Lt. Col. Canfield were Capt. H. J. Blakeman, WAF commander, and assistant to director of services; V. G. Barnes, commissary officer; and R. J. Anderson, commissary store mnaager.

Mrs. R. J. Miller welcomed Mrs. Melvin T. Rooch, Mrs. Melvin J. Crochet, and Mrs. T. D. Miller as new members. Those members who will soon be leaving are: Mrs. B. L. Weiss, Mrs. Richard C. Lowman, and Mrs. Octavian Tuckerman.

The new time for coffees during the summer months will be 9:30 a.m.

Household Hints

United Press International

For scraping stubborn spots when cleaning a wooden or vinyl floor, use a short-handled pancake turner.

Put fresh, washable wallpaper inside musty closets. Complete the job by spraying cologne on the walls and ceiling.

Fill plastic egg trays with water and place in freezer for unique oval "cubes."

Remove discoloration from wooden rolling pins and bread boards by rubbing with half a lemon and rinsing with clear water.

Paste felt on the backs of chairs, and along sides of wagons and baby buggies to avoid marks on wallpaper or walls.

"Food in action" is one definition of nutrition. What are the foods you and your family need daily?

Perhaps mother's greatest responsibility to her family is to see that they are served the foods containing the nutrients they need for health.

Our daily food needs are divided into four groups. Recommended in the meat group are 2 or more servings of meat, poultry or fish per day and an egg at least three times a week.

Have you served lamb kidneys recently? Her's a flavorful recipe for this nutritious variety meat suggested by meat expert Reba Staggs. Lamb kidneys are slowly simmered with mushrooms and served in a sour cream sauce.

Lamb Kidneys Supreme

1 pound lamb kidneys
4 slices bacon
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 can (3 ounces) sliced mushrooms
1 beef bouillon cube
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
1 cup dairy sour cream

Remove fat and membrane from kidneys. Cut into halves. Cook bacon until crisp. Remove bacon and break into pieces. Mix together flour, salt and pepper. Dredge kidneys in seasoned flour. Brown slowly in bacon drippings. Pour off drippings.

Add mushrooms and liquid and bouillon cube. Cover tightly and cook slowly 20 minutes. Mix together mustard and sour cream and add to kidney mixture. Cook until just heated through. Serve on a warm platter and sprinkle with bacon pieces. 4 to 5 servings.

Mrs. Waltz Is Honored Guest at Farewell Tea

The 9th Aerospace Defense Division wives honored Mrs. Robert W. Waltz at a farewell tea Wednesday, June 10, at the Skyline Club.

Mrs. Waltz, wife of Col. Robert W. Waltz, is the wife of the first Commander of the 9th Aerospace Defense Division. The 9th is the Air Forces' first defense organization with a full time space mission and it was fitting that Mrs. Waltz should bring the wives of the 9th together in one group.

During her residencce in Colorado Springs, Mrs. Waltz has been active in many civic and charitable activities. She is best known for her work with the El Paso County chapter of the March of Dimes. She has served as a board member and as activities chairman for the chapter. For the past two years she has received special recognition plaques as the representative of the 9th wives. These plaques were awarded for the large amounts of money raised by the group, under her direction, for the March of Dimes.

Despite her varied activities Mrs. Waltz has plenty of time for family and fun. An avid bowler, she belongs to three leagues, and keeps all bowlers on their toes with her 150 average. Her family includes Pam, who just graduated from Wasson and will attend Denver University in the fall; Bob, who will be a high school senior in Alaska; and Jeff, who will be entering junior high school.

Mrs. Waltz was pleased to see many of her special friends at the tea. A few of the guests were: Mrs. C. Roy Slemon, wife of Air Marshall Slemon; Lt. Col. Shirley T. O'Dell; Mrs. A. F. Banville; Mrs. James W. Bathwell; Mrs. J. O. Beckwith; Mrs. R. M. Clark; Mrs. James K. Dowling. Other guests included: Mrs. Edward H. Ellington; Miss Pauline L. Enlow; Mrs. R. W. Gillette; Mrs. H. A. Kortemeyer; Mrs. R. M MacIver; and Mrs. Richard D. Nielsen.

After signing the guest register, presided over by Mrs. Arnold C. McLean, the guests were greeted by Mrs. Waltz and Mrs. David Tutor. Mrs. Tutor presented Mrs. Waltz with an engraved silver vegetable dish on behalf of the 9th wives. Mrs. Waltz also received the traditional bracelet given to all 9th wives when departing. As a humorous note to lighten the occasion, Mrs. Waltz was presented with a collection of S&H Green Stamps, which she collects eagerly.

The tea table, draped with a white lace cloth, was bordered with pink satin ribbon. Spring flowers and silver candleabra decorated the table. Those serving coffee were: Mrs. Isidor Rossoff; Mrs. Philip Doornbos; Mrs. Willard L. Worden; and Mrs. Earl H. Mickelsen. Pouring tea were: Mrs. Robert Harriger; Mrs. Lawrence M. Watson; Mrs. Ben L. Parker; and Mrs. John D. Irvin. Punch was poured by Lt. Co. Shirley T. O'Dell; Mrs. Robert D. Wallace; Mrs. Horace B. Baird; and Mrs. Harold H. Wilson.

Mrs. James C. Stetts served as "floater" and Mrs. Sanford W. Dee was in charge of protocol. Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. Philip O. Doornbos, Mrs. Harold H. Wilson, and Mrs. Robert P. Mangone.

Izaak Walton League To Convene Thursday

Izaak Walton League, Garden of the Gods Chapter, will meet in Room 1 of Carpenters Hall at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

After the business meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Doll will show slides of their trip to Arizona. Refreshments will be served during a social hour.

Entries, Exit Coffee Held At Skyline

The tea table was decorated with arrangements of spring flowers. Those serving were: Mrs. Gage Mersereau, Mrs. William J. Byron, Jr., Mrs. D. W. Pettigrew, Mrs. Jack Donaldson, Mrs. William G. Richardson, and Mrs. R. C. Laidlaw.

The group was called to order by Mrs. R. W. Gillette, new club president. Other new officers are: Mrs. R. J. Miller, first vice president; Mrs. G. K. Ebbe, second vice president; Mrs. G. H. Booth, third vice president; Mrs. H. S. Lewis Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Donalson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. C. Sattler, treasurer; Mrs. E. K. Walton, assistant treasurer; and Mrs. R. R. Horn, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Gillette welcomed two visitors: Mrs. Curtis LeMay and her daughter, Mrs. James L. Lodge. Mrs. LeMay is the wife of Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis LeMay. Mrs. Lodge is the wife of Capt. James L. Lodge, Air Force Academy.

Mrs. James D. Bowen, coffee chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Lt. Col. Charles C. Canfield, director of services. Lt. Col. Canfield spoke on the commissary, giving its history and development. Following his talk the floor was open for a question and answer period. Assisting Lt. Col. Canfield were Capt. H. J. Blakeman, WAF commander, and assistant to director of services; V. G. Barnes, commissary officer; and R. J. Anderson, commissary store mnanager.

Mrs. R. J. Miller welcomed Mrs. Melvin T. Rooch, Mrs. Melvin J. Crochet, and Mrs. T. D. Miller as new members. Those members who will soon be leaving are: Mrs. B. L. Weiss, Mrs. Richard C. Lowman, and Mrs. Octavian Tuckerman.

The new time for coffees during the summer months will be 9:30 a.m.

Household Hints

United Press International

For scraping stubborn spots when cleaning a wooden or vinyl floor, use a short-handled pancake turner.

Put fresh, washable wallpaper inside musty closets. Complete the job by spraying cologne on the walls and ceiling.

Fill plastic egg trays with water and place in freezer for unique oval "cubes."

Remove discoloration from wooden rolling pins and bread boards by rubbing with half a lemon and rinsing with clear water.

Paste felt on the backs of chairs, and along sides of wagons and baby buggies to avoid marks on wallpaper or walls.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Many Cooks, Many Tastes!

DEAR ABBY: A reader in had to taste their cooking to determine whether it was properly seasoned, or if they could tell by smelling it. Well, my father was a chef for over fifty years. He was chef to a governor of New York who later became president. I need not tell you that he was a fine cook, and no one ever saw him taste a thing. —CHEF'S DAUGHTER

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this while aboard a Great Lakes Merchant ship. I have been in the cooking business for over 23 years and the idea that a cook can tell how much sugar or salt is in something by SMELLING it is the craziest notion I have heard yet. Some herbs and spices, yes, but salt and sugar, no! —ALVIN J. L.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whether the best chefs in the world "taste" their cooking or smell it to achieve the best results. But I DO know that cooks who constantly taste their own cooking never go to the trouble of getting a clean spoon for every "taste." Therefore, whenever I happen to see a cook "tasting" the food, I avoid eating it, if it is at all possible. —ANTI-GERMS

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to brag, but I have a reputation for being an excellent cook. I never tasted anything. The only time I ever spoiled anything was when I made an exceptionally large quantity of spaghetti sauce. I tasted it, and then added a little more salt. That was the only time I ever made anything too salty. Thank you. —LOVES TO COOK.

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: I am now considered a first-class chef, having worked my way up from dishwasher. I have been trained by the best chefs in the business and they never tasted anything, with the possible exception of soup to decide if it had enough salt in it. I can truthfully say that the only time I ever tasted anything on the job was when I was young, inexperienced and very, very hungry. —JUST ALFRED

DEAR ABBY: This should settle the question of whether the best cooks taste their cooking, or smell it in order to determine if it is properly seasoned: I have an aunt who lost both her sense of smell and sense of taste when she was a very young girl. Yet she turned out to be a fantastically good cook. —TILLIE IN TUCSON

DEAR ABBY: In regard to the question of whether the best chefs taste anything, I would say they do not. I am not a chef, but have been a master brewer for many years. We never taste beer. We take a clean, 4-ounce glass, fill it with beer from the large tanks in which it has been brewed. LOOK at it, throw the contents on the floor, and SMELL of the glass! We can test 30 or 40 tanks of beer that way. If we tasted the beer, after the first sample, all the beer would taste the same. —MASTER BREWER

DEAR BREWER: Thank you for your interesting letter. I'll bet your brewery has the "happiest" mice in town.

Goldwater's Jetliner Blows Out Two Tires

No one was injured aboard the American Airlines 707 jetliner, which taxied off the runway despite the loss of the tires.

Patty Jewett Golfers Report Flight Results

Even holes half - handicap in flights was the theme for play of the Patty Jewett Women's Golf Association last Thursday when the members met for the regular weekly play.

Nine hole winners, A - flight Mrs. Kenneth Broms, 9 - hole B - flight Mrs. Joe Price.

Following play a golf clinic was conducted by Art Severson, Patty Jewett Pro. Hostess for the day was Mrs. Jack Tober.

On Thursday, the ladies will be competing for prizes awarded on the basis of T's and S's half - handicap. This date will mark the beginning of the second round matches for the Muriel Payne Brown handicap tourney which must be played by June 24th.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

My husband recently devised a perfectly ingenuous way to deflate an air mattress for storage. It is so simple that I cannot imagine why someone has not thought of it before!

After trying for an endless time to pat and flatten the stubborn thing, he connected the vacuum cleaner and placed the nozzle against the plastic opening of the mattress, pressed the switch (sucking all excess air out), and presto . . . the flattest mattress you have ever seen folded neatly with no puffy little corners.

It now lies on the shelf until we will need it again. — Teddy Laberty

And just what is the matter with deflating miniature swimming pools and swim rings this way? I think it is terrific. Bless you for telling us this hint.—Heloise.

Dear Heloise:

To keep birds from eating your fresh peaches, plums etc., just cut strips of plastic and tie them in your trees! The wind makes the plastic pop and it scares the birds away.

Also, cow bells (this is a bell you hang on a cow) could be used, but one could substitute any type of bell—Tryer-Outer

Dear Heloise:

I was about ready to throw away my old bread box, and then I got the bright idea of putting it to good use.

I turned the bread box on its back. This way it has a divider in it, so I am using it now for storing onions in one side and potatoes in the other side. It makes a very good vegetable bin. — Evelyn W.

Dear Heloise:

For those who go on picnics and use mustard jars, catsup bottles or just anything trying to weigh down the tablecloth . . . and it just doesn't work . . . here's what we do:

We keep thumb tacks in our picnic basket.

When we arrive we put the cloth on the table and put one thumb tack on each corner and one in the middle of each side of the cloth.

The cloth will never blow away.

When it's time to go home, we just take a knife, remove the thumb tacks and replace them in the basket.

We have also learned, when taking along paper plates and wanting to set the table before the family comes to eat, that we can use one of these thumb tacks to tack the paper plates to the table and then as your plate gets empty . . . you do not have to chase it either! —Mrs. Martinez

Dear Heloise:

For those who live near beaches and have children . . . take along your empty plastic bleach bottles. Cap the top on tightly and throw one in the ocean. It will bob along the waves . . . then try catching it!

You will be surprised how evasive that bottle is and what if it gets lost? All you have to do is pick up another one from your stock of bottles. — Ima Friend

This idea could also be used in any swimming pool! Look at the fun the kiddies would have batting it around! But be "sure" the top is glued on tightly as an extra precaution. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

We do not like to use glass ash trays on our patio, because I am afraid of breakage, so I have painted several tuna fish, pineapple and coffee cans for ash trays. These can't be broken.

Sand, or pebbles, may be put in the bottom for snuffing cigarettes. —Reader

Dear Heloise:

With all the talk about mosquitoes this summer, I thought you would like to know what I do about my house plant which I keep in water.

I simply pour mineral oil in the flower container!

The oil stays on top of the water . . . thus keeping the mosquitoes from breeding. This way you do not have to change the water every week. — Daisy Ulmer

The bidding:

West's preemptive bid backfired on him in a strange manner, when it influenced declarer to devise a plan of campaign which ran distinctly against normal expectations.

The three heart bid severely cramped the communication channels for North and South. Despite having rather unattractive distribution, North could see no alternative to making a take-out double. South realized that any pertinent exchange of information was not availabl at this high level and, since he had a nearly self-sufficient suit and considerable high card strength, he elected to gamble it out for a small slam. His leap to six diamonds is, in our opinion, a reasonable choice.

West opened the king of hearts which was taken by declarer's ace. The contract appeared to be a reasonable undertaking inasmuch as it hinged on the success of either the spade or club finesse.

Winning one out of two finesses usually presents a player with three to one odds in his favor. South was disinclined to replay on the precentage tables however, for, in view of West's premptive activities, he placed the latter with nothing but a long heart suit. Declarer mentally assigned the king of spades and the queen of clubs to East; and he sought for a line of play that could cope successfully with his pesimistic assumptions.

After winning the opening lead, South led over to the ace of diamonds and ruffed a heart in his hand. Dummy was reentered with the jack of diamonds to trump the last heart as East discarded a spade. South drew East's remaining diamond to strip him of all red cards.

A club was led but declarer refused to take a finesse. Instead, he played the ace, king, and another club. The suit divided three-three and East was in with the queen. The forced spade return was won by North's ten, and declarer discarded his other spade on the jack of clubs. South lost only a club trick.

Had East turned up with four clubs, he would have been able to get out with a club which South must ruff in order to fall back on the spade finesse as a last resort.

The Case Of The Invisible Decorator

Good interior decorating is like good manners . . . never obvious. Let's face it . . . a room that shouts — "DONE BY A DECORATOR" isn't desirable. Instead, a room should whisper "this is the way the Jones family lives — and don't they have good taste." Our decorators puts "you" in the room. We labor long and search far to find just the right things to suit your personality. We even encourage you to keep treasured pieces of family furniture — because they reflect your way of life. (Perhaps old favorites need a little up-dating, but we try to be tactful in our suggestions.)

In short, when Our Interior Design Staff helps you with your interior decorating, your friends are apt to say, "My, your room is beautiful — and it looks just like you."

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Many Cooks, Many Tastes!

DEAR ABBY: A reader in had to taste their cooking to determine whether it was properly seasoned, or if they could tell by smelling it. Well, my father was a chef for over fifty years. He was chef to a governor of New York who later became president. I need not tell you that he was a fine cook, and no one ever saw him taste a thing. —CHEF'S DAUGHTER

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this while aboard a Great Lakes Merchant ship. I have been in the cooking business for over 23 years and the idea that a cook can tell how much sugar or salt is in something by SMELLING it is the craziest notion I have heard yet. Some herbs and spices, yes, but salt and sugar, no! —ALVIN J. L.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whether the best chefs in the world "taste" their cooking or smell it to achieve the best results. But I DO know that cooks who constantly taste their own cooking never go to the trouble of getting a clean spoon for every "taste." Therefore, whenever I happen to see a cook "tasting" the food, I avoid eating it, if it is at all possible. —ANTI-GERMS

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to brag, but I have a reputation for being an excellent cook. I never tasted anything. The only time I ever spoiled anything was when I made an exceptionally large quantity of spaghetti sauce. I tasted it, and then added a little more salt. That was the only time I ever made anything too salty. Thank you. —LOVES TO COOK.

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: I am now considered a first-class chef, having worked my way up from dishwasher. I have been trained by the best chefs in the business and they never tasted anything, with the possible exception of soup to decide if it had enough salt in it. I can truthfully say that the only time I ever tasted anything on the job was when I was young, inexperienced and very, very hungry. —JUST ALFRED

DEAR ABBY: This should settle the question of whether the best cooks taste their cooking, or smell it in order to determine if it is properly seasoned: I have an aunt who lost both her sense of smell and sense of taste when she was a very young girl. Yet she turned out to be a fantastically good cook. —TILLIE IN TUCSON

DEAR ABBY: In regard to the question of whether the best chefs taste anything, I would say they do not. I am not a chef, but have been a master brewer for many years. We never taste beer. We take a clean, 4-ounce glass, fill it with beer from the large tanks in which it has been brewed, LOOK at it, throw the contents on the floor, and SMELL of the glass! We can test 30 or 40 tanks of beer that way. If we tasted the beer, after the first sample, all the beer would taste the same. —MASTER BREWER

DEAR BREWER: Thank you for your interesting letter. I'll bet your brewery has the "happiest" mice in town.

Goldwater's Jetliner Blows Out Two Tires

No one was injured aboard the American Airlines 707 jetliner, which taxied off the runway despite the loss of the tires.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

My husband recently devised a perfectly ingenuous way to deflate an air mattress for storage. It is so simple that I cannot imagine why someone has not thought of it before!

After trying for an endless time to pat and flatten the stubborn thing, he connected the vacuum cleaner and placed the nozzle against the plastic opening of the mattress, pressed the switch (sucking all excess air out), and presto . . . the flattest mattress you have ever seen folded neatly with no puffy little corners.

It now lies on the shelf until we will need it again. — Teddy Laberty

And just what is the matter with deflating miniature swimming pools and swim rings this way? I think it is terrific. Bless you for telling us this hint.—Heloise.

Dear Heloise:

To keep birds from eating your fresh peaches, plums etc., just cut strips of plastic and tie them in your trees! The wind makes the plastic pop and it scares the birds away.

Also, cow bells (this is a bell you hang on a cow) could be used, but one could substitute any type of bell—Tryer-Outer

Dear Heloise:

I was about ready to throw away my old bread box, and then I got the bright idea of putting it to good use.

I turned the bread box on its back. This way it has a divider in it, so I am using it now for storing onions in one side and potatoes in the other side. It makes a very good vegetable bin. — Evelyn W.

Dear Heloise:

For those who go on picnics and use mustard jars, catsup bottles or just anything trying to weigh down the tablecloth . . . and it just doesn't work . . . here's what we do:

We keep thumb tacks in our picnic basket.

When we arrive we put the cloth on the table and put one thumb tack on each corner and one in the middle of each side of the cloth.

The cloth will never blow away.

When it's time to go home, we just take a knife, remove the thumb tacks and replace them in the basket.

We have also learned, when taking along paper plates and wanting to set the table before the family comes to eat, that we can use one of these thumb tacks to tack the paper plates to the table and then as your plate gets empty . . . you do not have to chase it either! —Mrs. Martinez

Dear Heloise:

For those who live near beaches and have children . . . take along your empty plastic bleach bottles. Cap the top on tightly and throw one in the ocean. It will bob along the waves . . . then try catching it!

You will be surprised how evasive that bottle is and what if it gets lost? All you have to do is pick up another one from your stock of bottles. — Ima Friend

This idea could also be used in any swimming pool! Look at the fun the kiddies would have batting it around! But be "sure" the top is glued on tightly as an extra precaution. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

We do not like to use glass ash trays on our patio, because I am afraid of breakage, so I have painted several tuna fish, pineapple and coffee cans for ash trays. These can't be broken.

Sand, or pebbles, may be put in the bottom for snuffing cigarettes. —Reader

Papa Doc Says He Will Rule With 'Savagery'

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—"I'll rule with all the firmness and savagery that is necessary," said Francois (Papa Doc) Duvalier.

The 57-year-old physician-dictator made the pledge in one of his rare public appearances Sunday after he had his countrymen elect him president for life.

The vote was a referendum on a new constitution which says the Haifian people have asked Duvalier to remain president for life. Voters didn't have to register, all the ballots were marked "yes" beforehand and voters could cast as many as they wanted.

CAPITOL STUFF

By PAUL HEALY

WASHINGTON — The overnight transformation of Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton from a mealy - mouthed dragon into a flaming anti - Goldwater tiger has caught Washington by surprise.

No Democrat has insulted the Arizona senator and his cause more scathingly than the suddenly aroused Governor did in his speech to the Maryland Republican convention last Friday.

Consider the phrases flung at the TV screen by Scranton to damn the man whose ideas he has pussyfooted around. To Goldwater and his right wing followers (though he never mentioned Barry by name) he applied such phrases as "slow death of blind reaction" . . . "the small -minded" . . . some weird parody of our real beliefs" . . . "a cause which has no roots in American history" . . etc.

And even Gov. Rockefeller in his vain effort to haul down the GOP front - runner never went so far in a Goldwater - can't - win line and in boldly proclaiming that the GOP — and perhaps the country — is "in danger," presumably in the event of a Goldwater nomination.

One Republican colleague who prefers not to be identified points to the events of the last week in which Scranton looked silly as an on - again - off - again candidate after two conversations with former President Eisenhower and one noncommittal performance on a TV panel show.

"He was humiliated by this thing," this Republican said. "He's just mad. He's always wanted to run."

The fact is that Scranton has wanted to be the compromise candidate the party turned to after a deadlock developed between Goldwater and a moderate, possibly Rockefeller. When Rocky lost California to Barry, much to the amazement of the GOP moderates — who had been alternately sitting on their hands and wringing them — Scranton became trapped by his own strategy.

GOLDWATER ALSO TAKEN BY SURPRISE

His failure to understand what Ike wanted him to do — if, indeed, Eisenhower himself knew — led him into his unhappy role at the Governors Conference in Cleveland, where several governors told Scranton off.

Goldwater himself was surprised by Scranton's abrupt eagerness to take him on. Goldwater had been proceeding on the assumption that the Pennsylvania governor apparently was "not a candidate in his own mind" and therefore need not be taken seriously, at least in advance of the July 13 convention in San Francisco. Only yesterday Goldwater had recalled to a couple of newsmen that Scranton had always been a "reluctant" candidate, both in running for Congress and for the governorship.

"I had to work like hell on him to get him to run for governor," Goldwater said.

Further than this, Goldwater had personally liked Scranton better than any of his other rivals for the GOP prize, and not simply because both are officers in an Air Force Reserve squadron based here (Scranton is a major and Goldwater is a general and his commanding officer). Up to today, Scranton also had been careful not to offend the Senator.

Today Goldwater welcomed Scranton into the race (Eisenhower did no more than that) but wryly recalled a letter the Governor had written him in 1963 saying he "hoped" Barry would decide to run.

SCRANTON ENTRY CALLED GOOD FOR PARTY

And on TV's Face the Nation Scranton had insisted that he didn't really know Barry's "views." He seems to have found out since then — and didn't like what he found.

All but the dedicated Goldwaterites saw the Scranton entry as "good for the party." One who said this was a nonliberal, Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo.), who rejected a suggestion that Scranton even now might be "acting as a front man" for somebody else — perhaps former Vice President Nixon. Nixon is no longer considered a compromise possibility in event of a Goldwater - Scranton deadlock, since he has now abandoned his policy of carefully not offending Barry.

Moderate Republicans like New York's Sens. Jacob Javits and Kenneth Keating of course were jubilant over the 11th - hour arrival of the new fighting Scranton even though they must remain committed to Rockefeller. Nobody really gives Rocky a chance and the liberals need a fresh standard-bearer with some glamor. Privately, they confess it's probably too late for Scranton to catch up with Barry. Friday's blast by the governor will only intensify the Goldwater camp's drive for delegates.

STRONGEST GOP TICKET SEEMS RULED OUT

Aside from who wins next month, the larger question for all Republicans to ponder is this: What does Scranton's ripping attack on the ideology do to the future of the party? Today's description of what Goldwater is believed to stand for was so blistering and so broad-gauged that it seems to rule out the party's strongest ticket — which would be either Goldwater-Scranton or Scranton-Goldwater.

Each man has too much integrity to form a team which would necessarily make one of them a hypocrite.

It can be argued that the expediency of politics has made some strange bedfellows indeed in American history. The Kennedy-Johnspn ticket of 1960 might be cited. But there's a difference. The Kennedy and Johnson contrasts were sectional and personal; in fact, they balanced one another. The Goldwater-Scranton gap is now revealed as philosophicai—and very wide.

If either is nominated, it is bound to leave one segment of the party embittered and without enthusiasm for the nominee. This must be distressing to Goldwater tonight, for he is the one who has been preaching party unity regardless of the nominee.

Demo Chieftains Confident of Civil Rights Vote

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders drive this week for passage of the civil rights bill, and so confident are they of victory, they already are turning their attention to other major administration legislation.

A tremendous pileup of House-approved measures is awaiting Senate action once the civil rights bill is passed.

All sides, including the Southerners who have fought the bill since March 9, concede it will pass this week, with Wednesday or Thursday considered the most likely day.

Sen. Barry Goldwater will vote against the measure unless it is materially revised, his campaign manager said Sunday night. Denison Kitchel said Goldwater, Arizona Republican who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination, objects to the bill's provisions on public accommodation and private employment practices. No revisions are likely on these provisions.

Kitchel said on the NBC radio-television interview program "Meet the Press" that Goldwater voted for the civil rights bills of 1957 and 1960 and "it is perfectly clear he is opposed to discrimination of any type" but opposes unconstitutional use of federal authority.

Among the "must" measures waiting their turn in the Senate is the $533-million federal pay increase bill the House passed last Thursday. The Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee has given tentative approval to much of the measure, but has additional sessions scheduled.

President Johnson has been pressing Democratic leaders to get this through, contending raises for federal executives are essential to hold key officials in government service.

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said hearings also may start soon on the President's $962-million antipoverty legislation.

The House Rules Committee meets on this Tuesday and is expected to clear it for House floor action, probably next week.

After the Dixie filibuster against the rights bill was halted last Wednesday by cloture, the Southerners centered on amendments as their means of striking at the bill.

In all, 51 were presented, but except for minor revisions acceptable to the leadership, the amendments were beaten back, sometimes by lopsided votes.

As the Senate convenes today, 565 amendments stand eligible for consideration. The bulk of them probably will not be put to the test.

On a television program Sunday for Minnesota stations Humphrey urged all state governors and mayors of large cities to call conferences to help lay the groundwork for enforcement of the rights bill.

"It may very well be that the President himself will want to call a national conference on civil rights after we pass the bill to talk about the continuing problems that beset us, how we implement this law on the state and local and federal level, and how we back it up by community action and community support," he said.

Art Museum Put On 'Must' List

By BART KINCH
United Press International

The New York World's Fair is attracting visitors to the Empire State in increasing numbers as the summer draws near. If you plan to be one of the visitors be sure to put the Museum of Modern Art on your "must see" list.

The museum is located at 11 West 53 Street. Its Department of Photography now has a permanent exhibition area located in a new wing on the third and fourth floors.

The department plans to have 170 prints on view at all times in the Edward Steichen Photography Center. The Center will have on file about 7,000 prints dating from 1839 to the present. More than 1,000 photographers from more than 60 countries are represented in the unique collection.

The Center has a "study room" where interested students may have access to prints not on display. Also available will be the department's extensive library of books and periodicals on photography.

"This new space for photography means that the museum will always have a photography exhibition on view," the museum said. "In the coming months these will include one-man exhibitions by Andre Kertesz and Dorothea Lange and a survey of the Photo-essay."

The museum also announced plans to increase its publishing activities in the photographic field. Thus far, 19 books have been published and an enlarged and revised edition of "The History of Photography" by Beaumont Newhall is scheduled to be issued in the fall.

The Museum of Modern Art was founded in 1929 and became one of the first museums in the country to exhibit photographs. Its first exhibit was in 1932. In 1940 a separate department of photography was established.

Edward Steichen, for whom the new center was named, was director of the department from 1947 until 1962. John Szarkowski currently directs the Department of Photography.

Of course, the museum itself offers many photographic opportunities to camera fans, so bring your camera along.

At the Fair itself, be sure to visit the Kodak Pavilion where exhibits featuring professional and amateur photography will be displayed in the salon area.

The exhibits will be changed regularly and will include both black-and-white and color.

The exhibit through July 22 will be 300 medal award winning pictures from the Kodak International Color competition.

From July 23 to August 12 — a collection of photographs on loan from the Professional Photographers Association and a separate exhibit entitled "The Light-hearted Camera" by both professionals and amateurs.

From August 13 through Sept. 9 — A series of photographs of the first American expedition to scale Mt. Everest.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A constituent of State Sen. Ed Kendrick is indignant about the price of peanuts.

"Have you any idea how much the peanuts have gone up in three years," asked a terse note left on Kendrick's desk.

"As one of the children of Georgia whom you represent, I request that you amend the state constitution to prevent the vendors from charging these outrageous prices. Thank you."

New Agreement For Malaysia, Indonesia Seen

By RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI

TOKYO (AP)—Malaysia and Indonesia agreed today on two checkpoints for Thai-monitored withdrawal of Indonesian guerrillas from North Borneo, removing another obstacle to the holding of a summit conference on the dispute over Malaysia.

Philippine trouble-shooter Salvador P. Lopez said Indonesia agreed to one exit point in Sarawak and a second in Sabah—North Borneo—with others to be determined later.

The delegations from Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines awaited word from the Thai inspectors in the two Malaysian borneo states that a for a summit meeting of Indonesian invaders had taken place.

This will be the signal for the start of a foreign ministers' meeting to draw up an agenda for a summti meeting of Indonesian President Sukarno, Malaysian Prime Minister Abdul Rahman and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal.

Macapagal continued his mediation efforts, dining alternately with Rahman and Sukarno.

While a hopeful air existed in Tokyo and Bangkok, a pessimistic feeling prevailed in Jakarta. Third Deputy Premier Chaerul Saleh told a rally Indonesia could not be held responsible if the summit meeting failed.

Antara, the official Indonesian news agency, quoted Col. Sabirin Mochtar, commander of the so-called crush Malaysia volunteers, as saying his men were awaiting orders to cross into Malaysian Borneo if President Sukarno returns empty handed from Tokyo.

Malaysia's ruler, the Sultan of Perlis, and his queen left by plane for a 10-day good-will visit to Tokyo.

Foreign Office sources in Kuala Lumpur believe the visit can firm up Malaysian - Japanese relations. They viewed this as highly important because of Japan's resurgence as a major political force in Southeast Asia and as such a power with increasing influence in the Malaysia-Indonesia dispute.

Papa Doc Says He Will Rule With 'Savagery'

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—"I'll rule with all the firmness and savagery that is necessary," said Francois (Papa Doc) Duvalier.

The 57-year-old physician-dictator made the pledge in one of his rare public appearances Sunday after he had his countrymen elect him president for life.

The vote was a referendum on a new constitution which says the Haitian people have asked Duvalier to remain president for life. Voters didn't have to register, all the ballots were marked "yes" beforehand and voters could cast as many as they wanted.

CAPITOL STUFF

By PAUL HEALY

WASHINGTON — The overnight transformation of Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton from a mealy - mouthed dragon into a flaming anti - Goldwater tiger has caught Washington by surprise.

No Democrat has insulted the Arizona senator and his cause more scathingly than the suddenly aroused Governor did in his speech to the Maryland Republican convention last Friday.

Consider the phrases flung at the TV screen by Scranton to damn the man whose ideas he has pussyfooted around. To Goldwater and his right wing followers (though he never mentioned Barry by name) he applied such phrases as "slow death of blind reaction" . . . "the small -minded" . . . some weird parody of our real beliefs" . . . "a cause which has no roots in American history" . . . etc.

And even Gov. Rockefeller in his vain effort to haul down the GOP front - runner never went so far in a Goldwater - can't - win line and in boldly proclaiming that the GOP — and perhaps the country — is "in danger," presumably in the event of a Goldwater nomination.

One Republican colleague who prefers not to be identified points to the events of the last week in which Scranton looked silly as an on - again - off - again candidate after two conversations with former President Eisenhower and one noncommittal performance on a TV panel show.

"He was humiliated by this thing," this Republican said. "He's just mad. He's always wanted to run."

The fact is that Scranton has wanted to be the compromise candidate the party turned to after a deadlock developed between Goldwater and a moderate, possibly Rockefeller. When Rocky lost California to Barry, much to the amazement of the GOP moderates — who had been alternately sitting on their hands and wringing them — Scranton became trapped by his own strategy.

GOLDWATER ALSO TAKEN BY SURPRISE

His failure to understand what Ike wanted him to do — if, indeed, Eisenhower himself knew — led him into his unhappy role at the Governors Conference in Cleveland, where several governors told Scranton off.

Goldwater himself was surprised by Scranton's abrupt eagerness to take him on. Goldwater had been proceeding on the assumption that the Pennsylvania governor apparently was "not a candidate in his own mind" and therefore need not be taken seriously, at least in advance of the July 13 convention in San Francisco. Only yesterday Goldwater had recalled to a couple of newsmen that Scranton had always been a "reluctant" candidate, both in running for Congress and for the governorship.

"I had to work like hell on him to get him to run for governor," Goldwater said.

Further than this, Goldwater had personally liked Scranton better than any of his other rivals for the GOP prize, and not simply because both are officers in an Air Force Reserve squadron based here (Scranton is a major and Goldwater is a general and his commanding officer). Up to today, Scranton also had been careful not to offend the Senator.

Today Goldwater welcomed Scranton into the race (Eisenhower did no more than that) but wryly recalled a letter the Governor had written him in 1963 saying he "hoped" Barry would decide to run.

SCRANTON ENTRY CALLED GOOD FOR PARTY

And on TV's Face the Nation Scranton had insisted that he didn't really know Barry's "views." He seems to have found out since then — and didn't like what he found.

All but the dedicated Goldwaterites saw the Scranton entry as "good for the party." One who said this was a nonliberal, Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo.), who rejected a suggestion that Scranton even now might be "acting as a front man" for somebody else — perhaps former Vice President Nixon. Nixon is no longer considered a compromise possibility in event of a Goldwater - Scranton deadlock, since he has now abandoned his policy of carefully not offending Barry.

Moderate Republicans like New York's Sens. Jacob Javits and Kenneth Keating of course were jubilant over the 11th - hour arrival of the new fighting Scranton even though they must remain committed to Rockefeller. Nobody really gives Rocky a chance and the liberals need a fresh standard-bearer with some glamor. Privately, they confess it's probably too late for Scranton to catch up with Barry. Friday's blast by the governor will only intensify the Goldwater camp's drive for delegates.

STRONGEST GOP TICKET SEEMS RULED OUT

Aside from who wins next month, the larger question for all Republicans to ponder is this: What does Scranton's ripping attack on the ideology do to the future of the party? Today's description of what Goldwater is believed to stand for was so blistering and so broad-gauged that it seems to rule out the party's strongest ticket — which would be either Goldwater-Scranton or Scranton-Goldwater.

Each man has too much integrity to form a team which would necessarily make one of them a hypocrite.

It can be argued that the expediency of politics has made some strange bedfellows indeed in American history. The Kennedy-Johnspn ticket of 1960 might be cited. But there's a difference. The Kennedy and Johnson contrasts were sectional and personal; in fact, they balanced one another. The Goldwater-Scranton gap is now revealed as philosophical—and very wide.

If either is nominated, it is bound to leave one segment of the party embittered and without enthusiasm for the nominee. This must be distressing to Goldwater tonight, for he is the one who has been preaching party unity regardless of the nominee.

Demo Chieftains Confident of Civil Rights Vote

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders drive this week for passage of the civil rights bill, and so confident are they of victory, they already are turning their attention to other major administration legislation.

A tremendous pileup of House-approved measures is awaiting Senate action once the civil rights bill is passed.

All sides, including the Southerners who have fought the bill since March 9, concede it will pass this week, with Wednesday or Thursday considered the most likely day.

Sen. Barry Goldwater will vote against the measure unless it is materially revised, his campaign manager said Sunday night. Denison Kitchel said Goldwater, Arizona Republican who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination, objects to the bill's provisions on public accommodation and private employment practices. No revisions are likely on these provisions.

Kitchel said on the NBC radio-television interview program "Meet the Press" that Goldwater voted for the civil rights bills of 1957 and 1960 and "it is perfectly clear he is opposed to discrimination of any type" but opposes unconstitutional use of federal authority.

Among the "must" measures waiting their turn in the Senate is the $533-million federal pay increase bill the House passed last Thursday. The Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee has given tentative approval to much of the measure, but has additional sessions scheduled.

President Johnson has been pressing Democratic leaders to get this through, contending raises for federal executives are essential to hold key officials in government service.

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said hearings also may start soon on the President's $962-million antipoverty legislation.

The House Rules Committee meets on this Tuesday and is expected to clear it for House floor action, probably next week.

After the Dixie filibuster against the rights bill was halted last Wednesday by cloture, the Southerners centered on amendments as their means of striking at the bill.

In all, 51 were presented, but except for minor revisions acceptable to the leadership, the amendments were beaten back, sometimes by lopsided votes.

As the Senate convenes today, 565 amendments stand eligible for consideration. The bulk of them probably will not be put to the test.

On a television program Sunday for Minnesota stations Humphrey urged all state governors and mayors of large cities to call conferences to help lay the groundwork for enforcement of the rights bill.

"It may very well be that the President himself will want to call a national conference on civil rights after we pass the bill to talk about the continuing problems that beset us, how we implement this law on the state and local and federal level, and how we back it up by community action and community support," he said.

Art Museum Put On 'Must' List

By BART KINCH

The New York World's Fair is attracting visitors to the Empire State in increasing numbers as the summer draws near. If you plan to be one of the visitors be sure to put the Museum of Modern Art on your "must see" list.

The museum is located at 11 West 53 Street. Its Department of Photography now has a permament exhibition area located in a new wing on the third and fourth floors.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

Lorna tells about a very interesting "problem" professor. Try to decide why so many braintruster psychology teachers have a hysterical bias against this educational newspaper column. Is it jealousy, envy, or just the pinko braintruster's dislike of "horse sense" and sound Americanism? You be the jury.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

"Dr. Crane," she confided, "we had a woman teacher who

"In fact, one day she threatened that if any student ever brought in another copy of your column from the Indianapolis STAR, she'd give that student an 'F' for the course!

"And some of my friends at both Purdue and Indiana who are taking psychology, say that their professors often criticize you and even call you a quack.

"What motivates them to such ire? Is it just jealousy because your column is so widely read?"

CHERCHEZ LA FEMME

Recently a psychology instructor at Otterbein College sat in his classroom smoking a cigaret during his lecture.

Angrily this instructor denounced me as a "quack," though my textbook has already had over 1,000 college classroom adoptions right here in the U. S. A., not to mention many foreign countries.

It offers you intensely practical psychology and psychiatry in simple, understandable language.

And it cites actual office cases instead of far-fetched theories!

Thousands of you are thus making scrapbooks of this column for use in Sunday School teaching, or high school hygiene dental and other professional classes, as well as in medical, dental and other professional schools.

So why should some Liberal Arts college professors be so disdainful of the daily newspaper or sneer at its broad educational influence on mankind?

In his rage, he said "Anybody is a moron who thinks he can alter his personality by reading a book, or a newspaper column or sending for a newspaper booklet." (Apparently, he had never heard of the Bible!)

Yet over 25,000 mature, educated folks in the Columbus area had already sent for some of those same newspaper booklets!

And many had reported later by letter that they had salvaged their marriages from divorce or extroverted their own personalities so they were now happy, whereas they had formerly been despondent introverts.

This same professor was apparently a braintruster instead of a practical psychologist, for his wife had sued him for divorce.

And many of his own students had written to me via the local newspaper, for helpful advice because they said: "He is so theoretical that he ignores our everyday needs for applied psytheoretical that he ignores our everyday needs for applied psychology."

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Nixon Declines To State His Preferences

CHICAGO (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, declining to state his choice among contenders for the Republican presidential nomination, says he would accept if delegates selected him to break a convention deadlock.

The former vice president, however, said Sunday the race is between Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and that he doesn't see a "strong third force" that could deadlock the convention.

In a television interview on "Forum," a program broadcast locally in Chicago by station WBKB, Nixon said:

"In the event that the convention fails to find in any of the present candidates a man who can unite the party at the convention, and if the party leaders turned to me, then I would undertake the responsibility of the nomination and I would conduct an extensive campaign.

"That conclusion has not been reached, and I do not believe it will be. I think that one or the other (Goldwater or Scranton) will be the candidate."

If Goldwater is nominated, he said, "the Goldwater view on issues will be the mainstream of the Republican party for 1964."

He said he understood Goldwater has "modified or changed his views," and added: "He has a right to change his views. This country will allow people to do this. It takes a big man some times to change his opinion. We don't want a man who is rigid in his views."

Old Hollywood School Will Gradua*e 70

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Judy Garland first met Mickey Rooney in its classrooms. Betty Grable was a student, and so was Donald O'Connor. And so were Natalie Wood, Anita Louise, Connie Stevens, Jill St. John, Yvette Mimieux, Debra Paget, Tuesday Weld, Sue Lyon, and a flock of other Mouseketeers.

All of them and hundreds more have called Hollywood Professional School their alma mater during its 40 years at 5400 Hollywood Blvd. A new class of 70 seniors will be graduating tonight, but not all will be able to attend the ceremonies.

The student body president, former Mouseketeer Cubby O'Brian, won't be present to deliver his valedictory. He is opening with his band in Las Vegas tonight, an understudy is standing by to read his speech. Understudies are provided for all school functions—in case students get jobs and can't show up.

"We run an educational workshop," explains Bertha Mann, executive director. "We have no Mickey Mouse courses. Our students are drilled in fundamentals from 8:45 to 12:45 each morning. Those who have to work at studios in the morning can come for tutoring in the afternoon.

"We have no athletics, no cafeteria, no hotel or boarding department. We are strictly an academic day school."

The measure of its success: it was the only private school among 15 high schools in the Los Angeles area to be cited by the University of California for the high scholarship of former students.

Principal Mary Anderssen refuted the notion that child performers are not Phi Beta Kappa types.

"The professional child is extremely bright," said she. "Many of them are straight A students. They present no discipline problems. They want to project a good image of themselves."

Professionals comprise 20 per cent of the 420 students, would-be professionals another 40 per cent.

'We are very strict," declared Mrs. Mann. "The boys can't wear blue jeans or long haircuts and on Fridays they wear coats and ties. The girls aren't allowed excessive make-up or sleeveless dresses, and skirts must cover the knee. Tight sweaters? Absolutely not.

"The students go along with the rules. They're smart enough to know that directors are seeking that well-scrubbed look."

Argentine Labor Postpones Strike

The Peronist-dominated General Confederation of Labor announced the delay until June 28 after a five-hour Central Committee conference Monday night.

Antonio Cardinal Caggiano, head of the Roman Catholic Church in Argentina, took a personal hand in efforts to ease labor pressure on Illia's troubled government. The confederation is demanding higher wages and an end to political restrictions on the Peronists.

Emilio J. Hardoy, president of the political group which backed Illia's presidential campaign last year, said if the government did not act against the unions, it faced the threat of a military coup.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

KEATING-CUBA: Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., says the Soviet Union has stopped withdrawing its troops from Cuba in what may be an effort to "guard the missile sites or to protect the Cuban regime from its own enemies."

Keating, on a program recorded for radio and television in New York, estimated Sunday that between 4,000 and 7,000 Soviet troops remain in Cuba.

The New York Republican, who attracted attention in 1962 with his charges of a large Soviet missile buildup in Cuba, said also: "I have no evidence of new missiles or new types of missiles in Cuba today."

Keating said "there is mounting evidence of a new unrest among the Cuban people which worries (Cuban Prime Minister Fidel) Castro and his Communist cohorts."

GROWTH: The Population Reference Bureau, Inc., warns that population growth may force "rigid rationing of the use of national parks" as they become more crowded.

In a research report issued Sunday, the bureau noted that the one-billionth visitor to the national parks was recorded in Aug. 28, 1962—58 years after they were established. But the second billionth visitor is expected in 1973.

"A far more desirable alternative "to rationing the use of the national parks, the bureau said, "is to reduce the rate of population growth, leaving more room for those who require soul-storing communion with nature."

JOHNSON: President Johnson attended the National City Christian Church Sunday and, like most of his fellow-worshippers, used a church-provided paper fan to cool himself.

With the temperature at 90 and the weather humid, many men in the church took off their coats at the invitation of the minister. Johnson, Udall and Hodges kept theirs on.

OSTRICH ATTACK

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—An ostrich in South Africa's Addo National Park, a game preserve, was trapped. So he did what any self-respecting ostrich would do: he decided the best defense was a good offense and attacked.

The ostrich was trapped by a fence on his left, a row of bushes on his right and a closed gate behind him. In front of him a car was approaching.

He jumped onto the hood of the car and started pecking the windshield. When the motorist stopped the car, the ostrich slipped off, breaking the side mirror on the way. After thus damaging the car, the bird found a hole in the bushes and bounded off.

EDUCATIONAL BONFIRE

The host said the "don't-cry-over-spilt-hopes" party was not a requiem but students celebrating release from the uncertainty of not knowing whether they had been accepted by the colleges of their choice.

Since most senior students apply to several collegs, some guests contributed three or four rejections letters. Also, one boy who has accepted a four-year scholarship from one engineering school added a similar offer from another to the fire. The High School football captain, who will enter Dartmouth by invitation, dumped into the flames acceptances from Columbia, Brown, Colgate and Penn.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

Lorna tells about a very interesting "problem" professor. Try to decide why so many braintruster psychology teachers have a hysterical bias against this educational newspaper column. Is it jealousy, envy, or just the pinko braintruster's dislike of "horse sense" and sound Americanism? You be the jury.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

"Dr. Crane," she confided, "we had a woman teacher who

"In fact, one day she threatened that if any student ever brought in another copy of your column from the Indianapolis STAR, she'd give that student an 'F' for the course!

"And some of my friends at both Purdue and Indiana who are taking psychology, say that their professors often criticize you and even call you a quack.

"What motivates them to such ire? Is it just jealousy because your column is so widely read?"

CHERCHEZ LA FEMME

Recently a psychology instructor at Otterbein College sat in his classroom smoking a cigaret during his lecture.

Angrily this instructor denounced me as a "quack," though my textbook has already had over 1,000 college classroom adoptions right here in the U. S. A., not to mention many foreign countries.

It offers you intensely practical psychology and psychiatry in simple, understandable language.

And it cites actual office cases instead of far-fetched theories!

Thousands of you are thus making scrapbooks of this column for use in Sunday School teaching, or high school hygiene dental and other professional classes, as well as in medical, dental and other professional schools.

So why should some Liberal Arts college professors be so disdainful of the daily newspaper or sneer at its broad educational influence on mankind?

In his rage, he said "Anybody is a moron who thinks he can alter his personality by reading a book, or a newspaper column or sending for a newspaper booklet." (Apparently, he had never heard of the Bible!)

Yet over 25,000 mature, educated folks in the Columbus area had already sent for some of those same newspaper booklets!

And many had reported later by letter that they had salvaged their marriages from divorce or extroverted their own personalities so they were now happy, whereas they had formerly been despondent introverts.

This same professor was apparently a braintruster instead of a practical psychologist, for his wife had sued him for divorce.

And many of his own students had written to me via the local newspaper, for helpful advice because they said: "He is so theoretical that he ignores our everyday needs for applied psytheoretical that he ignores our everyday needs for applied psychology."

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Nixon Declines To State His Preferences

CHICAGO (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, declining to state his choice among contenders for the Republican presidential nomination, says he would accept if delegates selected him to break a convention deadlock.

The former vice president, however, said Sunday the race is between Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and that he doesn't see a "strong third force" that could deadlock the convention.

In a television interview on "Forum," a program broadcast locally in Chicago by station WBKB, Nixon said:

"In the event that the convention fails to find in any of the present candidates a man who can unite the party at the convention, and if the party leaders turned to me, then I would undertake the responsibility of the nomination and I would conduct an extensive campaign.

"That conclusion has not been reached, and I do not believe it will be. I think that one or the other (Goldwater or Scranton) will be the candidate."

If Goldwater is nominated, he said, "the Goldwater view on issues will be the mainstream of the Republican party for 1964."

He said he understood Goldwater has "modified or changed his views," and added: "He has a right to change his views. This country will allow people to do this. It takes a big man some times to change his opinion. We don't want a man who is rigid in his views."

Old Hollywood School Will Graduate 70

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Judy Garland first met Mickey Rooney in its classrooms. Betty Grable was a student, and so was Donald O'Connor. And so were Natalie Wood, Anita Louise, Connie Stevens, Jill St. John, Yvette Mimieux, Debra Paget, Tuesday Weld, Sue Lyon, and a flock of other Mouseketeers.

All of them and hundreds more have called Hollywood Professional School their alma mater during its 40 years at 5400 Hollywood Blvd. A new class of 70 seniors will be graduating tonight, but not all will be able to attend the ceremonies.

The student body president, former Mouseketeer Cubby O'Brian, won't be present to deliver his valedictory. He is opening with his band in Las Vegas tonight, an understudy is standing by to read his speech. Understudies are provided for all school functions—in case students get jobs and can't show up.

"We run an educational workshop," explains Bertha Mann, executive director. "We have no Mickey Mouse courses. Our students are drilled in fundamentals from 8:45 to 12:45 each morning. Those who have to work at studios in the morning can come for tutoring in the afternoon.

"We have no athletics, no cafeteria, no hotel or boarding department. We are strictly an academic day school."

The measure of its success: it was the only private school among 15 high schools in the Los Angeles area to be cited by the University of California for the high scholarship of former students.

Principal Mary Anderssen refuted the notion that child performers are not Phi Beta Kappa types.

"The professional child is extremely bright," said she. "Many of them are straight A students. They present no discipline problems. They want to project a good image of themselves."

Professionals comprise 20 per cent of the 420 students, would-be professionals another 40 per cent.

'We are very strict," declared Mrs. Mann. "The boys can't wear blue jeans or long haircuts and on Fridays they wear coats and ties. The girls aren't allowed excessive makeup or sleeveless dresses, and skirts must cover the knee. Tight sweaters? Absolutely not.

"The students go along with the rules. They're smart enough to know that directors are seeking that well-scrubbed look."

AUTOBAHN EXPANDS

NEW YORK (UPI) — It will be much easier for tourists to get around in Germany this summer because of the recent opening of new sections of autoban.

One new portion links Saarbruecken, capital of the Saar, with the West German network of superhighways. A section at Dortmund and the southern bypass near Aachen were completed. Another important leg finished was the branch between Halensee and Siemenstadt outside West Berlin.

Argentine Labor Postpones Strike

The Peronist-dominated General Confederation of Labor announced the delay until June 28 after a five-hour Central Committee conference Monday night.

Antonio Cardinal Caggiano, head of the Roman Catholic Church in Argentina, took a personal hand in efforts to ease labor pressure on Illia's troubled government. The confederation is demanding higher wages and an end to political restrictions on the Peronists.

Emilio J. Hardoy, president of the political group which backed Illia's presidential campaign last year, said if the government did not act against the unions, it faced the threat of a military coup.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

KEATING-CUBA: Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., says the Soviet Union has stopped withdrawing its troops from Cuba in what may be an effort to "guard the missile sites or to protect the Cuban regime from its own enemies."

Keating, on a program recorded for radio and television in New York, estimated Sunday that between 4,000 and 7,000 Soviet troops remain in Cuba.

The New York Republican, who attracted attention in 1962 with his charges of a large Soviet missile buildup in Cuba, said also: "I have no evidence of new missiles or new types of missiles in Cuba today."

Keating said "there is mounting evidence of a new unrest among the Cuban people which worries (Cuban Prime Minister Fidel) Castro and his Communist cohorts."

GROWTH: The Population Reference Bureau, Inc., warns that population growth may force "rigid rationing of the use of national parks" as they become more crowded.

In a research report issued Sunday, the bureau noted that the one-billionth visitor to the national parks was recorded in Aug. 28, 1962—58 years after they were established. But the second billionth visitor is expected in 1973.

"A far more desirable alternative "to rationing the use of the national parks, the bureau said, "is to reduce the rate of population growth, leaving more room for those who require soul-storing communion with nature."

JOHNSON: President Johnson attended the National City Christian Church Sunday and, like most of his fellow-worshippers, used a church-provided paper fan to cool himself.

With the temperature at 90 and the weather humid, many men in the church took off their coats at the invitation of the minister. Johnson, Udall and Hodges kept theirs on.

New Propaganda For Asia Urged By Eisenhower

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has called for an intense propaganda program in Southeast Asia and a "unity of view" between the United States and the South Vietnamese people.

Speaking Monday at a "party the Republican National Committee, Eisenhower said the war in South Viet Nam cannot be won "until we get morale in Viet Nam."

"We must inform these people. They must understand the advantage to get on our side," he said.

"When we get into any nation with turmoil and force is to be used from the outside, we must make certain of unity of view. There must be morale based on a clear understanding of fact."

Eisenhower told an audience of more than 1,000 that many Vietnamese do not know what freedom is. He said at times whole villages surrender at the sight of a few Communists.

The forum was the last in a series of six designed to guide the platform committee at the national convention in San Francisco.

Eisenhower also said U.S. alliances with other nations have been weakened because of "leadership methods and personalities."

"The United States must be a leader but must not attempt to be a boss," he said. "The whole purpose of cooperation should be stressed, and not domination."

Frozen orange juice concentrate is recognized as one of the most important advances in food processing during the last 20 years. It is now a $300 million a year business.

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advance picked up some extra steam early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Gains of most key stocks were limited to fractions. A few were up a point or so.

The trend was higher among rubbers, retails, chemicals, airlines, building materials and farm implements.

The cigarette stocks were soft; drugs, electronics and utilities mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.2 at 306.5 with industrials up 2.3, rails up .3 and utilities up .2.

Among the higher-priced issues, IBM gained more than 3, Xerox and Control Data about 2 apiece, U.S. Smelting 1.

Texas Gulf Sulphur traded about unchanged after erasing a small early gain.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly higher.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were steady to slightly higher.

Two Youths Save Companion From Drowning

PALISADE, Colo. (AP)—Two youths from Meeker saved a companion from possible drowning Monday after he was trapped in an overturned car in nine-foot-deep water.

The trapped occupant was Michael McCrarry, 16, of Meeker. State Patrol dispatcher Clyde Todechski said a car driven by William Standbridge, 22, skidded into a canal west of Palisade and overturned. Standridge and Donald Stewart, 17, escaped and then discovered that McCrarry was still in the car.

The two plunged into the water, broke a rear window with a rock and tugged McCrarry out. All were treated at a Grand Junction hospital for cuts and bruises.

Europeans Take Honors in River Race at Salida

SALIDA, Colo. (AP)—Europeans swept honors Sunday in the 26-mile Arkansas River race as 20,000 people lined the route from Salida to Cotopaxi.

Siegi Gunzenberger, 25, a municipal clerk at Rosenheim, Germany, finished first in the downriver race in which both rigid and canvas kayaks were used.

A Belgian surgeon, Dr. Marcel Beaujean of Liege, was second and Michael Neudecker, a Vienna architect, third.

Neudecker's boat overturned at Cottonwood Rapids three miles from the finish line, but he rolled it over and continued.

Tom Southworth, 20, State College, Pa., won the one-man canoe competition over the same route. Mr. and Mrs. Karel Novak of Prague, Czechoslavakia, won in mixed canoe and two Denver men, Glen Roberts and Jim Zacharias, won the two-man canoe race.

Twenty took part in the white water battle in which there were spills. Roger Paris of Mill Valley, Calif., who won in three previous years, snagged his boat on rocks.

Two former champions, Ted Makris and his brother, Dan, both of Salida, finished fourth and fifth, in that order Sunday. Ted won in 1961 and Dan last year.

American Stock Exchange

NEW YORK (AP)—Following is a complete list of stock and bond transactions today on the American Stock Exchange with 3:00 p.m. prices:

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advance picked up some extra steam early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Gains of most key stocks were limited to fractions. A few were up a point or so.

The trend was higher among rubbers, retails, chemicals, airlines, building materials and farm implements.

The cigarette stocks were soft; drugs, electronics and utilities mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.2 at 306.5 with industrials up 2.3, rails up .3 and utilities up .2.

Among the higher-priced issues, IBM gained more than 3, Xerox and Control Data about 2 apiece, U.S. Smelting 1.

Texas Gulf Sulphur traded about unchanged after erasing a small early gain.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly higher.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were steady to slightly higher.

Two Youths Save Companion From Drowning

PALISADE, Colo. (AP)—Two youths from Meeker saved a companion from possible drowning Monday after he was trapped in an overturned car in nine-foot-deep water.

The trapped occupant was Michael McCrarry, 16, of Meeker. State Patrol dispatcher Clyde Todechski said a car driven by William Standbridge, 22, skidded into a canal west of Palisade and overturned. Standridge and Donald Stewart, 17, escaped and then discovered that McCrarry was still in the car.

The two plunged into the water, broke a rear window with a rock and tugged McCrarry out. All were treated at a Grand Junction hospital for cuts and bruises.

Europeans Take Honors in River Race at Salida

SALIDA, Colo. (AP)—Europeans swept honors Sunday in the 26-mile Arkansas River race as 20,000 people lined the route from Salida to Cotopaxi.

Siegi Gunzenberger, 25, a municipal clerk at Rosenheim, Germany, finished first in the down-river race in which both rigid and canvas kayaks were used.

Neudecker's boat overturned at Cottonwood Rapids three miles from the finish line, but he rolled it over and continued.

Tom Southworth, 20, State College, Pa., won the one-man canoe competition over the same route. Mr. and Mrs. Karel Novak of Prague, Czechoslavakia, won in mixed canoe and two Denver men, Glen Roberts and Jim Zacharias, won the two-man canoe race.

New Propaganda For Asia Urged By Eisenhower

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has called for an intense propaganda program in Southeast Asia and a "unity of view" between the United States and the South Vietnamese people.

Speaking Monday at a "party the Republican National Committee, Eisenhower said the war in South Viet Nam cannot be won "until we get morale in Viet Nam."

"We must inform these people. They must understand the advantage to get on our side," he said.

"When we get into any nation with turmoil and force is to be used from the outside, we must make certain of unity of view. There must be morale based on a clear understanding of fact."

Eisenhower told an audience of more than 1,000 that many Vietnamese do not know what freedom is. He said at times whole villages surrender at the sight of a few Communists.

The forum was the last in a series of six designed to guide the platform committee at the national convention in San Francisco.

Eisenhower also said U.S. alliances with other nations have been weakened because of "leadership methods and personalities."

"The United States must be a leader but must not attempt to be a boss," he said. "The whole purpose of cooperation should be stressed, and not domination."

Coin Club To Hold Open House

The Colorado Springs Coin Club will hold open house at its regular semi-monthly meeting Wednesday evening 7:30 p.m. Carpenter's Hall, Cascade Avenue and Costilla Street.

The public is cordially invited and all coin collectors and their families on vacation in the Pikes Peak area are most welcome.

Club activities include refreshments, prizes, swapping and trading, bourse tables and always a good coin auction. A highlight of the auction will be a complete set of Morgan Silver Dollars (minus the 1895P) with almost all dollars in BU condition.

There will be a short discussion on the RCDA's first annual coin show held June 4-5-6-7 in Reno, Nevada.

In addition to the door prize of a 1961 proof set there will be two special awards, each will be a 1938D BU Jefferson nickel. Make plans to attend this Wednesday evening for a most enjoyable time.

Youth Arrested For Theft of Outboard Motor

A 17-year-old youth was arrested Monday night for the theft of an outboard motor in one of several theft cases under investigation by police this morning.

The youth had stolen the motor from a boat at the Larry Dummer's Auto and Marine lot, 1329 Fountain Creek Blvd. The youth admitted removing the $150 motor from the boat Saturday night and putting it in his yard. The motor was returned to the owner.

Thieves stole 95 gas caps from cars at three lots in the 700 block of E. Pikes Peak Ave. over the weekend. The total loss was $140. Victims of the thefts were the Owen Faricy Motor Co., Bob Foss Motors Inc., and Johnson Pontiac.

Two youths, one 16 and the other 17, were arrested Monday night after police on routine patrol saw them steal a battery from a car at the Wade Mullins lot at 14 S. Spruce St. Police watched the youths remove the battery from under the hood of the vehicle before making the arrest.

Bruce Downing, 1712 E. Cache La Poudre St., told police he was beaten by three men and robbed of $15 at Fuller's Bar-B-Que, 530 E. Pikes Peak Ave. Downing, 34, told officers he was sitting in his car with a friend early Monday morning when the three men, described as Negroes in their early 20s, came over to the car and demanded money. They beat him up before taking the $15, Downing said. Downing was treated for a cut above his eye, receiving seven stitches at St. Francis Hospital.

Police this morning were searching for two young boys suspected of having stolen two walkie-talkie radios worth $10 each from Stamp's TV Service, 1907 E. Cache La Poudre St. Victim of the theft is Elbert Leon Stamps. Police said the radios were missed after the two boys, both about 13, left the store Monday morning after browsing around.

Does Planning, Zoning Help or Hurt Little Guy?

By SAM CAMPBELL

Ask the little guy what he thinks of city planning and he will tell you that he's for it because it protects him.

Ask him how city control of everybody's property safeguards him, and he will tell you that, if we didn't have zoning laws, somebody might put a glue factory next to his house.

For the sake of a clear discussion, let us suppose that the zoning and planning laws did not exist. And under those conditions let us envision what might happen.

In such a situation, it is just possible that the glue factory or a nuisance in some kindred form might locate in a residential area. Under those circumstances, the relief of the residents would be to bring a civil suit against the company. Now comes the crucial question:

If a man's business is to make glue, why in the world would he ever put himself in a location to be pestered with litigation that subjects his company to management interruptions, bad public relations and potential monetary damage?

In other words, how probable is a glue factory in a residential neighborhood even in the absence of planning and zoning laws?

Upon the other hand, let us now take a look at what really happens under the planning and zoning laws that do exist.

In the City of Garden Grove — where this writer resides — there is a major street by the name of Magnolia. For years it was just 60 feet wide so the property owners along it build their homes with a reasonable setback. It so happened that more houses were built on the east side of the street than on the west side.

Then the planners got into the act. They discovered that Magnolia Avenue ought to be a 100 foot right of way. They wrote a precise plan to that effect. The plan went on the books.

Five years later, the planners took another look at the street from the intersection of Lampson Avenue south. They discovered that the proposed widening would set the curb against the houses on the east side of Magnolia.

To correct their first mistake, the Garden Grove planners have now passed on a plan that would move the center line of the street to the west. Thus the bulk of the widening — an additional 30 feet of right of way — would come at the expense of the property owners on the west side.

The westsiders are hurt and they are hollering.

Now the purpose of this presentation is not to quibble over where the center line of a street ought to be, but rather to submit to your judgment one further question.

The basic issue here is a choice between two systems. One system is founded on economic law that never changes. The application of that law to land use changes, but very little.

Driver Fined $200 in JP Court Monday

Dionisio E. Sarminto, 43, 2406 Ivanhoe Dr., Security, was fined $200 and costs in Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane's court Monday for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The defendant was arrested south of Colorado Springs by State Patrolman J. Fred Henderson May 29.

Almeta Williams, 53, 817 E. Las Animas St. was charged with having no operator's license June 1 and fined $6 and costs. Police Officer C. J. Cates ticketed her on Pikes Peak Avenue.

Having no registration for a trailer and no stop lights cost Larry James Gardner, 19, 1311 Royale Dr. $10 and costs. The violation happened Saturday on U. S. Highway 85-87 and the state patrolman was Ken Shiflet.

State Patrolman Al Smith gave a ticket to Richard D. Mitchell, 16, 2529 Fairview Circle for not complying with the inspection law and vioating the restrictions on his driver's license. The incident happened June 6 on U. S. Highway 85-87.

Smith also cited Deena Ann Welden, 18, 2505 Meadowlark Lane for speeding on East Fillmore Street June 6. According to the officer the defendant was driving at 45 miles per hour in a 30 zone.

Donald Douglas Larimore, 22, Ft. Carson was also charged with speeding and fined $15 and costs. State Patrolman Dan Morrissey told the court Larimore was driving at 70 miles per hour in a 60 zone on Colorado Highway 115 Sunday.

Robert Lionel Gagnon, 32, 118 E. Cucharras St. did not pay a $6 fine and costs for having no operator's license and was sent to County Jail. Police Officer H. Fryer gave him the ticket on East Cucharras Street June 5.

Daniel Dale Applegate got a ticket from J. Tagert of the police for trying to elude a police officer Saturday on East San Miguel Street. Applegate, 17, 2725 E. St. Vrain St., was fined $15 and costs.

James Wiley Leathers, 25, Ft. Carson, was charged with reckless driving and having an expired driver's license and fined $35 and costs. Deputy Sheriff Woodrow Littrell ticketed him on North Nevada Avenue.

Gary Joseph Ostrowski, 17, 926 Sunset Rd. was fined $6 and costs for having no operator's license when driving on San Miguel Street Thursday. The officer was John B. Clark of the police.

State Patrolman Paul H. Cornell ticketed Gerald Clarence Vogel, 17, 1224 Mount View Lane for careless driving on Lake Circle Drive Sunday. He was fined $10 and costs.

Roger Glenn Grahl, 17, 2616 South Blvd. paid a $20 fine with $10 suspended for having no inspection sticker and no registration. Police Officer Robert Hapke gave him the ticket on South 26th Street Thursday.

$30 Car Radio Stolen From Parked Vehicle

Ivan Jennings of the Poor Man's Car Lot, 1511 S. Nevada Ave., reported to the sheriff's department Monday that a car radio worth $30 had been stolen from one of the vehicles in his lot.

Jennings told Deputy Sheriff Larry Holien that the theft happened sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning.

Tax Cut Whets Congressional Appetites

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—First economic fruits of the federal income tax cut are whetting some congressional appetites for further tax revisions. Suggestions range from comparatively minor tax relief to adopting levies until now untried in this country.

The House Ways and Means Committee this week is studying what to do about excise taxes or several substitute levies, including the value-added tax on manufacturing. This European variant could replace the excise or sales tax or even lower the corporate income tax.

The administration is reported studying the possibility of greater use of income taxes as an economic weapon against any future recession.

The argument is that if cutting individual and corporate income taxes by some $11.5 billion a year is good for this year's economy, why wouldn't other tax reforms be just the right medicine for future economic upsets? The likely stumbling block is that the administration would like the power to raise or lower income tax rates quickly at any sign of trouble and Congress is loathe to give up its right to make any changes, and at its own pace.

The House later this week will get around to a more specific and present matter — the extension for another year of the present excise or sales taxes on cosmetics, jewelry, handbags, furs and the like. These war-time taxes have been on a year to year basis.

Since they bring in a fairly regular and dependable revenue, while income tax receipts swing widely with economic ups and downs, the excise taxes have strong supporters in Congress and the administration. And some would like to see more reliance on federal sales taxes and less on income taxes that may discourage investment.

One argument against this is that sales taxes should be left to the state and local governments. Another is that the levies penalize the industries whose products are singled out for the special taxation.

The newcomer to the debate this year is the European value-added tax. A sales or excise tax is based on the price at which a manufacturer sells his product, or on the price at which the ultimate consumer buys it from a store.

The value-added tax is based on the gross receipts or sales of the manufacturer minus the cost of goods or materials he purchased from others. The value he has added to these raw materials for the tax's purposes includes wages, salaries, rent, interest and profits.

The value-added tax is also paid by all the manufacturer's suppliers. Proponents stress that this puts the burden on all stages of production while the excise tax affects only the finished item. Also a low rate would bring in large sums to the Treasury.

Shooting Victim Reported in Fair Condition

A woman who accidentally shot herself in the abdomen with a 22 caliber revolver Monday afternoon was reported to be in "fair" condition this morning at Memorial Hospital.

Evelyn Joyce Scott, 704 N. Wahsatch Ave., was taken to the hospital by E and E Ambulance after her husband, Charles J. Scott, found her lying doubled up on the living room sofa.

Scott told officers he was cleaning the gun when he left the room for a moment, leaving the pistol on a table. While he was out of the room, Mrs. Scott picked up the gun and was handling it when it discharged, police said.

ALIGNMENT'S IMPORTANT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Driving a car with wheels only one degree out of alignment can cause tires to wear out seven times faster than they would if aligned properly, according to Tyrex Inc., the association of rayon tire cord producers. If alignment is two degrees off, the rate of wear can jump 50 times.

There will be a short discussion on the RCDA's first annual coin show held June 4-5-6-7 in Reno, Nevada.

In addition to the door prize of a 1961 proof set there will be two special awards, each will be a 1938D BU Jefferson nickel. Make plans to attend this Wednesday evening for a most enjoyable time.

Youth Arrested For Theft of Outboard Motor

A 17-year-old youth was arrested Monday night for the theft of an outboard motor in one of several theft cases under investigation by police this morning.

The youth had stolen the motor from a boat at the Larry Dummer's Auto and Marine lot, 1329 Fountain Creek Blvd. The youth admitted removing the $150 motor from the boat Saturday night and putting it in his yard. The motor was returned to the owner.

Thieves stole 95 gas caps from cars at three lots in the 700 block of E. Pikes Peak Ave. over the weekend. The total loss was $140. Victims of the thefts were the Owen Faricy Motor Co., Bob Foss Motors Inc., and Johnson Pontiac.

Two youths, one 16 and the other 17, were arrested Monday night after police on routine patrol saw them steal a battery from a car at the Wade Mullins lot at 14 S. Spruce St. Police watched the youths remove the battery from under the hood of the vehicle before making the arrest.

Bruce Downing, 1712 E. Cache La Poudre St., told police he was beaten by three men and robbed of $15 at Fuller's Bar-B-Que, 530 E. Pikes Peak Ave. Downing, 34, told officers he was sitting in his car with a friend early Monday morning when the three men, described as Negroes in their early 20s, came over to the car and demanded money. They beat him up before taking the $15, Downing said. Downing was treated for a cut above his eye, receiving seven stitches at St. Francis Hospital.

Police this morning were searching for two young boys suspected of having stolen two walkie - talkie radios worth $10 each from Stamp's TV Service, 1907 E. Cache La Poudre St. Victim of the theft is Elbert Leon Stamps. Police said the radios were missed after the two boys, both about 13, left the store Monday morning after browsing around.

Everybody's Business

Does Planning, Zoning Help or Hurt Little Guy?

By SAM CAMPBELL

A current planning case in Garden Grove shows how the planning and zoning laws affect the little fellow.

Ask the little guy what he thinks of city planning and he will tell you that he's for it because it protects him.

Ask him how city control of everybody's property safeguards him, and he will tell you that, if we didn't have zoning laws, somebody might put a glue factory next to his house.

For the sake of a clear discussion, let us suppose that the zoning and planning laws did not exist. And under those conditions let us envision what might happen.

In such a situation, it is just possible that the glue factory or a nuisance in some kindred form might locate in a residential area. Under those circumstances, the relief of the residents would be to bring a civil suit against the company. Now comes the crucial question:

If a man's business is to make glue, why in the world would he ever put himself in a location to be pestered with litigation that subjects his company to management interruptions, bad public relations and potential monetary damage?

In other words, how probable is a glue factory in a residential neighborhood even in the absence of planning and zoning laws?

Upon the other hand, let us now take a look at what really happens under the planning and zoning laws that do exist.

In the City of Garden Grove — where this writer resides — there is a major street by the name of Magnolia. For years it was just 60 feet wide so the property owners along it build their homes with a reasonable setback. It so happened that more houses were built on the east side of the street than on the west side.

Then the planners got into the act. They discovered that Magnolia Avenue ought to be a 100 foot right of way. They wrote a precise plan to that effect. The plan went on the books.

Five years later, the planners took another look at the street from the intersection of Lampson Avenue south. They discovered that the proposed widening would set the curb against the houses on the east side of Magnolia.

To correct their first mistake, the Garden Grove planners have now passed on a plan that would move the center line of the street to the west. Thus the bulk of the widening — an additional 30 feet of right of way — would come at the expense of the property owners on the west side.

The westsiders are hurt and they are hollering.

Now the purpose of this presentation is not to quibble over where the center line of a street ought to be, but rather to submit to your judgment one further question.

The basic issue here is a choice between two systems. One system is founded on economic law that never changes. The application of that law to land use changes, but very little.

Driver Fined $200 in JP Court Monday

Dionisio E. Sarminto, 43, 2406 Ivanhoe Dr., Security, was fined $200 and costs in Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane's court Monday for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The defendant was arrested south of Colorado Springs by State Patrolman J. Fred Henderson May 29.

Almeta Williams, 53, 817 E. Las Animas St. was charged with having no operator's license June 1 and fined $6 and costs. Police Officer C. J. Cates ticketed her on Pikes Peak Avenue.

Having no registration for a trailer and no stop lights cost Larry James Gardner, 19, 1311 Royale Dr. $10 and costs. The violation happened Saturday on U. S. Highway 85-87 and the state patrolman was Ken Shiflet.

State Patrolman Al Smith gave a ticket to Richard D. Mitchell, 16, 2529 Fairview Circle for not complying with the inspection law and vioating the restrictions on his driver's license. The incident happened June 6 on U. S. Highway 85-87.

Smith also cited Deena Ann Welden, 18, 2505 Meadowlark Lane for speeding on East Fillmore Street June 6. According to the officer the defendant was driving at 45 miles per hour in a 30 zone.

Donald Douglas Larimore, 22, Ft. Carson was also charged with speeding and fined $15 and costs. State Patrolman Dan Morrissey told the court Larimore was driving at 70 miles per hour in a 60 zone on Colorado Highway 115 Sunday.

Robert Lionel Gagnon, 32, 118 E. Cucharras St. did not pay a $6 fine and costs for having no operator's license and was sent to County Jail. Police Officer H. Fryer gave him the ticket on East Cucharras Street June 5.

Daniel Dale Applegate got a ticket from J. Tagert of the police for trying to elude a police officer Saturday on East San Miguel Street. Applegate, 17, 2725 E. St. Vrain St., was fined $15 and costs.

James Wiley Leathers, 25, Ft. Carson, was charged with reckless driving and having an expired driver's license and fined $35 and costs. Deputy Sheriff Woodrow Littrell ticketed him on North Nevada Avenue.

Gary Joseph Ostrowski, 17, 926 Sunset Rd. was fined $6 and costs for having no operator's license when driving on San Miguel Street Thursday. The officer was John B. Clark of the police.

State Patrolman Paul H. Cornell ticketed Gerald Clarence Vogel, 17, 1224 Mount View Lane for careless driving on Lake Circle Drive Sunday. He was fined $10 and costs.

Roger Glenn Grahl, 17, 2616 South Blvd. paid a $20 fine with $10 suspended for having no inspection sticker and no registration. Police Officer Robert Hapke gave him the ticket on South 26th Street Thursday.

$30 Car Radio Stolen From Parked Vehicle

Ivan Jennings of the Poor Man's Car Lot, 1511 S. Nevada Ave., reported to the sheriff's department Monday that a car radio worth $30 had been stolen from one of the vehicles in his lot.

Jennings told Deputy Sheriff Larry Holien that the theft happened sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning.

Tax Cut Whets Congressional Appetites

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—First economic fruits of the federal income tax cut are whetting some congressional appetites for further tax revisions. Suggestions range from comparatively minor tax relief to adopting levies until now untried in this country.

The House Ways and Means Committee this week is studying what to do about excise taxes or several substitute levies, including the value-added tax on manufacturing. This European variant could replace the excise or sales tax or even lower the corporate income tax.

The administration is reported studying the possibility of greater use of income taxes as an economic weapon against any future recession.

The argument is that if cutting individual and corporate income taxes by some $11.5 billion a year is good for this year's economy, why wouldn't other tax reforms be just the right medicine for future economic upsets? The likely stumbling block is that the administration would like the power to raise or lower income tax rates quickly at any sign of trouble and Congress is loathe to give up its right to make any changes, and at its own pace.

The House later this week will get around to a more specific and present matter — the extension for another year of the present excise or sales taxes on cosmetics, jewelry, handbags, furs and the like. These war-time taxes have been on a year to year basis.

Since they bring in a fairly regular and dependable revenue, while income tax receipts swing widely with economic ups and downs, the excise taxes have strong supporters in Congress and the administration. And some would like to see more reliance on federal sales taxes and less on income taxes that may discourage investment.

One argument against this is that sales taxes should be left to the state and local governments. Another is that the levies penalize the industries whose products are singled out for the special taxation.

The newcomer to the debate this year is the European value-added tax. A sales or excise tax is based on the price at which a manufacturer sells his product, or on the price at which the ultimate consumer buys it from a store.

The value-added tax is based on the gross receipts or sales of the manufacturer minus the cost of goods or materials he purchased from others. The value he has added to these raw materials for the tax's purposes includes wages, salaries, rent, interest and profits.

The value-added tax is also paid by all the manufacturer's suppliers. Proponents stress that this puts the burden on all stages of production while the excise tax affects only the finished item. Also a low rate would bring in large sums to the Treasury.

Shooting Victim Reported in Fair Condition

A woman who accidentally shot herself in the abdomen with a .22 caliber revolver Monday afternoon was reported to be in "fair" condition this morning at Memorial Hospital.

Evelyn Joyce Scott, 704 N. Wahsatch Ave., was taken to the hospital by E and E Ambulance after her husband, Charles J. Scott, found her lying doubled up on the living room sofa.

Scott told officers he was cleaning the gun when he left the room for a moment, leaving the pistol on a table. While he was out of the room, Mrs. Scott picked up the gun and was handling it when it discharged, police said.

ALIGNMENT'S IMPORTANT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Driving a car with wheels only one degree out of alignment can cause tires to wear out seven times faster than they would if aligned properly, according to Tyrex Inc., the association of rayon tire cord producers. If alignment is two degrees off, the rate of wear can jump 50 times.

Trade Conference Is Planned in U.N.

GENEVA (AP)—A new and smaller U.N. Trade and Development Conference, to be a permanent organ of the United Nations, has been recommended to tackle economic problems of underdeveloped nations.

The present conference of 122 nations, now drawing to a close, has failed to produce a significant achievement in its three months of meetings. Agreement for a smaller conference of up to 55 nations was seen as a face-saving device to cover the conference's failure.

Compromise efforts which would have allowed the Western industrial group to join in a proposed new U.N. Trade and Development Board were rejected by the majority group of 75 underdeveloped nations.

They refused to accept a weighted voting system designed to safeguard Western nations from being automatically outvoted on all issues.

Catholics Stage Viet Demonstration

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—An estimated 16,000 Catholics staged orderly demonstrations in the central Viet Nam cities of Danang and Hue Sunday, charging persecution of Catholics in their area.

Unarmed police and gendarmes patroled the demonstrations and no violence was reported.

Unlike a Catholic demonstration in Saigon the Sunday before, no anti-American or anti-government banners were displayed.

How about YOUR life insurance.

The 50's bring new dimensions to life and to a man's need for life insurance. The children have grown up, retirement is not far away and the tax people are getting interested in your estate.

You need a lifetime income for your wife—a requirement that is emphasized by the life expectancy tables and the three out of five chance that wives will outlive their husbands.

A surprising number of people have taxable estates these days, thanks to inflated values. Estate taxes could be a thorny problem for your heirs and may require the sale of irreplaceable assets.

Age 65 for most men brings retirement—years that can be a rich and satisfying experience if you have enough income.

The ideal solution to all these problems is Life Insurance, guaranteeing immediate cash or lifetime income depending on the need. Talk to the Man from Manufacturers. You'll find him especially helpful in measuring your present insurance against these "new dimensions" after 50.

London Is Still Center of Men's Fashion Industry

By WALTER LOGAN

LONDON (UPI) — London, if you'll pardon the expression, is still the Paris of the men's wear industry.

American manufacturers occasionally poke fun at some of the advanced styling ideas introduced in London but in a year or two the better designs make their way across the Atlantic, especially in the field of suits, outer coats, shirts and shoes.

A case in point is the popularity of the striped shirt which was the rage in London two years ago and now is one of the biggest sellers in America. Another is the slightly fitted jack- with deep vents and slashed pockets which is being promoted in many U.S. stores for Fall.

There is a heavy emphasis on new fashion designs in British woolen textiles to meet the competition of lower priced textiles from Japan and to create a demand in countries with high tariffs.

D. A. Robinson, continental promotion manager for the National Wool Textile Export Corporation, reports the big European trend now is for a twist fabric in which two different colored yarns are twisted together to give variations in color.

Robinson reports a general leveling out of men's fashions in Europe, probably because of the Common Market influence, with Italians and Germans now dressing much alike and quite often reflecting London's Savile Row influence in styles.

"I couldn't think of anything more different than Italian or German tastes but in each case they like the gray effect from black and white, twist or checks, small stripes, checks or hounds tooth," he said. "Black and white is the single most outstanding thing on the continent both in business and sports wear."

The Savile Row tailors also are emphasizing new textile designs. One, Louis Stanbury, reports red and blue blends popular for Fall with the younger clients and says light brown with blue or red overchecks will be worn by bolder spirits.

Anthony Holland of Holland and Sherry Ltd., London woolen merchants, reported a trend toward lighter shades and colors and said: "Designs, too, tend to be classical and simple of small checks and stripes. The fashion for complicated designs has finished."

Also new from Savile Row was a "tonal suit" in three shades of gray. The jacket and trousers were both in double twill wool weave but the jacket was dark gray and the trousers medium gray. The double-breasted vest was in pearl gray twill.

The innovation most likely to catch on with Americans was from Chester Barrie — a completely natural shoulder suit. Ivy League styles have a minimum of padding, his had none at all. The suit had a slight body tracing.

Some other trends: Teen-agers were wearing collarless jackets, Beatle style. Some shops reported increased interest in belted Norfolk jackets. Other shops reported new interest in Sherlock Holmes - style tweed capes with red lining.

Some of the youngsters were wearing Eton type collars with their collarless jackets but the main emphasis on shirts was a very wide spread collar both in pastel colors and in medium dark tones, some with fly fronts, some with a rolling spread collar. In shoes there was a return to a squared off toe in many lines with teen-agers going in for what looks like old-fashioned gaiters or brushed pigskin boots. Some shops showed go-to-hell hats which had a sharply upturned brim at the back and a rakish slant in front. And almost everyone showed James Bond type trenchcoats.

Walker's Libel Suit Against AP Continues

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Trial of former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker's $2-million libel suit against The Associated Press resumes today before Dist. Judge Charles Murray.

At the weekend recess Friday, the plaintiff's case was near an end. When Walker's attorneys rest, the AP is expected to make motions for dismissal of the complaint. Failing these, defense testimony will be offered to the jury of four women and eight men chosen June 8.

Walker, 54, contends he was libeled by AP stories that he led a charge of students against U.S. marshals during the Sept. 30, 1962, desegregation riots at the University of Mississippi. Two men were killed during a crisis over the admission to Ole Miss of Negro James Meredith.

During three days on the witness stand last week, Walker testified he came from his home in Dallas merely to see what was going on at the Oxford, Miss. campus. He said he never approached within harassing distance of the marshals, and that he attempted in a speech to dissuade rioting students from violence.

In cross-examination, AP counsel sought to show that Walker interjected himself into an explosive situation, although aware of federal court orders that Meredith's integration into the university was not to be interfered with.

There was testimony also that before he went to Oxford, Walker sought to rally segregationists, with a broadcast plea to "bring your flag, your tent and your skillet, 10,000 strong, from every state in the union."

The cheetah, fastest animal on land, once ranged across Asia to India, but today it is almost extinct there.

Hydroplanes Will Compete

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press International

The 1964 racing schedule for unlimited hydroplanes gets underway June 21 when an expected 20 of the big, high-powered boats will fight it out for the Dixie Cup at Lake Guntersville, Ala.

The top event of this year's 10 races—the Gold Cup—will follow July 5, and for the second straight year will be held at Detroit, which is offering $40,000 in prize money.

Other events on the 1964 schedule include the Buffalo Regatta, Buffalo, N.Y., July 12; Dakota Cup, Garrison Reservoir, N.D., July 25-26; Diamond Cup, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, Aug. 1-2; Seafair Regatta, Seattle, Wash., Aug. 9; Indiana Governor's Cup, Madison, Ind., Sept. 6; President's Cup, Washington, D.C., Sept. 13; Harrah's Cup, Lake Tahoe, Nev., Sept. 27, and the Mission Bay Regatta, San Diego, Calif., Oct. 3.

The "unlimited" class of hydroplane competition, incidentally, is the big league of power boat racing—and it is strictly no place for an amateur driver.

These boats, which must weigh at least 5,000 pounds and are 25 to 40 feet long, carry engines unlimited in cubic inches or horsepower that send them flashing over the three-mile, oval race course at speeds better than 180 miles per hour.

Almost all of these "U-Hydros" use big 12 cylinder, V-type airplane engines, most of which are surplus from World War II fighter planes, such as Rolls Royce Merlins and the Allisons that were used in P51 Mustangs and Mosquito fighter-bombers.

A number of changes are necessary to fit these engines into the U-Hydros. These include internal modifications which — on a Rolls, for example — provide between 1,000 to 1,500 more horsepower than the 2,200 originally specified for the engine.

At full speed, the propeller-driven U-Hydro is almost airborne, touching the water only on the edges of its two pontoon-like sponsons and on the bottom half of its propeller.

The hulls are designed so that air pressure on top of the front deck will keep the boat down while the air pressure on the bottom will lift. On an improperly designed boat — say one with insufficient deck pressure —the craft will "kite," or sail into the air and possibly flip.

At racing speeds, the boat's propeller throws a huge spray of water some 40 feet into the air and some 75 yards out behind. This is called the "rooster-tail." Trailing drivers must watch out for this wall of water which could easily drown out an uncovered engine.

Unlimited hydroplane racing in this country is sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association. Official courses are ovals, usually three statute miles around, and each race—except the Gold Cup—consists of three heats of five laps each or a total of 45 miles. The Gold Cup is four heats, or 60 miles.

A National Champion is determined each year on the basis of points accumulated in all events during the racing season.

The 1963 National Champion was Miss Bardahl, from Seattle, which included the coveted Gold Cup among her trophies. Ron Musson, beginning his fourth year as pilot of Miss Bardahl, reports that the big green craft has undergone a number of hull and engine modifications during the off season and is ready for "our best season yet."

Sheriff Is Informed House Was Stolen

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — "My house has been stolen," an indignant caller told the Genesee County sheriff's office here.

Not only was the 24-by-24 foot home gone, but so was its foundation. And the septic tank and property had been graded over.

Ray said he last visited the place two weeks ago.

A number of changes are necessary to fit these engines into the U-Hydros. These include internal modifications which — on a Rolls, for example — provide between 1,000 to 1,500 more horsepower than the 2,200 originally specified for the engine.

At full speed, the propeller-driven U-Hydro is almost airborne, touching the water only on the edges of its two pontoon-like sponsons and on the bottom half of its propeller.

The hulls are designed so that air pressure on top of the front deck will keep the boat down while the air pressure on the bottom will lift. On an improperly designed boat — say one with insufficient deck pressure —the craft will "kite," or sail into the air and possibly flip.

At racing speeds, the boat's propeller throws a huge spray of water some 40 feet into the air and some 75 yards out behind. This is called the "roostertail." Trailing drivers must watch out for this wall of water which could easily drown out an uncovered engine.

Unlimited hydroplane racing in this country is sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association. Official courses are ovals, usually three statute miles around, and each race—except the Gold Cup—consists of three heats of five laps each or a total of 45 miles. The Gold Cup is four heats, or 60 miles.

A National Champion is determined each year on the basis of points accumulated in all events during the racing season.

The 1963 National Champion was Miss Bardahl, from Seattle, which included the coveted Gold Cup among her trophies. Ron Musson, beginning his fourth year as pilot of Miss Bardahl, reports that the big green craft has undergone a number of hull and engine modifications during the off season and is ready for "our best season yet."

Sheriff Is Informed House Was Stolen

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — "My house has been stolen," an indignant caller told the Genesee County sheriff's office here.

Not only was the 24-by-24 foot home gone, but so was its foundation. And the septic tank and property had been graded over.

Ray said he last visited the place two weeks ago.

DOGGED LIFE

GRAND SALINE, Tex. (UPI) —One of the first jobs a postman has is learning to cope with the dogs on his route.

The only city mail carrier in the northeast Texas town of Grand Saline, however, is a woman. Mrs. Jarrell Matthews, who recently won the job in a civil service examination, admits being afraid of dogs.

"Perhaps dogs will like women postmen better than men," she said.

Local Methodist Church Pastors Are Appointed

Climaxing the 102nd session of the Rocky Mountain Methodist Annual Conference at Denver was the appointing of the ministers to churches for the next year. Bishop Glenn R. Phillips made the following appointments in Colorado Springs:

Aldersgate, Harold T. Urton; East, Harold C. Knudsen, pastor and Donald Forbes, associate pastor; First Church, Ben F. Lehmberg, pastor, LeRoy Arend, minister of visitation, Philip L. Green, minister of outreach, Donald K. Bleyle, youth worker; People's, Thomas, R. Durr; St. Paul, James M. Calhoun; Stratmoor Hills, Richard I. Peterson; Trinity, Sigurd E. Burch, Jr.

Conference highlights included the adoption of a four year program with an emphasis upon the improvement of the program for the local church and inauguration of a development program which will see a number of conference agencies strengthened financially.

The 1964 Methodist Annual Conference saw the membership in this three state area increased to 114,073. Church School average attendance increased by over 1,000, the value of church property by over $3,000,000. It was noted that Methodists contributed in excess of $1,000,000 to the on going program of Methodism beyond the local church including a World Mission program.

Dr. Randall C. Phillips, pastor of Wilshire Methodist Church, Hollywood, Calif., and only son of Bishop and Mrs. Phillips, was the conference speaker. Other highlights included a centennial observance of the University of Denver, a Methodist related institution, the ordination of new ministers, and a special dinner and program honoring the retiring Bishop.

CSU Husbandman To Hold Clinic On Horsemanship

Bill Culbertson, extension animal husbandman from Colorado State University, will conduct a horsemanship clinic at the Royal Gorge Rodeo Grounds in Canon City, today at 7:30 p.m. He has been with the Extension Service since 1949 when he was assistant extension agent at Montrose.

He later became County Extension Agent at Steamboat Springs and then at Montrose. On July 1, 1960, he joined the on campus staff at CSU, where he is presently employed.

The clinic is open to any 4-H leader or member, to parents and the public, in the counties of Chaffee, Park, Teller, El Paso, Pueblo, Huerfano, Fremont and Custer. The clinic scheduled for Westcliffe today at 1 p.m. had to be cancelled indefinitely, due to an all day district REA meeting being held at Westcliffe the same day. Another session will be scheduled.

The material to be covered by Culbertson will be demonstration on halter showing standards; demonstration and explanation of the mounting, dismounting and riding positions; a riding class as in a horsemanship or equitation class, and special events.

The clinic is expected to last about two hours. Those attending should not take horses and equipment to the clinic.

Improvement Society To Meet Thursday

The June meeting of the Prospect Lake Improvement Society will be held Thursday, at the Memorial Park Pavilion.

There will be a covered dish supper at 6:30 p.m., Ray Curtis, president, will preside at a short business meeting.

Paul Kleinschmidt Signs for 13th Hill Climb Try

Veteran race driver Paul Kleinschmidt, a local garage owner and last year's runner-up to perennial championship division kingpin Bobby Unser, today inked for his 13th appearance in the Pikes Peak Auto Hill Climb.

Only Louis Unser, "The Old Man of the Mountain," has entered more Hill Climbs than Kleinschmidt. Uncle Louie has appeared in 32, scoring nine victories, the all-time high.

Kleinschmidt, who lives in Woodland Park, with the help of his partner, Dale Brinkmeier, co-owner of Dale and Paul Auto Service, has re-built his runner-up Coor's Special of last year. The Cadillac powered car, despite increasing the wheel base from 84 to 96 inches because of the new rule which calls for all championship cars to have the same wheel base as the Indianapolis cars, will be over 100 pounds lighter.

Paul feels that he can better his all-time best of 13:12.5 set last year in finishing second because his new Coor's Special will carry less weight and more horsepower as well as having a newly designed tire which will give more traction.

Kleinschmidt made his racing debut in 1947, but did not make his rookie appearance on the "Hill" until 1952. Since that time his record on the 14,110 foot mountain shows a second; three fourths; a fifth and a seventh. The Hill Climb is his only racing appearance each year. He has had the same sponsor for 17 years.

The Hill Climb and the beating of the Unsers, Bobby and Al, present a big challenge to the 38-year-old veteran.

Paul and his wife Mary have three daughters, Anna, 15; Georgia, 13; and Mary Lou, 7½.

Japanese Officer Visits NORAD For Meetings

Maj. Gen. Jiso Yamaguichi, chief of the Base Air Defense Ground Environment Program for the Japan Self Defense Force, arrived in Colorado Springs on Sunday afternoon.

The Japanese official will be in the Colorado Springs area until Wednesday morning when he will depart for Syracuse, New York.

Tuesday morning he will visit the North American Air Defense Command headquarters for a series of meetings with the staff of Gen. John K. Gerhart, the NORAD commander in chief.

Air Force Chief Of Argentine Arrives Here

Brig. Carlos Armanini, commander in chief of the Argentina Air Force, arrived in Colorado Springs today at 10:40 a.m.

Wednesday morning the Argentine military official will be accorded military honors at North American Air Defense Command headquarters.

Lt. General Herbert B. Thatcher, NORAD's U. S. Air Defense Command component commander, will stand in for Gen. John K. Gerhart, NORAD commander in chief, during the Canadian-United States honors.

Immediately following the ceremony, the Argentine Air Force chief will meet with NORAD officials and will watch the NORAD system in operation from the combat operations center at the Boulder Street headquarters.

A 12 a.m. departure from Peterson Field for Randolph Air Force Base, Texas, is scheduled for Wednesday.

Social highlight of the visit will be a dinner Tuesday evening which will be hosted by Lieutenant General and Mrs. Herbert B. Thatcher at the Ent AFB Skyline Club.

Tuesday the group will visit the Air Force Academy.

Deadly Weapon Assault Charges Filed Monday

Two charges of assault with a deadly weapon were filed in District Court Monday against Joseph Echols, 46, 719 Rio Grande St.

The first count alleges he shot Theodore Williams, no age or address given, and the second accuses him of shooting Eddie Lee Rucker, 42, 606 N. Spruce St. Sunday.

According to a police report an argument developed at the home of the defendant and in the ensuing scuffle Rucker was accidentally shot in the chest by Echols who intended to shoot Williams. One bullet entered Rucker's chest, but the wound was described as not serious by the police. Williams was shot in the wrist.

Judge Hunter D. Hardeman set bond at $2,500.

Another defendant, Kaffie Henry Powell Jr., 19, 807 E. Costilla St. had a charge of burglary filed against him.

He is accused of breaking into the Amstan Supply, a division of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp. 425 S. Wahsatch St. June 3.

Bond was fixed at $1,500 by Judge Hardeman.

Canon City Man Promoted to Full Colonel

Maurice S. Thomas, 1316 Logan St., Canon City, was promoted effective today to rank of full colonel in the Air Force Reserve. Col. Thomas is the Commander of the local Air Reserve Unit at the Pueblo Memorial Airport. He has been commander of the unit since September, 1961.

Prior to assuming command of the Pueblo unit, Col. Thomas commanded an Air Reserve Flight in Canon City. Most recently in August, 1963, he participated in an Air Force Chief of Staff Overseas Staff Visit to Europe.

At the Pueblo Memorial Airport he was responsible for creating the Annual Fly - in Brea-k fast which was conducted in 1962 and again in 1963.

Harrison School District To Have Same Tax Rate

The Harrison School District No. 2, will have the same property tax rate next year as this.

The board of directors Monday night at the regular June meeting adopted a budget for the 1964-65 school year that calls for a mill levy on taxable property for the special fund of 24.01 mills, the same as last year.

Additionally, the board decided to keep the same mill levy for bonds and interest — 12.09 mills.

The two levies, both against property in the district, total 36.10 mills.

Business Manager Frank Rocchio, in submitting the budget, estimated the assessed valuation of the district at $11 million. He said that some people had suggested that the valuation might be as high as $11.5 million, but that he did not think that much new property would be on the books for the coming tax year.

The budget set an estimated expenditure total of $1,027,210, and a total income of $1,046,580.

The budget for the current year is $903,916 with the total expected revenue to be some over $1 million.

The budget was adopted unanimously with Chairman Don Giberson and members Merle Gililland and Gordon Lockyear present.

The new budget is scheduled to take care of more students than the district had last year, although the size of the increase is not known at this time.

The special fund budget does not pay for building new schools, or for building additions to new schools.

The 24.01 is $24.01 on every $1,000 of assessed valuation of property, which, according to state law is to be assessed at 30 per cent of its real value. Thus, a house with a real value of $10,000 and assessed at $3,000 will be taxed $72.03 for operations of schools in the district next year.

Building projects are paid for by bond issues, and thus financed through the 12.09 mill levy set for that purpose.

The board set bid openings for two additions on Aug. 11. Those two additions are to be built on the Startmoor Hills Elementary School and the Stratton Meadows Elementary School.

It also gave final approval for plans for the new elementary school to be built in the Pikes Peak Park addition, and named the school the "Pikes Peak Elementary School."

The new school is expected to cost about $450,000, with work scheduled to start sometime this fall after school has begun, and delivery of the building to follow sometime in the spring.

Plans for the building now must go to the HHFA, a federal agency, for approval, as the district expects to get federal money to help pay for the school.

By unanimous vote, the board voted that the district will not offer transportation to any kindergarten students this coming year — neither to school nor home after school. This is a reversal of past policy and was adopted in a move for economy after Superintendent Norton Gorman told the board that state school laws do not require kindergarten attendance.

Rocchio also reported that the district will have a balance of about $135,000 at the end of this month as a start on the new fiscal year.

This is an increase over past years when in 1963 the total left over was $114,000 and in 1962 it was $59,000, he said.

At the end of May, expenditures for the fiscal year had totaled $792,937.93.

"That figure is lower than we first projected, and I feel sure we will come in at the end of this year with about $135,000 to begin next year with," he said. Giberson commended Rocchio and Gorman for the frugal administration.

Candidates Are Scheduled to Speak Thursday

Fourth Judicial District Republican candidates are scheduled to speak Thursday at a 7:30 p.m. June Republican meeting in the Hackney House, open to the public.

Eight persons from Colorado Springs are seeking nomination for openings in five offices. Three will be eliminated in the primary election Sept. 8. The winners will run against Democratic candidates for the offices.

Offices and Candidates are:

District Court Judge — Pat Hinton, present District Attorney; Charles Simon, present county court judge; and James F. Quine Jr., presently a justice of the peace.

County Court Judge — Jack Roeser, presently on the district attorney's staff; Robert E. Cole, local attorney; and Albert Nelson, attorney in the legal aid office.

Hinton Warns Of Illegal Fireworks Sale

With July 4 approaching, District Attorney Pat Hinton has once again reminded the public that the sale of explosive fireworks is illegal.

The statute governing the law will be "strictly interpreted and enforced by our office," the attorney said Monday.

The only exceptions are toy pistols, sparklers or torches which do not contain explosive charges or other devices in which paper caps are used.

Permits for the sale of these exceptions may be obtained from the city clerk's office or the building inspector's office.

Firemen Called To Attic Blaze

The Colorado Springs Fire Department extinguished an attic blaze Monday at 2718 W. Colorado Ave. Engines 3 and 5, directed by Batt. Chief Bernard Bailey, answered the 1:35 p.m. alarm.

Firemen said that damage was confined to papers in the attic.

At 7:59 p.m. Engine 5 made a run to 2818 W. Bijou. It was burning trash and there was no damage.

Carl P. Miller Funeral Rites Set Wednesday

Mr. Miller died suddenly at his home in Englewood on Saturday.

Born Mar. 9, 1888 in Defiance urday.

Born Mar. 9, 1888 in Defiance Ohio, the millers had made their home in Englewood since Dec. 1963.

For the past nine years they have spent their summer months at the home of Dr. Miller in Colorado Springs.

He was a member of the National Association of Letter Carriers and had served as a letter carrier in Bowling Green for 36 years prior to his retirement and move to Englewood.

He is survived by his wife Laura, and three sons, Dr. Morris J. Miller, Colorado Springs; Joseph W. Miller, Sylvania, Ohio; Carl N. Miller, Findlay, Ohio; and a daughter Mrs. Clara J. Whitman, of Englewood.

Nine grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and a sister, Hortense, of Defiance, Ohio, also survive.

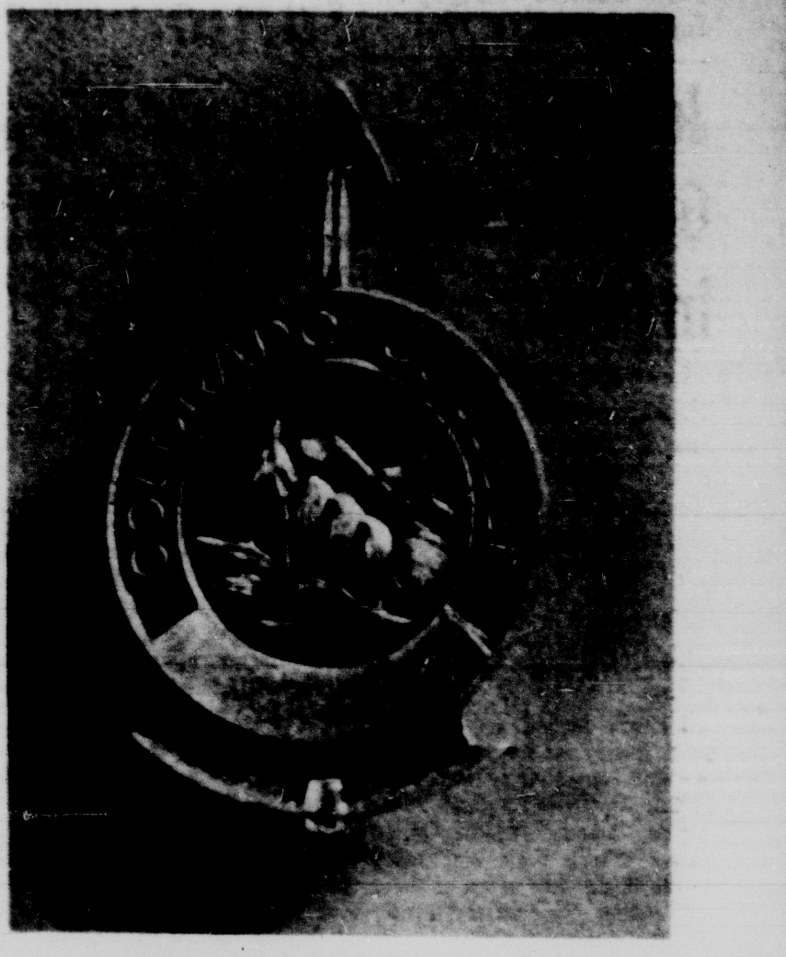
Poncelow Funeral Rite To Be Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Poncelow, 94, of Lytle Star Route, will be 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in Blunt Mortuary. Dr. Walter G. Schaefer will officiate and burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Poncelow, who died Sunday in a local nursing home, was born Jan. 27, 1870 in Springfield, Ill. She was an early pioneer of the Pikes Peak region and came here by covered wagon from Illinois with her parents when she was two-years-old.

Sh taught in schools at Sundview, Glendale, Beaver Creek and Eight-Mile.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary K. Little, Colorado Springs; a brother, Ernest Keeton, Colorado Springs; and other relatives in the region.



PICK 'N PAN ADOPTED BY CC—The Pick 'n Pan honorary award pin, designed by Professor Woodson Tyree of the CC Speech Department, has been adopted for the entire student body by the CC Student Council and Director of Student Activities Don Oden. The pin was designed by Tyree to emphasize the regional theme of a gold miner's pan and pick-axe, and a prospector's burro. The photo is an enlargement of the pin, which is the size of the usual fraternity pins.

Pick 'n Pan Pin Adopted As College-Wide Award

The unique Pick 'n Pan pin designed by Woodson Tyree, associate professor of drama, speech and radio, has been adopted as an all-college pin for extra-academic honors by Colorado College students.

Previously, the pin was given to outstanding speech students.

The pin was adopted for college-wide use by the Colorado College Student Council, and the Director of Student Activities Don Oden, as a special recognition pin for students who have made special contribution to school life be it in drama, radio, debate, public speaking, or other talent, performance and service areas.

The photo shows an enlargement of the pin, which is actually the size of a fraternity pin. The pin is unique in that it is designed as a miner's gold pan, behind which appears a miner's pickaxe. Depicted on the pan is a prospector's burro.

Tyree, who designed the pin originally for speech students, said the thought occurred to him to emphasize the regionalism of Colorado, the gold and silver mining which made the state of Colorado famous, instead of using the usual pins of comic or tragic macks that are given out in drama and speech events at other colleges.

The history of the honor pin goes back to a plaque originally designed for the speech department in 1944 by a coed at the Fin Arts Center school. For two or three years the ceramic plaque was awarded to outstanding students in speech and drama. It was then, through contract with a prominent producer of fraternity pins, that Tyree designed the present Pick 'n Pan pin, which now has been adopted as an honorary pin for students throughout the college.

It is not a membership pin, but must be earned by special work. Among those who in the past have been awarded the pin, have been Wes Bradley, Jerry Jones, Jean Jones, Kay Freyschlag, John Reeds now of Hollywood, Don Cooper, Paul Evans, Ruth Mitchell, Richard Green, and many others well-known in Colorado Springs.

Speaker Warns Colleges Against Outside Pressure

Pressley C. McCoy, associate director of the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, warned Monday that liberal arts colleges are endangering their identity by yielding to external pressures.

McCoy spoke before more than 100 college presidents, deans and professors at the opening session of the eighth annual Danforth Foundation Workshop on Liberal Arts Education, meeting for three weeks on the campus of Colorado College here.

"A college which becomes a satellite of a graduate institution or which, on the urging of the church supplants education with indoctrination, or which becomes unduly restricted in educational policy due to selfish wishes where controversial issues are concerned, has no one to blame for its demise but itself," he said.

Educators from 28 liberal arts colleges in 15 states and two foreign countries are attending the workshop today through July 3. The workshop is held annually at Colorado College.

McCoy said "personal identity" seems to be the most serious problem confronting the human race in its struggle for personal and social fulfillment.

"The problem of teaching and research confronting every institution of higher education," he said, "is an expression of the quest for identity — not so much for the students as for faculty, administration and the college or university as an institution."

"It is a question of identity," he said, "for the nature of the discussion reveals all too clearly a confusion as to what we are about and why in relation to our attempt to liberate students. If our own thought is imprisoned in error, we cannot hope to promote freedom in the thinking of others. So many articles written by educators on the topic begin by phrasing the problem in polarised form as a question of teaching versus research."

He said the "question of personal identity is also an issue in this statement presented by Boston College: "The questions concerning ultimate values seem clearly part of the curriculum of the liberal arts college. Yet, despite the pervasiveness of such questions, most disciplines do, in fact, protest that consideration of ultimate values is no part of their academic purpose. . .We would be interested, then, in discussing how colleges which do not have required philosophy and theology courses treat value questions.' "

Taylor Funeral Set for Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha E. Taylor, 54, of Boyers, Pa., will be 2 p.m. Friday in Blunt Mortuary. Rev. Walter G. Schaefer will officiate and burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Taylor, who died Sunday, was born Feb. 2, 1910 in Colorado Springs.

She was a housewife and lived in Boyers since leaving Colorado Springs in 1940. She worked in the W. F. Woolworth Co. store here for several years before marrying her husband, Edgar C. Taylor, in 1938. Mrs. Taylor attended Lowell Grade School, South Junior High School and Colorado Springs (Palmer) High School.

She is survived by her husband, Edgar C. Taylor, Boyers; three daughters, Mrs. Edward M. Brown, West Sunberry, Pa., Mrs. Robert B. Nutt, Sumpter, S.C., and Mrs. Jay V. Wilkinson, Falmouth, Mass.; five sons, Edgar C. Taylor Jr. and Larry M. Taylor, both of Great Lakes, Ill., Wilbert Taylor, McConnell AFB, Kan., and John and William Taylor, Boyers; her father, Everett Potter, Colorado Springs; two sisters, Mrs. Violet Harris, San Francisco, Calif., and Mrs. Mae Sullivan, Manitou Springs; and two brothers, Clarence A. Deadly Weapon Assault Charges Filed Monday

Two charges of assault with a deadly weapon were filed in District Court Monday against Joseph Echols, 46, 719 Rio Grande St.

The first count alleges he shot Theodore Williams, no age or address given, and the second accuses him of shooting Eddie Lee Rucker, 42, 606 N. Spruce St. Sunday.

According to a police report an argument developed at the home of the defendant and in the ensuing scuffle Rucker was accidentally shot in the chest by Echols who intended to shoot Williams. One bullet entered Rucker's chest, but the wound was described as not serious by the police. Williams was shot in the wrist.

Judge Hunter D. Hardeman set bond at $2,500.

Another defendant, Kaffie Henry Powell Jr., 19, 807 E. Costilla St. had a charge of burglary filed against him.

He is accused of breaking into the Amstan Supply, a division of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp. 425 S. Wahsatch St. June 3.

Bond was fixed at $1,500 by Judge Hardeman.

Harrison School District To Have Same Tax Rate

The Harrison School District No. 2, will have the same property tax rate next year as this.

The board of directors Monday night at the regular June meeting adopted a budget for the 1964-65 school year that calls for a mill levy on taxable property for the special fund of 24.01 mills, the same as last year.

Additionally, the board decided to keep the same mill levy for bonds and interest — 12.09 mills.

The two levies, both against property in the district, total 36.10 mills.

Business Manager Frank Rocchio, in submitting the budget, estimated the assessed valuation of the district at $11 million. He said that some people had suggested that the valuation might be as high as $11.5 million, but that he did not think that much new property would be on the books for the coming tax year.

The budget set an estimated expenditure total of $1,027,210, and a total income of $1,046,580.

The budget for the current year is $903,916 with the total expected revenue to be some over $1 million.

The budget was adopted unanimously with Chairman Don Giberson and members Merle Gililland and Gordon Lockyear present.

The new budget is scheduled to take care of more students than the district had last year, although the size of the increase is not known at this time.

The special fund budget does not pay for building new schools, or for building additions to new schools.

The 24.01 is $24.01 on every $1,000 of assessed valuation of property, which, according to state law is to be assessed at 30 per cent of its real value. Thus, a house with a real value of $10,000 and assessed at $3,000 will be taxed $72.03 for operations of schools in the district next year.

Building projects are paid for by bond issues, and thus financed through the 12.09 mill levy set for that purpose.

The board set bid openings for two additions on Aug. 11. Those two additions are to be built on the Startmoor Hills Elementary School and the Stratton Meadows Elementary School.

It also gave final approval for plans for the new elementary school to be built in the Pikes Peak Park addition, and named the school the "Pikes Peak Elementary School."

The new school is expected to cost about $450,000, with work scheduled to start sometime this fall after school has begun, and delivery of the building to follow sometime in the spring.

Plans for the building now must go to the HHFA, a federal agency, for approval, as the district expects to get federal money to help pay for the school.

By unanimous vote, the board voted that the district will not offer transportation to any kindergarten students this coming year — neither to school nor home after school. This is a reversal of past policy and was adopted in a move for economy after Superintendent Norton Gorman told the board that state school laws do not require kindergarten attendance.

Rocchio also reported that the district will have a balance of about $135,000 at the end of this month as a start on the new fiscal year.

This is an increase over past years when in 1963 the total left over was $114,000 and in 1962 it was $59,000, he said.

At the end of May, expenditures for the fiscal year had totaled $792,937.93.

"That figure is lower than we first projected, and I feel sure we will come in at the end of this year with about $135,000 to begin next year with," he said. Giberson commended Rocchio and Gorman for the frugal administration.

Hinton Warns Of Illegal Fireworks Sale

With July 4 approaching, District Attorney Pat Hinton has once again reminded the public that the sale of explosive fireworks is illegal.

The statute governing the law will be "strictly interpreted and enforced by our office," the attorney said Monday.

The only exceptions are toy pistols, sparklers or torches which do not contain explosive charges or other devices in which paper caps are used.

Permits for the sale of these exceptions may be obtained from the city clerk's office or the building inspector's office.

Firemen Called To Attic Blaze

The Colorado Springs Fire Department extinguished an attic blaze Monday at 2718 W. Colorado Ave. Engines 3 and 5, directed by Batt. Chief Bernard Bailey, answered the 1:35 p.m. alarm.

Firemen said that damage was confined to papers in the attic.

At 7:59 p.m. Engine 5 made a run to 2818 W. Bijou. It was burning trash and there was no damage.

PICK 'N PAN ADOPTED BY CC—The Pick 'n Pan honorary award pin, designed by Professor Woodson Tyree of the CC Speech Department, has been adopted for the entire student body by the CC Student Council and Director of Student Activities Don Oden. The pin was designed by Tyree to emphasize the regional theme of a gold miner's pan and pick-axe, and a prospector's burro. The photo is an enlargement of the pin, which is the size of the usual fraternity pins.

Pick 'n Pan Pin Adopted As College-Wide Award

The unique Pick 'n Pan pin designed by Woodson Tyree, associate professor of drama, speech and radio, has been adopted as an all-college pin for extra-academic honors by Colorado College students.

Previously, the pin was given to outstanding speech students.

The pin was adopted for college-wide use by the Colorado College Student Council, and the Director of Student Activities Don Oden, as a special recognition pin for students who have made special contribution to school life be it in drama, radio, debate, public speaking, or other talent, performance and service areas.

The photo shows an enlargement of the pin, which is actually the size of a fraternity pin. The pin is unique in that it is designed as a miner's gold pan, behind which appears a miner's pickaxe. Depicted on the pan is a prospector's burro.

Tyree, who designed the pin originally for speech students, said the thought occurred to him to emphasize the regionalism of Colorado, the gold and silver mining which made the state of Colorado famous, instead of using the usual pins of comic or tragic macks that are given out in drama and speech events at other colleges.

The history of the honor pin goes back to a plaque originally designed for the speech department in 1944 by a coed at the Fin Arts Center school. For two or three years the ceramic plaque was awarded to outstanding students in speech and drama. It was then, through contract with a prominent producer of fraternity pins, that Tyree designed the present Pick 'n Pan pin, which now has been adopted as an honorary pin for students throughout the college.

It is not a membership pin, but must be earned by special work. Among those who in the past have been awarded the pin, have been: Wes Bradley, Jerry Jones, Jean Jones, Kay Freyschlag, John Reeds now of Hollywood, Don Cooper, Paul Evans, Ruth Mitchell, Richard Green, and many others well-known in Colorado Springs.

Speaker Warns Colleges Against Outside Pressure

Pressley C. McCoy, associate director of the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, warned Monday that liberal arts colleges are endangering their identity by yielding to external pressures.

McCoy spoke before more than 100 college presidents, deans and professors at the opening session of the eighth annual Danforth Foundation Workshop on Liberal Arts Education, meeting for three weeks on the campus of Colorado College here.

"A college which becomes a satellite of a graduate institution or which, on the urging of the church supplants education with indoctrination, or which becomes unduly restricted in educational policy due to selfish wishes where controversial issues are concerned, has no one to blame for its demise but itself," he said.

Educators from 28 liberal arts colleges in 15 states and two foreign countries are attending the workshop today through July 3. The workshop is held annually at Colorado College.

McCoy said "personal identity" seems to be the most serious problem confronting the human race in its struggle for personal and social fulfillment.

"The problem of teaching and research confronting every institution of higher education," he said, "is an expression of the quest for identity — not so much for the students as for faculty, administration and the college or university as an institution."

"It is a question of identity," he said, "for the nature of the discussion reveals all too clearly a confusion as to what we are about and why in relation to our attempt to liberate students. If our own thought is imprisoned in error, we cannot hope to promote freedom in the thinking of others. So many articles written by educators on the topic begin by phrasing the problem in polarised form as a question of teaching versus research."

He said the "question of personal identity is also an issue in this statement presented by Boston College: "The questions concerning ultimate values seem clearly part of the curriculum of the liberal arts college. Yet, despite the pervasiveness of such questions, most disciplines do, in fact, protest that consideration of ultimate values is no part of their academic purpose. . .We would be interested, then, in discussing how colleges which do not have required philosophy and theology courses treat value questions.' "

Junior Men's Loop Starts New Season

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

The Junior Men's League, sponsored by the Colorado Springs Park and Recreation Department, is scheduled to launch its fourth baseball campaign tonight with a twin bill engagement at Memorial Field.

In the first game of the doubleheader, the Cheyenne Mountain Indians play host to the Mets at 6:30 p.m., while the Beavers tangle with the Manitou Springs Mustangs in the nightcap beginning at 8:30 p.m. Both games will be played under the lights at Memorial Field.

According to Moe Rollert, director of baseball for the City Recreation Department, there will be no admission charge for attending the games and everyone is welcomed to attend. However, donations will be accpeted to help defray the expenses for the forthcoming tournament at the conclusion of the double round robin season sometime in mid-August. Rollert also announced that former Colorado College coach Tony Frasca will be the league's baseball supervisor.

Other games on tap this week include a twin bill for Thursday and Friday. Thursday's games: Sertoma vs. Village Inn Colts (6:30 p.m.); and Kiwanis vs. Woodland Park (8:30 p.m.) Friday's slate: Mets vs. Beavers (6 p.m.); and Manitou vs. Sertoma (8:30 p.m.).

All Junior Men's League games will be played at Memorial Field and will be scheduled four times weekly —Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. There are eight teams entered in the league including Cheyenne, Mets, Beavers, Manitou, Sertoma, Colts, Kiwanis and Woodland Park.

Meanwhile in the American Legion "A" program, doubleheaders are scheduled at Memorial Field on Wednesdays and Sunday. Wednesday's agenda pits the Rotary nine against the Elks crew at 6:30 p.m., followed by the Lions - Sertoma game at 8:30 p.m.

Sunday's Legion "A" schedule finds the Elks tangling with Sertoma at 1 p.m., followed by the Rotary - Lions game at 3:30 p.m.

In addition to the regular schedule, the Junior Men's League will conduct a playoff tournament at the conclusion of the season between the top four teams.

Composed of sophomore and junior high school students, the Junior Men's League will play under high school baseball rules and play seven-inning games with a two-hour time limit.

Rollert said high school freshmen would qualify to participate in the league with regards to their respective ability.

The majority of the teams have been active in practice sessions the last two weeks and should be ready for this week's sessions the last two weeks and should be ready for this week's action.

Benardo's, Ent Set For Game

Undefeated Benardo's collides with unbeaten Ent AFB tonight in the first crucial City Softball League meeting of the season at Memorial Park.

The Benardo's crew and Ent nine will tangle at 7 p.m. The two teams are tied for the City League lead with identical 3-0 records.

The DCA Mets and Lorig's will both be looking for their first victory of the year in another City League test at 8:15 p.m.

The Telephone Company and Denver Equipment, both undefeated in Industrial League play, will clash at 7 p.m. on Field 4. The Gazette Telegraph will meet the Fire Department in the 8:15 contest.

In Monday night's action, City Utilities won their fourth straight game with a 15 - 8 decision over Phil Long Ford, to take over first place in the Industrial League. The 425L Gofers downed Simms Super, 5 - 3, and AT&T trounced the Silents, 10 - 0, in other Industrial tilts.

A double by Willie Roe and a three - bagger by Don Shauss featured a four - run Utilities rally in the fifth inning which erased an 8 - 7 Phil Long lead. Daryl Gruenwald, Larry Kosley, Roe and Shauss had four hits apiece to pace an 11 - hit Utilities attack.

Singles by Jerry Dalziel, Bill McIntosh and pitcher Jack Quigley, a walk and two Simms Super errors accounted for four Gofer runs in the fourth in 425L's come - from - behind win. Quigley hurled three - hit ball for the Gofers.

Inside - the park home runs by Frank Shannon and winning pitcher Wade Camphouse highlighted AT & T's triumph over the Silents. Camphouse blanked the Silents on only one hit, a lead - off single by Phil Hollingsworth in the first inning.

Bears Bombard Islanders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Denver's Dennis Ribant rationed five singles to Hawaii batters while his teammates bunched eight hits for a 9-0 victory Monday — Denver's first shutout in the current Pacific Coast League baseball season.

In other games, San Diego smothered Salt Lake City 13-1, and Oklahoma City put down Spokane 8-2.

Only one Islander got past first base in the game at Denver. That was Herbie Plews, a former Denver player, who cracked a game-opening single and stole second. Ribant fanned nine and walked none.

Denver went ahead 2-0 in the third inning and then produced a four-run fifth inning and a three - run sixth. A two - run homer by Jim Coker climaxed the fifth.

Three CSC Players Join Pro Leagues

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — A third member of Pete Butler's baseball teams at Colorado State College has joined the professional ranks.

Duane Banks, 24, heavy hitting catcher from Fruita, was signed for a bonus Sunday by the Denver Bears farm club of the Milwaukee Braves.

The bonus amount was not disclosed. Banks will report within two weeks at Sarasota, Fla., and return to CSC this fall to finish his last quarter of college work.

He is married and has two young sons.

Already in the majors are Ron Herbel with San Francisco and Nick Willhite with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Banks has led CSC in home runs for three seasons. He attended Mesa College his freshman year. As a sophomore here, he hit .441, as a junior .326 and a senior .333. Twice he was named all-Dist. 7 catcher by the NCAA.

State Jaycee Tennis Tourney At Ft Collins

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP)—Entry blanks went out today to 200 teen-aged tennis players for participation in the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Tournament here June 26-28.

Deadline for returning the blanks is Monday. Floyd Shoemaker, state tennis champion, is in charge of entries and the tournament director will be Peter Barizon, Colorado State University tennis coach.

Matches in girls and boys divisions will be in five brackets each on the CSU courts. Singles matches only will be played.

Brackets will be for 10 years old and under, and 12, 14, 16 and 18 years and under.

Houston, Cowboys Knotted For NCAA Team Honors

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

The nation's top collegiate golfers renewed their struggle with the Broadmoor's testing Championship 18 this morning after an opening day session that was filled with contrasts.

Headline-makers Monday included a couple who figured to end up in large type and one who was something of a surprise. There were also several who frequent the spotlight but were conspiciously absent following a losing battle with the Broadmoor's eccentricies Monday.

The team championship, which had been labeled as another chapter in the continuing strife between Oklahoma State and Houston, turned out to be just that. The defending champion Cowboys were kept dangling for some long minutes shortly before sunset before their final team member, Jim Hardy, reported in with a 74 that forced a deadlock with the Cougars at 292.

At tee off time this morning, the two schools were not completely free of challengers, however. San Jose State lurked a dangerously close three-strokes to the rear at 295 and Southern California was positioned at 300, eight strokes off the pace. Notre Dame and Indiana, another swing to the rear, also had an outside chance of overhauling the leaders.

Chances are, however, that the team title will be resolved between the co-leaders. It would appear that the overall excellence of their teams is too much to overcome. For instance, the Cowboys had a pair of par 71s Monday, from George Hixon and Dave Eichelberger, and scores in that range were not easy to come by. Hardy's 74 was followed by a 74 by Hugh Edgmon.

Houston also had an even-par round from Marty Fleckman and a pair of 73s from Mark Hopkins and Randy Petri. Jim Grant added a 75. And to show how dangerous the Cougars can be, they squeezed into the first place tie while highly-regarded Wright Garrett was soaring to a 78 and did not even figure in the team total.

While Garrett and several of the other "name" stars were firing — and falling back, Vinny Giles of the University of Georgia slipped up on the Broadmoor Course and tamed it with a brilliant four-under-par 67. That performance sent officials scurrying to the record books for another look at the competitive course mark. Late Monday, Broadmoor personnel were certain that Giles had at least tied the record for the Championship 18, and he may have set a new standard.

The feat was accomplished despite three bogies. Among Giles' seven birdies was one at the 531 yard ninth hole where he reached the green in two despite the threatening lake to the front of the surface that forces most golfers into a more cautious attitude. Giles' record will also be official since it was accomplished in straight medal play, as opposed to the 63 by Hopkins, Sunday, in the match play East-West tournament.

Giles was one of four parbusters in attendance Monday, and that speaks well for the collegiate group. Even during such tournaments as the National Amateur, sub-par rounds have been infrequent on this magnificent golf course.

Joining the Georgia golfer was Terry Small of San Jose State whose 69 was largely responsible for moving that team into contention; Jerry Potter of Miami University who fired a 70 and Bob Smith of Sacramento State who came in with an identical score. Smith, who is a 21-year-old sophomore and is a former All-European Army Champion, had a pair of eagles en route to his total.

Those four were also in the best position to claim the tournament medalist honors which will be decided on the basis of the 36 holes which will conclude today.

In addition to the decision on team champion and medalist, the bracket for the match play tournament which will be launched Wednesday morning will be set up following today's rounds. The 36 hole scores of all the participating golfers are being used as qualifying rounds and the low 64 will be arranged in the bracket at the conclusion of the day's activities.

Wednesday will see the field sliced to 16 with two rounds of play. Another double round will follow Thursday paving the way for the 36 hole semi-finals Friday and the 36 hole championship match Saturday.

St Louie Sag Even Catches Newly Traded Former Cubs

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Sag apparently is contagious.

The Sag also struck Glen Hobbie, another recent acquisition, as the Cardinals dropped a 9-3 decision to Houston for their fifth straight defeat and 17th in the last 23 games.

Spring and Brock, obtained in a six-player deal with the Chicago Cubs earlier in the day, arrived in the third inning of the Houston contest with the Cardinals winning 1-0. They barely had time to try on their new uniforms when they were thrust into action.

Spring was called upon to pitch in the seventh inning after the Colts scored four runs off Hobbie in the sixth for a 4-3 lead. The 31-year-old left-hander proceeded to give up four more runs, three of them unearned, one on a wild pitch.

Brock, an outfielder who figures prominently in St. Louis plans, batted for Spring in the eighth and struck out.

In his first two starts for the Cardinals, Hobbie allowed two earned runs and eight hits in 16 innings. The Colts, however belted him solidly.

St. Louis, considered a prime contender for the National League pennant before the season started, began its tailspin May 23. At that time, the Cardinals were in third place, one game out of first.

One four-game and two five-game losing streaks later, they are in eighth place, seven games from the top and only one-half length ahead of the Colts.

Only three other games were played Monday. San Francisco nipped Cincinnati 6-5 in the other NL game while Chicago blasted Baltimore 9-1 and Washington edged Los Angeles 3-2 in the American. Rain washed out Minnesota at Cleveland.

Walt Bond drove in four runs with two singles, getting one each against Hobbie and Spring. Hobbie also was the victim of Bob Aspromonte's two-run homer, his fourth home run in a week.

Bob Skinner, acquired from Cincinnati during the weekend, singled home one of the Cardinals' runs.

Jim Hart's single scored Willie McCovey in the ninth inning and ended the Giants' see-saw battle with the Reds. The Giants trailed 3-2 until the eighth when they scored three runs, two on Cap Peterson's pinch triple.

The Reds tied the game 5-5 in the ninth with the help of Hart's error. A double by John Edwards scored one run while Bobby Klaus' sacrifice fly knocked in the other.

The White Sox stormed back into first place in the AL, erupting from the slump that held them to 10 runs in five losing games with the New York Yankees. They scored seven runs in the first inning as Pete Ward, Al Weis and Gerry McNertney each drove in two.

The White Sox, who broke a six-game losing streak, stand eight percentage points ahead of the Orioles with the Yankees another three points behind in third.

Don Rudolph, a 19-game loser last season, won his first game since being recalled from the minors recently. He needed help from Ron Kline in the ninth after the Angels' Joe Adcock slammed his fourth homer in as many games.

Johnson Gets Second In Meet

Steve Johnson, Palmer High School gymnastics coach, placed second during the first annual World's Professional Trampoline Championships last weekend at Liberty, N.Y.

George Hery of Los Angeles nipped the local trampolinist for first place in the meet which was conducted at the Grossingers Resort and won a 1964 Ford Mustang.

Johnson picked up $300 in prize money for the runner - up slot and competed against trampoline pros from England, South Africa, Canada and the United States. There were eight men in the finals with seven of these trampoline specialists former national champions.

Johnson won the 1962 Collegiate trampoline title and toured Africa with the United States gymnastics team last March and April.

Giants Sign Rookie To Pioneer League

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dale Jansen, son of San Francisco Giants' pitching coach Larry Jansen, signed with the Giants Monday and was assigned to their Twin Falls (Idaho) farm team in the Pioneer (rookie) League.

Junior Men's Loop Starts New Season

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

The Junior Men's League, sponsored by the Colorado Springs Park and Recreation Department, is scheduled to launch its fourth baseball campaign tonight with a twin bill engagement at Memorial Field.

In the first game of the doubleheader, the Cheyenne Mountain Indians play host to the Mets at 6:30 p.m., while the Beavers tangle with the Manitou Springs Mustangs in the nightcap beginning at 8:30 p.m. Both games will be played under the lights at Memorial Field.

According to Moe Rollert, director of baseball for the City Recreation Department, there will be no admission charge for attending the games and everyone is welcomed to attend. However, donations will be accpeted to help defray the expenses for the forthcoming tournament at the conclusion of the double round robin season sometime in mid-August. Rollert also announced that former Colorado College coach Tony Frasca will be the league's baseball supervisor.

Other games on tap this week include a twin bill for Thursday and Friday. Thursday's games: Sertoma vs. Village Inn Colts (6:30 p.m.); and Kiwanis vs. Woodland Park (8:30 p.m.) Friday's slate: Mets vs. Beavers (6 p.m.); and Manitou vs. Sertoma (8:30 p.m.).

All Junior Men's League games will be played at Memorial Field and will be scheduled four times weekly —Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. There are eight teams entered in the league including Cheyenne, Mets, Beavers, Manitou, Sertoma, Colts, Kiwanis and Woodland Park.

Meanwhile in the American Legion "A" program, doubleheaders are scheduled at Memorial Field on Wednesdays and Sunday. Wednesday's agenda pits the Rotary nine against the Elks crew at 6:30 p.m., followed by the Lions - Sertoma game at 8:30 p.m.

Sunday's Legion "A" schedule finds the Elks tangling with Sertoma at 1 p.m., followed by the Rotary - Lions game at 3:30 p.m.

In addition to the regular schedule, the Junior Men's League will conduct a playoff tournament at the conclusion of the season between the top four teams.

Composed of sophomore and junior high school students, the Junior Men's League will play under high school baseball rules and play seven-inning games with a two-hour time limit.

Rollert said high school freshmen would qualify to participate in the league with regards to their respective ability.

The majority of the teams have been active in practice sessions the last two weeks and should be ready for this week's sessions the last two weeks and should be ready for this week's action.

Bears Bombard Islanders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Denver's Dennis Ribant rationed five singles to Hawaii batters while his teammates bunched eight hits for a 9-0 victory Monday — Denver's first shutout in the current Pacific Coast League baseball season.

In other games, San Diego smothered Salt Lake City 13-1, and Oklahoma City put down Spokane 8-2.

Only one Islander got past first base in the game at Denver. That was Herbie Plews, a former Denver player, who cracked a game-opening single and stole second. Ribant fanned nine and walked none.

Denver went ahead 2-0 in the third inning and then produced a four-run fifth inning and a three-run sixth. A two-run homer by Jim Coker climaxed the fifth.

State Jaycee Tennis Tourney At Ft Collins

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP)—Entry blanks went out today to 200 teen-aged tennis players for participation in the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Tournament here June 26-28.

Deadline for returning the blanks is Monday. Floyd Shoemaker, state tennis champion, is in charge of entries and the tournament director will be Peter Barizon, Colorado State University tennis coach.

Matches in girls and boys divisions will be in five brackets each on the CSU courts. Singles matches only will be played.

Brackets will be for 10 years old and under, and 12, 14, 16 and 18 years and under.

Benardo's, Ent Set For Game

The Benardo's crew and Ent nine will tangle at 7 p.m. The two teams are tied for the City League lead with identical 3-0 records.

The DCA Mets and Lorig's will both be looking for their first victory of the year in another City League test at 8:15 p.m.

The Telephone Company and Denver Equipment, both undefeated in Industrial League play, will clash at 7 p.m. on Field 4. The Gazette Telegraph will meet the Fire Department in the 8:15 contest.

In Monday night's action, City Utilities won their fourth straight game with a 15 - 8 decision over Phil Long Ford, to take over first place in the Industrial League. The 425L Gofers downed Simms Super, 5 - 3, and AT&T trounced the Silents, 10 - 0, in other Industrial tilts.

A double by Willie Roe and a three - bagger by Don Shauss featured a four - run Utilities rally in the fifth inning which erased an 8 - 7 Phil Long lead. Daryl Gruenwald, Larry Kosley, Roe and Shauss had four hits apiece to pace an 11 - hit Utilities attack.

Singles by Jerry Dalziel, Bill McIntosh and pitcher Jack Quigley, a walk and two Simms Super errors accounted for four Gofer runs in the fourth in 425L's come - from - behind win. Quigley hurled three - hit ball for the Gofers.

Inside - the park home runs by Frank Shannon and winning pitcher Wade Camphouse highlighted AT & T's triumph over the Silents. Camphouse blanked the Silents on only one hit, a lead - off single by Phil Hollingsworth in the first inning.

Three CSC Players Join Pro Leagues

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — A third member of Pete Butler's baseball teams at Colorado State College has joined the professional ranks.

Duane Banks, 24, heavy hitting catcher from Fruita, was signed for a bonus Sunday by the Denver Bears farm club of the Milwaukee Braves.

The bonus amount was not disclosed. Banks will report within two weeks at Sarasota, Fla., and return to CSC this fall to finish his last quarter of college work.

He is married and has two young sons.

Already in the majors are Ron Herbel with San Francisco and Nick Willhite with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Banks has led CSC in home runs for three seasons. He attended Mesa College his freshman year. As a sophomore here, he hit .441, as a junior .326 and a senior .333. Twice he was named all-Dist. 7 catcher by the NCAA.

Houston, Cowboys Knotted For NCAA Team Honors

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

The nation's top collegiate golfers renewed their struggle with the Broadmoor's testing Championship 18 this morning after an opening day session that was filled with contrasts.

Headline-makers Monday included a couple who figured to end up in large type and one who was something of a surprise. There were also several who frequent the spotlight but were conspicuously absent following a losing battle with the Broadmoor's eccentricies Monday.

The team championship, which had been labeled as another chapter in the continuing strife between Oklahoma State and Houston, turned out to be just that. The defending champion Cowboys were kept dangling for some long minutes shortly before sunset before their final team member, Jim Hardy, reported in with a 74 that forced a deadlock with the Cougars at 292.

At tee off time this morning, the two schools were not completely free of challengers, however. San Jose State lurked a dangerously close three-strokes to the rear at 295 and Southern California was positioned at 300, eight strokes off the pace. Notre Dame and Indiana, another swing to the rear, also had an outside chance of overhauling the leaders.

Chances are, however, that the team title will be resolved between the co-leaders. It would appear that the overall excellence of their teams is too much to overcome. For instance, the Cowboys had a pair of par 71s Monday, from George Hixon and Dave Eichelberger, and scores in that range were not easy to come by. Hardy's 74 was followed by a 74 by Hugh Edgmon.

Houston also had an even-par round from Marty Fleckman and a pair of 73s from Mark Hopkins and Randy Petri. Jim Grant added a 75. And to show how dangerous the Cougars can be, they squeezed into the first place tie while highly-regarded Wright Garrett was soaring to a 78 and did not even figure in the team total.

While Garrett and several of the other "name" stars were firing — and falling back, Vinny Giles of the University of Georgia slipped up on the Broadmoor Course and tamed it with a brilliant four-under-par 67. That performance sent officials scurrying to the record books for another look at the competitive course mark. Late Monday, Broadmoor personnel were certain that Giles had at least tied the record for the Championship 18, and he may have set a new standard.

The feat was accomplished despite three bogies. Among Giles' seven birdies was one at the 531 yard ninth hole where he reached the green in two despite the threatening lake to the front of the surface that forces most golfers into a more cautious attitude. Giles' record will also be official since it was accomplished in straight medal play, as opposed to the 63 by Hopkins, Sunday, in the match play East-West tournament.

Giles was one of four par-busters in attendance Monday, and that speaks well for the collegiate group. Even during such tournaments as the National Amateur, sub-par rounds have been infrequent on this magnificent golf course.

Joining the Georgia golfer was Terry Small of San Jose State whose 69 was largely responsible for moving that team into contention; Jerry Potter of Miami University who fired a 70 and Bob Smith of Sacramento State who came in with an identical score. Smith, who is a 21-year-old sophomore and is a former All-European Army Champion, had a pair of eagles en route to his total.

Those four were also in the best position to claim the tournament medalist honors which will be decided on the basis of the 36 holes which will conclude today.

In addition to the decision on team champion and medalist, the bracket for the match play tournament which will be launched Wednesday morning will be set up following today's rounds. The 36 hole scores of all the participating golfers are being used as qualifying rounds and the low 64 will be arranged in the bracket at the conclusion of the day's activities.

Wednesday will see the field sliced to 16 with two rounds of play. Another double round will follow Thursday paving the way for the 36 hole semi-finals Friday and the 36 hole championship match Saturday.

SNEAD AND HOGAN—Snead and Hogan are two of the many names that appear on the program for the 67th annual NCAA golf championships now going on at the Broadmoor Golf Club here in Colorado Springs. The two young golfers are not related to the famous professional golfers, but they both wish they could shoot like their namesakes. Alex Snead (left) is from the University of South Carolina, and Dan Hogan is from Yale University. (AP Photo)

St Louie Sag Even Catches Newly Traded Former Cubs

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Sag apparently is contagious.

The Sag also struck Glen Hobbie, another recent acquisition, as the Cardinals dropped a 9-3 decision to Houston for their fifth straight defeat and 17th in the last 23 games.

Spring and Brock, obtained in a six-player deal with the Chicago Cubs earlier in the day, arrived in the third inning of the Houston contest with the Cardinals winning 1-0. They barely had time to try on their new uniforms when they were thrust into action.

Spring was called upon to pitch in the seventh inning after the Colts scored four runs off Hobbie in the sixth for a 4-3 lead. The 31-year-old left-hander proceeded to give up four more runs, three of them unearned, one on a wild pitch.

Brock, an outfielder who figures prominently in St. Louis plans, batted for Spring in the eighth and struck out.

In his first two starts for the Cardinals, Hobbie allowed two earned runs and eight hits in 16 innings. The Colts, however belted him solidly.

St. Louis, considered a prime contender for the National League pennant before the season started, began its tailspin May 23. At that time, the Cardinals were in third place, one game out of first.

One four-game and two five-game losing streaks later, they are in eighth place, seven games from the top and only one-half length ahead of the Colts.

Only three other games were played Monday. San Francisco nipped Cincinnati 6-5 in the other NL game while Chicago blasted Baltimore 9-1 and Washington edged Los Angeles 3-2 in the American. Rain washed out Minnesota at Cleveland.

Walt Bond drove in four runs with two singles, getting one each against Hobbie and Spring. Hobbie also was the victim of Bob Aspromonte's two-run homer, his fourth home run in a week.

Bob Skinner, acquired from Cincinnati during the weekend, singled home one of the Cardinals' runs.

Jim Hart's single scored Willie McCovey in the ninth inning and ended the Giants' see-saw battle with the Reds. The Giants trailed 3-2 until the eighth when they scored three runs, two on Cap Peterson's pinch triple.

The Reds tied the game 5-5 in the ninth with the help of Hart's error. A double by John Edwards scored one run while Bobby Klaus' sacrifice fly knocked in the other.

The White Sox stormed back into first place in the AL, erupting from the slump that held them to 10 runs in five losing games with the New York Yankees. They scored seven runs in the first inning as Pete Ward, Al Weis and Gerry McNertney each drove in two.

The White Sox, who broke a six-game losing streak, stand eight percentage points ahead of the Orioles with the Yankees another three points behind in third.

Don Rudolph, a 19-game loser last season, won his first game since being recalled from the minors recently. He needed help from Ron Kline in the ninth after the Angels' Joe Adcock slammed his fourth homer in as many games.

The average age of the five leading money - winning harness drivers in the United States in 1963 was 35.

BOWLING

Pro-Am Tourney

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

For the first time in the state of Colorado a professional-amateur bowling tournament is being planned for Colorado Springs on June 27-28 at Circle Lanes.

Believed to be the first of its kind on a state-basis throughout the United Staes, the Colorado Professional Bowlers Associaion (CPBA) pro-am tourney will pit 96 professionals from various amateur keglers against 28 parts of Colorado.

Some 35 slots have been allocated for Colorado Springs bowlers and six bowling establishments will conduct individual house rolloffs to decide the local field this week and through a week from Thursday.

The pro-am tourney is slated for Saturday, June 27 and will pit a field of 124 amateurs and professionals in a three - man or women team. Three games will be bowled by each team and will be 100 per cent handicap based on 200. Scoring will be decided by a three-game total pinfall.

With a guarantee of $1,500 the pro-am tournament is open to women. There will be one professional and two amateurs on each team and there will be three squads of bowling. Each bowler will draw for his or her opponents. The top 12 places will pay off.

Included in the star - studded field of professionals are two local keglers Harry (Ike) Eichelberger and George Hoffman. Other top state pros include Bob Poole of Pueblo, and George McDonald and Jerry McCleary of Denver.

In addition to the local pro-am tournament in Colorado Springs, two additional tournaments of the same calibre will be conducted at Boulder and Grand Junction sometime this summer.

The six local establishments conducting house eliminations for the 35 slots in the pro-am tournament a week from Saturday are Peak Bowl, Ute Lanes, Circle Lanes, Classic Bowl and Ent AFB Lanes.

Eichelberger and Hoffman will also compete in the CPBA tournament which is scheduled for Sunday, June 28 at Circle Lanes with an expected field of 28 top flight state professional bowlers. In addition to the 28 pro keglers, an additional eight slots have been allocated to the top amateurs that compete in the pro-am tournament.

The 36 - field competing in the professional tourney will be shooting for $2,200 in prize money. They will bowl two blocks of six - games in head - to - head matches with the top six qualifiers competing in the finals.

LOCAL SCORERS — With the summer leagues just in progress the last two weeks, the scoring is still behind schedule as far as top scores being recorded.

With the exception of Ute Lanes, the majority of the bowling establishments report average shooting. Frank Mathews' 265 scratch game and Don Harado's 685 scratch series took the area's high game and series respectively last week. Both keglers registered their high scores at Ute Lanes.

Other scores: Lee Covey Jr. took high game among the junior set with a 219 scratch game at Ute Lanes; Sandy Ballard posted a 228 single tally at Bowl - Mor Lanes in the Women's Traveling League; and Barb DeMarco fired a 226 at Ute Lanes.

WOMEN'S TOURNEY —The Ute Lanes team, composed of Barb DeMarco, Kay Grimsley, Martha Allin, Jen Crites and Dee Carlson, walked off with first place during the twice monthly Southern Colorado BPA Women's Travèling Rournament last Sunday at Ute Lanes. The Ute Lanes team rolled a 3046 handicap series to top the field.

LaJunta Bowl of LaJunta finished in second place with a 2918, followed by Fountain Valley Bowl of Security with a 2890.

MEN'S TOURNEY — The Bowlero Lanes Keglers of Pueblo won the semi - monthly Southern Colorado BPA Traveling Tournament last Sunday at Las Animas with a 2946 handi-

LaJunta Bowl finished second with 2917, followed by Payne's Lanes of Pueblo with 2908, and Ideal Lanes of Canon City was fourth with 2865.

Sil Silvo took high single game honors with a 235 effort while Marion Shelton was second with 223. The next bournament is scheduled for this Sunday at Peak Bowl in Colorado Springs.

MR. AVERAGE SWEEPER— For the second time Peak Bowl hosted a new - type sweeper for the average bowler last weekend. Steve Sakas won the last sweeper with a 760 score for four games.

This is the only bowling establishment in the local area which sponsors a sweeper designed for the average bowler.

Twins Bolster Pitching Staff With Grant; Cards Swap 3

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins, acting quickly just before the clock struck midnight, have tapped veteran right-hander Jim (Mudcat) Grant to play a Cinderella role in the American League pennant chase.

Balked in earlier attempts to bolster their pitching staff, the Twins completed an 11th-hour deal with Cleveland Monday just before the midnight trading deadline, acquiring Grant in exchange for pitcher Lee Stange, a player to be named later and an undisclosed amount of cash.

In a major six-player deal between National League clubs, St. Louis sent former 20-game winner Ernie Broglio, reliever Bobby Shantz and outfielder Doug Clemens to the Chicago Cubs for outfielder Lou Brock and pitchers Jack Spring and Paul Toth.

Two minor moves were made —Baltimore selling outfielder Joe Gaines to Houston and Pittsburgh taking pitcher Don Cardwell off the disabled list after sending pitcher Fred Green to the minors.

The Twins have been considered legitimate AL pennant contenders, but it was generally felt they needed more pitching strength. They had pursued Dean Chance of Los Angeles but were unwillingly to break up their power trust by sending Bob Allison to the Angels.

Apparently rebuffed elsewhere also, the Twins moved in their minor league chain, farming out last year's ace reliever, Bill Dailey, and bringing up Bill Whitby, 4-3 at Charlotte.

Grant, 28, had been hit hard this season, starting nine games and completing only one. He had a 3-4 record with a 5.95 earned run average, but is an established major league starter of known quality with a 64-59 lifetime record entering this season. He was 13-14 last year.

Stange, a promising right-hander in his fourth season in the majors, ipmressed last year with a 12-5 record and a 2.62 ERA. This season, however, he had a 3-6 mark with a 4.73 ERA.

The key men in the St. Louis-Chicago trade were Broglio and Brock, who fills the Cardinals' need for additional outfielding help.

Broglio, a 28-year-old right-hander, apparently became surplus when the Cardinals acquired pitcher Glen Hobbie from the Cubs in an earlier trade. Broglio was 21-9 in 1960 and had an 18-8 record last year, but was 3-5 this season with a 3.53 ERA.

Brock, a speedy 24-year-old flychaser who bats left-handed, is in his fourth season in the majors. He hit .258 last season with nine homers and 37 runs batted in. He was hitting at a .257 clip for the Cubs with two homers and 14 runs driven in.

Lema Seeks Third Straight Win

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Can a man win three golf tournaments in a row, especially if the third one is the U.S. Open?

Champagne Tony Lema's chances for a third straight were much talked about at Congressional Country Club as the elite of golf gathered for the big one, which starts Thursday. Lema won the recent Thunderbird and Buick opens.

One fellow who wasn't talking was Lema, himself. He skipped the first day of practice Monday entirely. A notorious worrywart, Lema may have spent the day getting his nerves under control.

He missed some steambath weather that would have driven a sensible bedouin to shelter, and his camel, too, but all the other favorites in the field tested the layout.

Arnold Palmer said he was "getting seriously worried" about his putting—which is a good sign.

"I'm playing all right, but I'm putting very badly," Palmer said. "It's exactly the way I was before the Masters this year"—which he won with ease.

Jack Nicklaus also maneuvered the ball well. Nicklaus and Palmer both came down last week for practice rounds.

"I played 50 holes and never got a birdie," Nicklaus said. "This time I got a birdie on the third hole. I'm improving."

Billy Casper, 1959 winner, played only nine holes in midday heat.

"I like this weather," said the rotund Casper, with a fat man's smile. "It's too hot to practice."

Ted Hart Top Pro In Tourney

Trinidad's Ted Hart led a group of golf professionals from throughout the state in a rotating Pro-Am tournament held at the Valley Hi Country Club in Colorado Springs Monday and walked off with the top prize on the strength of a two - under - par 70 round.

Hart also used his hot round to help two of the amateurs win top spots in the Pro-Am standings as the professionals matched their scores in a best-ball round for low team scores. He combined with Dave Gutierrez of Ft. Carson for third place in the Pro-Am with a 64 and also John Mays with a fourth place tie of 65.

Other leaders among the pros were J. D. Taylor of Valley Country Club in Denver with 71, Ian McPhee of Meadow Hills CC in Denver with 72, Al Benefiel of Green Gables CC in Denver with 73, Larry Brooks of Pueblo City Park with 75 and Ralph Haddad of Fitzsimons of Denver with another 75.

Brooks combined his round with Ted Todisco of Pueblo for the low best - ball round of 63, which tied them with Al Artach of Meadow Hills and Bob Mattreal. Hart and Gutierrez were third, Brooks and Huskins, Lars Larson of Colorado Springs Country Club and Bill Huber of Colorado Springs, Hart and Mays, and McPhee and Parker Boggs of Valley Hi all tied for fourth with 65.

The low amateur gross score went to Homer Hunn of Arapahoe CC in Denver with 75, and Huber was low net amateur with 67.

Each Monday the pros from throughout the state rotate to one of the golf courses in the region for this Pro-Am tournament. There were 72 players taking part in the Valley Hi meet, hosted by pro Paul Ransom.

BOBO GETS HAND IN COMEBACK TRAIL—Carl (Bobo) Olson, left, indulges in a friendly game of Indian wrestling with Johnny Persol during a pre-fight physical examination in the New York State Athletic Commission office. Bobo was last in New York in 1955 when he was knocked out in three rounds by Archie Moore. Since then he has lost his middleweight title, his first wife and his old manager. Now a light heavyweight, he'll meet Persol, who is only 24 to Bobo's 35, in Madison Square Garden on Friday night. (AP Wirephoto)

Maine, Mizzou Set to Meet In NCAA Semi-Finals Game

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Maine's pressure-loving upstarts are in the NCAA baseball final round, thanks to a stringbean sophomore pitcher with "poise, courage, great control and enough English to offset his lack of a fast ball."

His name is Joe Ferris and the words are those of the coach, Jack Butterfield, a former pitcher at Maine. Ferris is a 6-4 right-hander who ousted Southern California's defending champions 2-1 Monday night in the fourth round.

Next foe for the giant killers is pitching-rich Missouri, which handed Minnesota its first defeat 4-1 by holding the Big Ten cahmps on one hit. Minnesota then drew a bye.

The winner of the Missouri-Maine game will face Minnesota for the championship Wednesday night.

Ferris has pitched through the district playoffs and the College World Series with a plastic cast protecting two broken bones in his left wrist. But he stopped Seton Hall 5-1 in the first round, saved a 4-2 upset of Arizona Saturday, then went the route against proud USC.

He was mobbed by his teammates after the final out and the crowd of 9,174 gave their adopted favorites a rousing cheer.

After a shaky start, Ferris was in trouble only in the eighth. With two down and two on, Maine third baseman Dave Thompson hesitated going to third on a forceout, then decided to throw to second. It was too late and the bases were loaded.

Carl Merrill, Maine catcher who drove in both runs, said "Gaza (Ferris) wasn't shaken one bit. Before Thompson could say anything, Gaza told him 'forget it, I'll get the next guy.' He did, with a grounder to Thompson."

"We call him Gaza," Butterfield said, "because he's Lebanese and the Gaza Strip is famous."

Maine's success in its first major NCAA tourney in any sport has Orono, a town of about 6,000 in an uproar.

"We were picked fifth in our league because we had so many sophomores," Butterfield said. "We were underdogs against Northeastern in the district at Fenway Park in Boston but won 9-5 and 4-2.

"In this tourney we've had three errorless games out of four—not bad for some country boys," the coach said. "Merrill and shortstop Dick De Varney are the key players—they hold us together."

Maine will use senior Dick Dolloff, 4-3, against Missouri's talented sophomore, Dennis Musgraves, 6-2, tonight. Keith Weber and Jim Nelson halted Minnesota with one hit, a first inning single. Weber walked 12 in his 6 1-3 innings and Minnesota left 16 on base. Bob Price drove in the first two Missouri runs and was 3-for-4.

Twin Quin Successful At Pueblo

PUEBLO — Mrs. P. H. Pursel's P. H.'s Pistol, the opening favorite in the inaugural feature last Wednesday, gets a chance to make amends in Tuesday night's feature at Pueblo Greyhound Park after having run out of the money in the initial effort.

Other dogs in the race include George S. Murphey's T. V. Nick Miku, a greyhound that ran at Colorado Springs last year, and Carl Pritchard's Tucson star, Credit Control.

The twin quiniela continues to be a top interest-getter, particularly after having passed the $1,000 mark in the payoff figure for the first time of the season on Saturday night. Saturday's reward to two ticket holders was $1,654.80 each.

Tuesday night's Twin Quin events will be the ninth and 10th races, the first half a Grade D affair over the 5-16 mile and the second half a Grade C trial over the 693-yard Wright Course.

Monday's results at Pueblo Greyhound Park:

First (5/16, Grade D)—Mr. Cane $9.80, $3, $2.60; Scotty's Red Boy $2.80, $2.20; Old Habit, $3. Quiniela (6-8) $7. T: 31.92.

SECOND (5/16, Grade C)—Lynns Shamrock, $19.80, $6.40, $4.60; Preferred Kevin, $3.80, $3.60; Caravelle, $11. Quiniela (2-6) $23.40. T: 31.53.

Daily Double (6-6) $135.

Caddy Casualties High in Practice

By WILL GRIMSLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A big-name golfer from overseas completed his first practice round for this week's National Open and stormed up to the caddy master.

"Get me a new caddy," he said. "This man is impossible. He has long, dirty fingernails."

Another contestant asked his caddy to go into the club house and get him a wet towel. The caddy balked.

"Fire him," the golfer fumed. "I want a caddy who jumps when I bark."

Both players got new caddies, but these were only a couple of instances at the Congressional Country Club where tempers are running hot and patience thin between high-strung golfers and the men hired to carry their bags.

"The casualty rate for caddies is running pretty high," said Jocko Miller, the caddy master. "We've had a lot of complaints. We've made a lot of shifts. It's a game of musical chairs.

"One guy fires a caddy. We give him to somebody else. The new guy is happy. That's the way it goes."

Jocko is equipped to handle such problems. Forty-seven years old, a former boxer with arms like a blacksmith and hands like hams, he is hard to faze.

Once two caddies came down on him from two directions. He grabbed one in each arm and threw them to the ground so hard the jolt broke their shoe laces. Another time an angry caddy charged him with a straight razor. Jocko let the attacker have it full in the face with a wedge, and the assailant beat a hasty retreat.

"Really it was a two-iron shot," Jocko said.

Ninety per cent of the caddies, all of whom come from this area, are Negro. They are assigned by blind draw.

A 47-year-old Negro caddy named Robert E. Lee Harrison explained the travail of his fellow workers.

"It's nothing but punishment and not worth the $90 most of us will make this week, but we have to do it to eat," he said.

"It's not like caddying for week-end foursomes. We can't walk out on the fairway and wait. We can't cut through the woods.

"We have to always be ready to clean a club, wipe a ball or hand out a new ball at the next tee. If we give a man a club and he overshoots or undershoots the green it's our fault.

"When golfers hit in the rough, we're to blame, not them. They chew us out. The course is long and tough and it's hot. We never get a drink of water. Some of the boys quit before they are fired."

The caddies called Sam Snead one of the most difficult —"He calls you bad names out loud"—and Julius Boros the best. "Mister Boros," one said, "never asks a question. All you have to do is have a clean ball for him at the next tee."

BOWLING

Pro-Am Tourney

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

For the first time in the state of Colorado a professional-amateur bowling tournament is being planned for Colorado Springs on June 27-28 at Circle Lanes.

Believed to be the first of its kind on a state-basis throughout the United Staes, the Colorado Professional Bowlers Associaion (CPBA) pro-am tourney will pit 96 professionals from various amateur keglers against 28 parts of Colorado.

Some 35 slots have been allocated for Colorado Springs bowlers and six bowling establishments will conduct individual house rolloffs to decide the local field this week and through a week from Thursday.

The pro-am tourney is slated for Saturday, June 27 and will pit a field of 124 amateurs and professionals in a three - man or women team. Three games will be bowled by each team and will be 100 per cent handicap based on 200. Scoring will be decided by a three-game total pinfall.

With a guarantee of $1,500 the pro-am tournament is open to women. There will be one professional and two amateurs on each team and there will be three squads of bowling. Each bowler will draw for his or her opponents. The top 12 places will pay off.

Included in the star - studded field of professionals are two local keglers Harry (Ike) Eichelberger and George Hoffman. Other top state pros include Bob Poole of Pueblo, and George McDonald and Jerry McCleary of Denver.

In addition to the local pro-am tournament in Colorado Springs, two additional tournaments of the same calibre will be conducted at Boulder and Grand Junction sometime this summer.

The six local establishments conducting house eliminations for the 35 slots in the pro-am tournament a week from Saturday are Peak Bowl, Ute Lanes, Circle Lanes, Classic Bowl and Ent AFB Lanes.

Eichelberger and Hoffman will also compete in the CPBA tournament which is scheduled for Sunday, June 28 at Circle Lanes with an expected field of 28 top flight state professional bowlers. In addition to the 28 pro keglers, an additional eight slots have been allocated to the top amateurs that compete in the pro-am tournament.

The 36 - field competing in the professional tourney will be shooting for $2,200 in prize money. They will bowl two blocks of six - games in head - to - head matches with the top six qualifiers competing in the finals.

LOCAL SCORERS — With the summer leagues just in progress the last two weeks, the scoring is still behind schedule as far as top scores being recorded.

With the exception of Ute Lanes, the majority of the bowling establishments report average shooting. Frank Matthews' 265 scratch game and Don Harado's 685 scratch series took the area's high game and series respectively last week. Both keglers registered their high scores at Ute Lanes.

Other scores: Lee Covey Jr. took high game among the junior set with a 219 scratch game at Ute Lanes; Sandy Ballard posted a 228 single tally at Bowl - Mor Lanes in the Women's Traveling League; and Barb DeMarco fired a 226 at Ute Lanes.

WOMEN'S TOURNEY —The Ute Lanes team, composed of Barb DeMarco, Kay Grimsley, Martha Allin, Jen Crites and Dee Carlson, walked off with first place during the twice monthly Southern Colorado BPA Women's Travèling Rournament last Sunday at Ute Lanes. The Ute Lanes team rolled a 3046 handicap series to top the field.

LaJunta Bowl of LaJunta finished in second place with a 2918, followed by Fountain Valley Bowl of Security with a 2890.

MEN'S TOURNEY — The Bowlero Lanes Keglers of Pueblo won the semi - monthly Southern Colorado BPA Traveling Tournament last Sunday at Las Animas with a 2946 handi-

LaJunta Bowl finished second with 2917, followed by Payne's Lanes of Pueblo with 2908, and Ideal Lanes of Canon City was fourth with 2865.

Sil Silvo took high single game honors with a 235 effort while Marion Shelton was second with 223. The next bournament is scheduled for this Sunday at Peak Bowl in Colorado Springs.

MR. AVERAGE SWEEPER— For the second time Peak Bowl hosted a new - type sweeper for the average bowler last weekend. Steve Sakas won the last sweeper with a 760 score for four games.

This is the only bowling establishment in the local area which sponsors a sweeper designed for the average bowler.

Twins Bolster Pitching Staff With Grant; Cards Swap 3

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins, acting quickly just before the clock struck midnight, have tapped veteran right-hander Jim (Mudcat) Grant to play a Cinderella role in the American League pennant chase.

Balked in earlier attempts to bolster their pitching staff, the Twins completed an 11th-hour deal with Cleveland Monday just before the midnight trading deadline, acquiring Grant in exchange for pitcher Lee Stange, a player to be named later and an undisclosed amount of cash.

In a major six-player deal between National League clubs, St. Louis sent former 20-game winner Ernie Broglio, reliever Bobby Shantz and outfielder Doug Clemens to the Chicago Cubs for outfielder Lou Brock and pitchers Jack Spring and Paul Toth.

Two minor moves were made —Baltimore selling outfielder Joe Gaines to Houston and Pittsburgh taking pitcher Don Cardwell off the disabled list after sending pitcher Fred Green to the minors.

The Twins have been considered legitimate AL pennant contenders, but it was generally felt they needed more pitching strength. They had pursued Dean Chance of Los Angeles but were unwillingly to break up their power trust by sending Bob Allison to the Angels.

Apparently rebuffed elsewhere also, the Twins moved in their minor league chain, farming out last year's ace reliever, Bill Dailey, and bringing up Bill Whitby, 4-3 at Charlotte.

Grant, 28, had been hit hard this season, starting nine games and completing only one. He had a 3-4 record with a 5.95 earned run average, but is an established major league starter of known quality with a 64-59 lifetime record entering this season. He was 13-14 last year.

Stange, a promising right-hander in his fourth season in the majors, ipmressed last year with a 12-5 record and a 2.62 ERA. This season, however, he had a 3-6 mark with a 4.73 ERA.

The key men in the St. Louis-Chicago trade were Broglio and Brock, who fills the Cardinals' need for additional outfielding help.

Broglio, a 28-year-old right-hander, apparently became surplus when the Cardinals acquired pitcher Glen Hobbie from the Cubs in an earlier trade. Broglio was 21-9 in 1960 and had an 18-8 record last year, but was 3-5 this season with a 3.53 ERA.

Brock, a speedy 24-year-old flychaser who bats left-handed, is in his fourth season in the majors. He hit .258 last season with nine homers and 37 runs batted in. He was hitting at a .257 clip for the Cubs with two homers and 14 runs driven in.

Lema Seeks Third Straight Win

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Can a man win three golf tournaments in a row, especially if the third one is the U.S. Open?

Champagne Tony Lema's chances for a third straight were much talked about at Congressional Country Club as the elite of golf gathered for the big one, which starts Thursday. Lema won the recent Thunderbird and Buick opens.

One fellow who wasn't talking was Lema, himself. He skipped the first day of practice Monday entirely. A notorious worry-wart, Lema may have spent the day getting his nerves under control.

He missed some steambath weather that would have driven a sensible bedouin to shelter, and his camel, too, but all the other favorites in the field tested the layout.

Arnold Palmer said he was "getting seriously worried" about his putting—which is a good sign.

"I'm playing all right, but I'm putting very badly." Palmer said. "It's exactly the way I was before the Masters this year"—which he won with ease.

Jack Nicklaus also maneuvered the ball well. Nicklaus and Palmer both came down last week for practice rounds.

"I played 50 holes and never got a birdie," Nicklaus said. "This time I got a birdie on the third hole. I'm improving."

Billy Casper, 1959 winner, played only nine holes in midday heat.

Ted Hart Top Pro In Tourney

Trinidad's Ted Hart led a group of golf professionals from throughout the state in a rotating Pro-Am tournament held at the Valley Hi Country Club in Colorado Springs Monday and walked off with the top prize on the strength of a two - under - par 70 round.

Hart also used his hot round to help two of the amateurs win top spots in the Pro-Am standings as the professionals matched their scores in a best-ball round for low team scores. He combined with Dave Gutierrez of Ft. Carson for third place in the Pro-Am with a 64 and also John Mays with a fourth place tie of 65.

Other leaders among the pros were J. D. Taylor of Valley Country Club in Denver with 71, Ian McPhee of Meadow Hills CC in Denver with 72, Al Benefiel of Green Gables CC in Denver with 73, Larry Brooks of Pueblo City Park with 75 and Ralph Haddad of Fitzsimons of Denver with another 75.

Brooks combined his round with Ted Todisco of Pueblo for the low best - ball round of 63, which tied them with Al Artach of Meadow Hills and Bob Mattreal. Hart and Gutierrez were third, Brooks and Huskins, Lars Larson of Colorado Springs Country Club and Bill Huber of Colorado Springs, Hart and Mays, and McPhee and Parker Boggs of Valley Hi all tied for fourth with 65.

The low amateur gross score went to Homer Hunn of Arapahce CC in Denver with 75, and Huber was low net amateur with 65.

Each Monday the pros from throughout the state rotate to one of the golf courses in the region for this Pro-Am tournament. There were 72 players taking part in the Valley Hi meet, hosted by pro Paul Ransom.

BOBO GETS HAND IN COMEBACK TRAIL—Carl (Bobo) Olson, left, indulges in a friendly game of Indian wrestling with Johnny Persol during a pre-fight physical examination in the New York State Athletic Commission office. Bobo was last in New York in 1955 when he was knocked out in three rounds by Archie Moore. Since then he has lost his middleweight title, his first wife and his old manager. Now a light heavyweight, he'll meet Persol, who is only 24 to Bobo's 35, in Madison Square Garden on Friday night. (AP Wirephoto)

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Maine's pressure-loving upstarts are in the NCAA baseball final round, thanks to a stringbean sophomore pitcher with "poise, courage, great control and enough English to offset his lack of a fast ball."

His name is Joe Ferris and the words are those of the coach, Jack Butterfield, a former pitcher at Maine. Ferris is a 6-4 right-hander who ousted Southern California's defending champions 2-1 Monday night in the fourth round.

Next foe for the giant killers is pitching-rich Missouri, which handed Minnesota its first defeat 4-1 by holding the Big Ten cahmps on one hit. Minnesota then drew a bye.

The winner of the Missouri-Maine game will face Minnesota for the championship Wednesday night.

Ferris has pitched through the district playoffs and the College World Series with a plastic cast protecting two broken bones in his left wrist. But he stopped Seton Hall 5-1 in the first round, saved a 4-2 upset of Arizona Saturday, then went the route against proud USC.

He was mobbed by his teammates after the final out and the crowd of 9,174 gave their adopted favorites a rousing cheer.

After a shaky start, Ferris was in trouble only in the eighth. With two down and two on, Maine third baseman Dave Thompson hesitated going to third on a forceout, then decided to throw to second. It was too late and the bases were loaded.

Carl Merrill, Maine catcher who drove in both runs, said "Gaza (Ferris) wasn't shaken one bit. Before Thompson could say anything, Gaza told him 'forget it, I'll get the next guy.' He did, with a grounder to Thompson."

"We call him Gaza," Butterfield said, "because he's Lebanese and the Gaza Strip is famous."

Maine's success in its first major NCAA tourney in any sport has Orono, a town of about 6,000 in an uproar.

"We were picked fifth in our league because we had so many sophomores," Butterfield said. "We were underdogs against Northeastern in the district at Fenway Park in Boston but won 9-5 and 4-2.

"In this tourney we've had three errorless games out of four—not bad for some country boys," the coach said. "Merrill and shortstop Dick De Varney are the key players—they hold us together."

Maine will use senior Dick Dolloff, 4-3, against Missouri's talented sophomore, Dennis Musgraves, 6-2, tonight. Keith Weber and Jim Nelson halted Minnesota with one hit, a first inning single. Weber walked 12 in his 6 1-3 innings and Minnesota left 16 on base. Bob Price drove in the first two Missouri runs and was 3-for-4.

Twin Quin Successful At Pueblo

PUEBLO — Mrs. P. H. Pursel's P. H.'s Pistol, the opening favorite in the inaugural feature last Wednesday, gets a chance to make amends in Tuesday night's feature at Pueblo Greyhound Park after having run out of the money in the initial effort.

Other dogs in the race include George S. Murphey's T. V. Nick Miku, a greyhound that ran at Colorado Springs last year, and Carl Pritchard's Tucson star, Credit Control.

The twin quiniela continues to be a top interest-getter, particularly after having passed the $1,000 mark in the payoff figure for the first time of the season on Saturday night. Saturday's reward to two ticket holders was $1,654.80 each.

Tuesday night's Twin Quin events will be the ninth and 10th races, the first half a Grade D affair over the 5-16 mile and the second half a Grade C trial over the 693-yard Wright Course.

Monday's results at Pueblo Greyhound Park

First (5/16, Grade D)—Mr. Case $9.80, $3, $2.60; Scotty's Red Boy $2.80, $2.20; Old Habit, $3. Quiniela (6-8), $7. T: 31.92.

SECOND (5/16, Grade C)—Lynns Shamrock, $19.80, $6.40, $4.60; Preferred Kevin, $3.80, $3.60; Caravelle $11. Quiniela (2-6), $23.40. T: 31.53.

Daily Double (6-6), $135.

Third (5/16, Maiden)—Sky Salute $16.20, $8.60, $7.60; Relco Honey B $5.20, $3.40; A. B.'s Comet, $2.80. Quiniela (4-7), $67.80. T: 31.94.

Fourth (5/16, Maiden)—Annie Larsen $10, $4.80, $3.20; Westy Ripper $4.20, $2.20; First Theme $2.60. Quiniela (1-8), $15.80. T: 32.02.

Fifth (693 Yards, Grade D)—Koliga June, $5.20, $2.40, $2.60; Baby Taun $3, $3; Dolly's Sandy, $7.40. Quiniela

Caddy Casualties High in Practice

By WILL GRIMSLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A big-name golfer from overseas completed his first practice round for this week's National Open and stormed up to the caddy master.

"Get me a new caddy," he said. "This man is impossible. He has long, dirty fingernails."

Another contestant asked his caddy to go into the club house and get him a wet towel. The caddy balked.

"Fire him," the golfer fumed. "I want a caddy who jumps when I bark."

Both players got new caddies, but these were only a couple of instances at the Congressional Country Club where tempers are running hot and patience thin between high-strung golfers and the men hired to carry their bags.

"The casualty rate for caddies is running pretty high," said Jocko Miller, the caddy master. "We've had a lot of complaints. We've made a lot of shifts. It's a game of musical chairs.

"One guy fires a caddy. We give him to somebody else. The new guy is happy. That's the way it goes."

Jocko is equipped to handle such problems. Forty-seven years old, a former boxer with arms like a blacksmith and hands like hams, he is hard to faze.

Once two caddies came down on him from two directions. He grabbed one in each arm and threw them to the ground so hard the jolt broke their shoe laces. Another time an angry caddy charged him with a straight razor. Jocko let the attacker have it full in the face with a wedge, and the assailant beat a hasty retreat.

"Really it was a two-iron shot," Jocko said.

Ninety per cent of the caddies, all of whom come from this area, are Negro. They are assigned by blind draw.

A 47-year-old Negro caddy named Robert E. Lee Harrison explained the travail of his fellow workers.

"It's nothing but punishment and not worth the $90 most of us will make this week, but we have to do it to eat," he said.

"It's not like caddying for week-end foursomes. We can't walk out on the fairway and wait. We can't cut through the woods.

"We have to always be ready to clean a club, wipe a ball or hand out a new ball at the next tee. If we give a man a club and he overshoots or undershoots the green it's our fault.

"When golfers hit in the rough, we're to blame, not them. They chew us out. The course is long and tough and it's hot. We never get a drink of water. Some of the boys quit before they are fired."

The caddies called Sam Snead one of the most difficult —"He calls you bad names out loud"—and Julius Boros the best. "Mister Boros," one said, "never asks a question. All you have to do is have a clean ball for him at the next tee."

Looking At Hollywood

By HEDDA HOPPER

© 1964: By the Chicago Tribune

SUSAN OLIVER IS FLYING AGAIN AFTER HYPNOSIS

Hollywood, Susan Oliver had a free hour so she began taking flying lessons from Betty Miller (first woman to fly the Pacific alone). It took self-hypnosis to get Susan back in a plane after riding that jet that dropped 25,000 feet and recovered seconds before crashing. She told herself she was living in a modern world, studied hypnosis, and talked herself out of her fear. Now she goes everywhere. News Commentator Harold Fishman takes her aloft at midnight, and Danny Kaye flew her to San Francisco for a Chinese dinner.

Joe Hyams, whose business is writing about the stars, now finds himself hot copy for the columnists since Elke Sommer says she'll wait 10 years for him if necessary. Joe's comment about that was, "It certainly is ego - satisfying."

Chuck Walters has graduated from Metro after 22 years and 20 pictures. He asked for his release and got it. Now he'll have time to see "Molly Brown" at the Radio City Music Hall. Ten of his pictures have played that theater; he has yet to see one. He was always working.

Lawrence Harvey can't do just one thing at a time, so he's agreed to make a picture titled "Darling" for Producer Joseph Janni a month after he opens "Camelot" in London.

Frank Sinatra took the family to the ball game to celebrate young Nancy's birthday. When he finishes "None but the Brave," he'll take a two-month vacation. He'll spend part of it in Sweden watching the Floyd Patterson - Eddie Machen bout (the winner fights Cassius Clay). After "Von Ryan's Express," Frank will do "Community Property" with Dean Martin and Ann-Margret, and plans to direct another picture in '65. He's surrounded by friends in his new building at Warners. Besides his own offices, he has room for Dean Martin, Jimmy Van Husen, Sammy Cahn, and Howard Koch.

Carol Lynley didn't like Spain worth a darn. She was so happy to be home, she took down the "for sale" sign on her house and bought a new car. She says her divorce cost her $25,000.

What a night they must have had at Dick Clayton's birthday party. Gary Lockwood taught Tom Tryon and Rock Hudson the Watusi, and everybody came stag except Tuesday Weld, who brought her dog. People would have paid to see that show.

Dinah Shore's Palm Springs home (brand new and beautiful) is on the market, on account of our girl is going back to work and she's not singing "It's So Nice to Have a Man Around the House." The less said about her short - time husband the better. Dinah's set for seven TV shows — will do four, and be the hostess on three.

Looking At Hollywood

By HEDDA HOPPER

SUSAN OLIVER IS FLYING AGAIN AFTER HYPNOSIS

Hollywood, Susan Oliver had a free hour so she began taking flying lessons from Betty Miller (first woman to fly the Pacific alone). It took self-hypnosis to get Susan back in a plane after riding that jet that dropped 25,000 feet and recovered seconds before crashing. She told herself she was living in a modern world, studied hypnosis, and talked herself out of her fear. Now she goes everywhere. News Commentator Harold Fishman takes her aloft at midnight, and Danny Kaye flew her to San Francisco for a Chinese dinner.

Joe Hyams, whose business is writing about the stars, now finds himself hot copy for the columnists since Elke Sommer says she'll wait 10 years for him if necessary. Joe's comment about that was, "It certainly is ego - satisfying."

Chuck Walters has graduated from Metro after 22 years and 20 pictures. He asked for his release and got it. Now he'll have time to see "Molly Brown" at the Radio City Music Hall. Ten of his pictures have played that theater; he has yet to see one. He was always working.

Lawrence Harvey can't do just one thing at a time, so he's agreed to make a picture titled "Darling" for Producer Joseph Janni a month after he opens "Camelot" in London.

Frank Sinatra took the family to the ball game to celebrate young Nancy's birthday. When he finishes "None but the Brave," he'll take a two-month vacation. He'll spend part of it in Sweden watching the Floyd Patterson - Eddie Machen bout (the winner fights Cassius Clay). After "Von Ryan's Express," Frank will do "Community Property" with Dean Martin and Ann-Margret, and plans to direct another picture in '65. He's surrounded by friends in his new building at Warners. Besides his own offices, he has room for Dean Martin, Jimmy Van Husen, Sammy Cahn, and Howard Koch.

Carol Lynley didn't like Spain worth a darn. She was so happy to be home, she took down the "for sale" sign on her house and bought a new car. She says her divorce cost her $25,000.

What a night they must have had at Dick Clayton's birthday party. Gary Lockwood taught Tom Tryon and Rock Hudson the Watusi, and everybody came stag except Tuesday Weld, who brought her dog. People would have paid to see that show.

Dinah Shore's Palm Springs home (brand new and beautiful) is on the market, on account of our girl is going back to work and she's not singing "It's So Nice to Have a Man Around the House." The less said about her short - time husband the better. Dinah's set for seven TV shows — will do four, and be the hostess on three.

Enough asphalt roofing was sold in February this year to cover 452 million square feet of roofs, 100 per cent more than in February, 1963, reports the Census Bureau.

Korean Chiefs Report Commie Troops Active

By ROBERT EUNSON

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Red forces, poised north of the demilitarized zone in divided Korea, began "significant military moves" during the recent student demonstratons in the south says President Chung Hee Park.

"All enemy aircraft were grounded as far back as May 25 and troop reinforcements were brought up in some areas" Park said.

"We don't know for sure whether they meant to regroup for combat, or just prepared because of the instability in South Korea.

The United Nations command said "no comment" when informed of Park's remarks in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press on Friday.

A state of war still exists between North and South Korea and the Communists are believed to have about 300,000 troops north of the demilitarized zone.

Park said there can be no solution to the country's whopping 2.5 million unemployment until South Korea is stable enough to encourage economic investment.

Japan has promised $500 million for South Korea once the two nations establish diplomatic relations.

Student demonstrators had charged that Park was selling out to the Japanese too cheaply. Later they demanded that his government leave office.

Martial law and press censorship, ordered in Seoul nine days ago, will be lifted "as soon as practicable," Park said.

BOOK WAS NO HELP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attempting to recover a long overdue book, Judy Oliver of Columbus Public Library's Parsons Avenue branch telephoned a patron's home.

But the patron's mother said he wouldn't be able to get in touch directly with the library, explaining: "He can't. He's in the Ohio Penitentiary."

The book that Miss Oliver sought? "The Power of Positive Thinking."

Jobs Go Begging in 8 Big-Pay Fields

WASHINGTON, D.C. It is reported that a nationwide shortage of trained people exists in eight big-pay fields: Accounting, Business Law, Income Tax, Business Management, Sales, Traffic & Transportation, Stenotype Machine Shorthand and Drafting.

Men and women who wish to qualify for the thousands of available positions are invited to send for a free booklet describing opportunities in any one of these eight fields. This booklet tells you how you can train in spare hours at home; without losing a single day's pay from your present job. You proceed at your own pace. No previous experience is required to get started.

To get your free booklet, print your name, address and the field of your choice on a post card and mail it directly to LaSalle Extension University, A Correspondence Institution, Chicago, Dept. 28-365, Box B-87, c/o Gazette Telegraph.

14 Skippers Are Racing Yachts Across Atlantic

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press International

Fourteen daring skippers are sailing their yachts singlehandedly across the Atlantic in the first renewal of one of the stiffest competitive events in marine history.

It will probably be a lonely six weeks or more for the 14 sailors before they reach the finish line 3,000 miles away at Newport, R.I. And there probably will be some challenging weather in between.

Ten of the 14 craft which started the rugged voyage at Plymouth, England, on May 23 are British, two are French, one is Australian, and one is from New Zealand.

All the skippers are experienced sailing men and include Britain's Francis Chichester, who won the first race against four opponents in 1960. He made the crossing in 40 days. The four others who sailed in that contest are trying it again.

Youngest competitor in the solo race is Robert Bunker, 27-year-old yachtsman-brewer who is at the helm of the 25 - foot Varda.

Bunker and a number of others will follow the southern route, which is longer than the direct route—3,400 miles compared to 3,000—but utilizes the trade winds to best advantage. They will pass close by the Canary Islands and Bermuda and then skirt up the eastern seaboard for the finish line at Brenton Reef Light off Newport.

Bunker hopes to reach Newport by July 4.

Several others in the fleet are taking the middle or direct route which means heading directly into the Gulf Stream for nearly two-thirds of the way.

Among the favorites are Chichester, in Gypsy Moth III, the 1960 winner; Lt. Eric Tabarly of the French Navy in the 45-ketch Pen Duick II, and Derek Kelsall in Folatre, a trimaran.

The race is sponsored by the Royal Western Yacht Club of England and a London newspaper, the Observer, will award a trophy to the winner.

Don't take lightly the prophecy of some old-timer who may cast an eye at the sky and state: "e're in for a spell of bad weather."
statement as pure mysticism, statement as pure mysticism, but most probably the prophet is more aware of tiny, all but imperceptible signs than those of us who have had the faculty of weather-awareness blunted by living in concrete cities," writes Cornelius Shields, one of this nation's outstanding yachtsman, in the current issue of The Atlantic Monthly.

Shields adds that if you are racing sailboats, it is "a wise idea to train this awareness back into your consciousness."

Shields lists some of the weather signs that he himself has noticed on the Atlantic coast. Among them:

"When, on a summer's morning, there is dew on the grass and flat surfaces, it is almost a certainty that a southwest wind will come up sometime during the day."

"The appearance of opening crocuses is unfailing in predicting northeast winds. The wind will come either on the day the flowers are first sighted or on the following day."

"When seabirds cluster inland in large groups and are reluctant to fly, it is a sign of an approaching storm."

Lion Gets Highest Price at Auction

PASCO, Wash. (AP) — Black bears went for $1 apiece and an African lion was sold for $52.

The lion's price was the highest received when the animals from the Chiawana Zoo were auctioned off here.

Donated by area residents, the animals were ordered sold when county commissioners decided they no longer could afford to operate the zoo.

RAT MEAT CANAPES

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—South Africans have been getting some pretty strange ideas about life in the United States.

A Cape Town musician recently told a Rotary Club meeting here that during a visit to the U.S. he found rat meat served as a cocktail snack.

U.S. eating habits were vindicated however, when it was found that such delicacies as kangaroo tail soup, fried grasshopper, jellied bees and caterpillars are sold in South African stores.

Local Postal Worker Heads State Federation

Two Colorado Springs postal employes were elected to executive posts of the Colorado Federation of Postal Clerks at the 43rd annual convention which ended at Greeley Sunday.

OH, MY ACHING HOOVES!

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — Cows get sore feet, too, and when a cow can barely support her weight on feet which pain her constantly, her efficiency as a milk producer is reduced, according to the Agricultural Extension Service of Vermont. The Extension's specialists recommended proper trimming and shaping of cows' feet and said that records in the University dairy herd show that foot trouble cases decreased by over 50 per cent after routine foot trimming was done on an annual basis.

Rebecca Welles Will Enroll in College

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Rebecca Welles, daughter of Orson Welles and actress Rita Hayworth, will enroll as a freshman student of fine arts at the University of Puget Sound this fall.

Mrs. Charles Curran, dean of women at the university, said here Miss Welles chose the school as "a small institution where she hopes not to be singled out in any way as a member of a famous family."

Korean Chiefs Report Commie Troops Active

By ROBERT EUNSON

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Red forces, poised north of the demilitarized zone in divided Korea, began "significant military moves" during the recent student demonstratons in the south says President Chung Hee Park.

"All enemy aircraft were grounded as far back as May 25 and troop reinforcements were brought up in some areas" Park said.

"We don't know for sure whether they meant to regroup for combat, or just prepared because of the instability in South Korea.

The United Nations command said "no comment" when informed of Park's remarks in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press on Friday.

A state of war still exists between North and South Korea and the Communists are believed to have about 300,000 troops north of the demilitarized zone.

Park said there can be no solution to the country's whopping 2.5 million unemployment until South Korea is stable enough to encourage economic investment.

Japan has promised $500 million for South Korea once the two nations establish diplomatic relations.

Student demonstrators had charged that Park was selling out to the Japanese too cheaply. Later they demanded that his government leave office.

Martial law and press censorship, ordered in Seoul nine days ago, will be lifted "as soon as practicable," Park said.

14 Skippers Are Racing Yachts Across Atlantic

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press International

Fourteen daring skippers are sailing their yachts singlehandedly across the Atlantic in the first renewal of one of the stiffest competitive events in marine history.

It will probably be a lonely six weeks or more for the 14 sailors before they reach the finish line 3,000 miles away at Newport, R.I. And there probably will be some challenging weather in between.

Ten of the 14 craft which started the rugged voyage at Plymouth, England, on May 23 are British, two are French, one is Australian, and one is from New Zealand.

All the skippers are experienced sailing men and include Britain's Francis Chichester, who won the first race against four opponents in 1960. He made the crossing in 40 days. The four others who sailed in that contest are trying it again.

Youngest competitor in the solo race is Robert Bunker, 27-year-old yachtsman-brewer who is at the helm of the 25 - foot Varda.

Bunker and a number of others will follow the southern route, which is longer than the direct route—3,400 miles compared to 3,000—but utilizes the trade winds to best advantage. They will pass close by the Canary Islands and Bermuda and then skirt up the eastern seaboard for the finish line at Brenton Reef Light off Newport.

Bunker hopes to reach Newport by July 4.

Several others in the fleet are taking the middle or direct route which means heading directly into the Gulf Stream for nearly two-thirds of the way.

Among the favorites are Chichester, in Gypsy Moth III, the 1960 winner; Lt. Eric Tabarly of the French Navy in the 45-ketch Pen Duick II, and Derek Kelsall in Folatre, a trimaran.

The race is sponsored by the Royal Western Yacht Club of England and a London newspaper, the Observer, will award a trophy to the winner.

Don't take lightly the prophecy of some old-timer who may cast an eye at the sky and state: "e're in for a spell of bad weather."

statement as pure mysticism, statement as pure mysticism, but most probably the prophet is more aware of tiny, all but imperceptible signs than those of us who have had the faculty of weather-awareness blunted by living in concrete cities," writes Cornelius Shields, one of this nation's outstanding yachtsman, in the current issue of The Atlantic Monthly.

Shields adds that if you are racing sailboats, it is "a wise idea to train this awareness back into your consciousness."

Shields lists some of the weather signs that he himself has noticed on the Atlantic coast. Among them:

"When, on a summer's morning, there is dew on the grass and flat surfaces, it is almost a certainty that a southwest wind will come up sometime during the day."

"The appearance of opening crocuses is unfailing in predicting northeast winds. The wind will come either on the day the flowers are first sighted or on the following day."

"When seabirds cluster inland in large groups and are reluctant to fly, it is a sign of an approaching storm."

Jobs Go Begging in 8 Big-Pay Fields

WASHINGTON, D.C. It is reported that a nationwide shortage of trained people exists in eight big - pay fields: Accounting, Business Law, Income Tax, Business Management, Sales, Traffic & Transportation, Stenotype Machine Shorthand and Drafting.

Men and women who wish to qualify for the thousands of available positions are invited to send for a free booklet describing opportunities in any one of these eight fields. This booklet tells you how you can train in spare hours at home; without losing a single day's pay from your present job. You proceed at your own pace. No previous experience is required to get started.

To get your free booklet, print your name, address and the field of your choice on a post card and mail it directly to LaSalle Extension University, A Correspondence Institution, Chicago, Dept. 28-365, Box B-87, c/o Gazette Telegraph.

Lion Gets Highest Price at Auction

PASCO, Wash. (AP) — Black bears went for $1 apiece and an African lion was sold for $52.

The lion's price was the highest received when the animals from the Chiawana Zoo were auctioned off here.

Donated by area residents, the animals were ordered sold when county commissioners decided they no longer could afford to operate the zoo.

RAT MEAT CANAPES

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—South Africans have been getting some pretty strange ideas about life in the United States.

A Cape Town musician recently told a Rotary Club meeting here that during a visit to the U.S. he found rat meat served as a cocktail snack.

U.S. eating habits were vindicated however, when it was found that such delicacies as kangaroo tail soup, fried grasshopper, jellied bees and caterpillars are sold in South African stores.

Local Postal Worker Heads State Federation

Two Colorado Springs postal employes were elected to executive posts of the Colorado Federation of Postal Clerks at the 43rd annual convention which ended at Greeley Sunday.

OH, MY ACHING HOOVES!

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — Cows get sore feet, too, and when a cow can barely support her weight on feet which pain her constantly, her efficiency as a milk producer is reduced, according to the Agricultural Extension Service of Vermont. The Extension's specialists recommended proper trimming and shaping of cows' feet and said that records in the University dairy herd show that foot trouble cases decreased by over 50 per cent after routine foot trimming was done on an annual basis.

Rebecca Welles Will Enroll in College

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Rebecca Welles, daughter of Orson Welles and actress Rita Hayworth, will enroll as a freshman student of fine arts at the University of Puget Sound this fall.

Mrs. Charles Curran, dean of women at the university, said here Miss Welles chose the school as "a small institution where she hopes not to be singled out in any way as a member of a famous family."

GAZETTE-TELEGRAPH
Your Freedom Newspaper
Ever striving for the Pikes Peak Region to be an even better place to live

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Work for Its Own Sake

We're going to comment on the present kaleidoscopic political scene.

Ordinarily, we refrain from discussing it. But the current mania has reached the proportions of a national move toward mental delinquency and possibly something should be said.

One of the reasons we don't get too heated up over these campaigns is that after all the tumult and shouting dies away, regardless of the name of the victor, the results are pathetically repetitious of whatever has gone before.

Reform, in the grand tradition, seems to mean nowadays that a few new names go into mail slots in Washington, D.C., postboxes and the same old effort is made to enlarge the government, collect more taxes, and dream up new cliches to show that we live in the best of all possible worlds.

But we'll have to tip our hat to Barry Goldwater. Here is a man who knows what he wants and is out working to get it. And we do admire a worker.

Why Mr. Goldwater wants to be president, we can't imagine. He used to have a connection with a lucrative business down in Arizona but he gave up that connection. But Mr. Goldwater wants to be the president of this country and we'll give him a small gold star for showing the rest of the candidates in the country how to work for what he wants.

We don't have a computer handy and we have no way of forecasting the results of the current hypertension, but we will say that if Barry wins the nomination it will be because he deserves it. It's been a long time since we've seen anyone with the willingness to get out and work up a sweat the way this man does. We can only ruefully reflect on the amount of good he could be doing if he were tending to business (down in Arizona) and building up his ability to produce and to provide goods and services for his customers. This same energy, channeled into the market place, could make a lot of difference to a lot of people. And it might conceivably turn the candidate into a respected and respectable business success.

Assuming that Mr. Goldwater wins the GOP nod at the convention (July 13) he will then be confronted with the real contest. But it's a tough chore to take on any office holder and with the prestige and the power of the presidential office behind him, Lyndon Johnson is going to be difficult if not impossible to overcome.

Still, if pure work will accomplish anything, Johnson is in for a fight. Not that Johnson is afraid of work, either. The two titans will probably conduct a running duel that will burn some astonishing facts into the record.

Of course, Goldwater may not win the primary. Here he's up against, not merely the job of attracting a following, but of bucking a machine which is fairly well oiled and is manned by the pros. But if his behavior for the past two years is any criterion, once more the Goldwater formula, spelled W-O-R-K, may be all that it takes.

Thus, win or lose, Goldwater has spelled out something that all Americans ought to take to heart. Never mind the political outcome. Somebody will win in November and whoever it is, politically speaking, conditions will remain much as they have been.

But Goldwater has delivered a stern lesson to the flagging ambitions of millions of Americans. If there is something in life that you want . . .there is one excellent method of getting it. Get out and hustle.

Goldwater hasn't always been wise and often he fails to windward of anything resembling wisdom. But this is true of all of us. And what we can learn from him is the fact that even bad judgment or bad temper can be overcome if a guy will just keep everlastingly plugging for the goal he has in mind.

This is a lesson that is both important and going begging.

Too many folks, unless they get "the breaks" or unless somebody comes forward to offer some kind of assistance, wither and die on the vine. These are the alibi ikes. They don't expect to EARN their way; they expect to WIN by good fortune and a lucky flip of the dice.

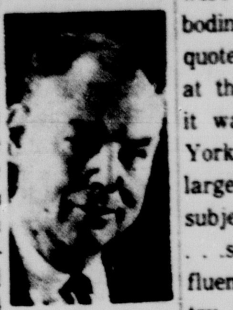
You see, the real merit of the Goldwater epoch doesn't lie in the possibility of victory. That may or may not come. Work is something that, in itself, provides the uttermost soul satisfaction. Anyone can lose sometimes. But what is important is that in spite of a loss, you fought the good fight.

If Goldwater does lose, we hope he'll return to the market place and, like the capable worker that he is, buckle down to produce. That would be really worth while.

These Days

The Party Is Still Alive

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN



The Goldwater victory in California means that the Republican Party is still breathing. But it is still a long way from being in robust health.

If the battle had gone the other way, the party would, in the estimation of this columnist, be dead insofar as 1964 is concerned. My reason for thinking this derives from many conversations with people who have been working their hearts out in the Goldwater grassroots movement for well over a year. These people are not now, and never have been, in the mood to take a liberal Republican candidate in 1964. Intensity in politics does not, of course, register at the polls with any more numerical effectiveness than a casual or half-hearted pull at the lever. But the grassroots Goldwaterites, despite their chief's pleas for Republican regularity no matter whom the candidate might be, would certainly stay home rather than vote for a liberal. Some of them, indeed, would vote for Lyndon Johnson purely out of spite, or out of a wish to give Republicans a lesson.

'PLOT' THEORY

Psychologically, many of the grassroots Goldwaterites reacted to the post-Oregon news of a Rockefeller upsurge with a bitter rehearsal of the "plot" theory of Republican "establishment" domination. The mails were flooded with their forebodings. Robert A. Taft was quoted as saying of his defeat at the 1952 convention. "First, it was the power of the New York financial interests and a large number of businessmen subject to New York influence . . .second, four-fifths of the influential newspapers in the country were opposed to me continuously and vociferously and many turned themselves into propaganda sheets for my opponent. . ." The "plot" theory went on to say, in a typical mimeographed letter sent out by an outraged Goldwaterite: "In 1940 Wendell Willkie had moved to the springboard of New York and received 105 votes on the first ballot in the Republican convention. Propelled by the establishment, Republican delegates began climbing the Willkie bandwagon like monkeys on a string."

The California result this year proves, of course, that Pacific coast Republicanism is not dominated by New York bankers and newspaper proprietors. But if the vote had gone the other way for whatever reason, no fervent Goldwaterite would ever have believed that the result was natural.

ELSEWHERE

In the New York State primaries, held simultaneously with the California show, the Goldwaterites elected one delegate in Erie County and came within 38 votes of putting over a second delegate. Elsewhere in Nassau, Staten Island and Queens, they came close enough to throw a distinct scare into the dominant organization bosses. Moreover, conservative Republicans such as U.S. Congressmen Becker and Derounian, as delegates from Long Island districts, will hardly lend themselves to any stop Goldwater movement on the second or third ballot at San Francisco.

If the Republican Party has been saved by the Goldwater victory from a ponderable secession of middle class suburbanites from its ranks, this does not necessarily mean that the party can win in November under conservative leadership. The liberals have their menacing swing vote, too. And the great number of liberal publicists who want a choice between two major party liberals will, in the very likely event that Goldwater gets his necessary 655 convention votes in San Francisco, line up practically en masse behind Lyndon Johnson. Maybe they were destined to turn up there anyway.

If Goldwater carries the day at San Francisco, he will be in a good position to make peace with the party regulars among the liberals. He refrained from saying nasty things about liberals all through the last hectic days in California. And he has set a record around the country for helping regular Republicans of all shades of opinion to extinguish past debts and raise new campaign money.

However, to counter the liberal defections from a Goldwater slate, the most intense sort of campaign against Lyndon Johnson must be waged. A polite, good-natured Goldwater will not be able to do it. Whether Barry can take the gloves off has yet to be proved. He will never be a mean man, but he must become an angry man to win.

Expectations

'The Rich, Richer-The Poor, Poorer'

We have recently heard from a very fine man who is an active socialist and probably does not even know it. This is not really unusual. There are more people in the nation who are semi-socialists than is generally recognized.

But what is unusual about the communication we have from this particular gentleman is the incredible naivete he displays regarding economic facts, when he himself assumes the role of economic adviser.

For instance, he says in his letter, "Most economists as well as the rank and file of our educators assume that the increase in total wealth of society during any given period of time simply happened."

Frankly, we don't know of a single economist who would make such a statement. The entire purpose and scope of economic study is an inquiry into the production of wealth in an effort to explain why it happens. Granted that there are nearly as many theories as to how this process occurs as there are men studying the matter, the fact is that no one we know of assumes that it "simply happened."

It is axiomatic that an economist is often wrong but never in doubt. But our communicant goes on from this preposterous beginning by taking up the age-old fallacy of Marx that in a modern economic system the rich get richer and the poor get poorer. He bases his view on what he calls the "system of privilege" in our own society, in which a certain class obtains wealth by robbing all other classes, notably the working class.

His argument is classic Marxism, which, we have been advised, is dying out. Certainly, it ought to die out for it has been refuted time and again. But let's attempt it once more.

First, we'd suggest that our friend take a good look around him at the EVIDENCE before he continues advising people along the line he has chosen. Marx to the contrary, the overwhelming data shows that while the rich may get richer, the poor get richer, too. The poor are not the employed workers, which is what we are now told. The poor are merely the few who are not working.

For in today's world, especially in our productive economy in this country, the worker commands a flow of wealth pouring into his hands that was unequaled by even the very wealthy of a couple of hundred years ago.

If the theory is factual that the poor get poorer, then the impoverished workers of 1766 are now in worse shape in 1964 than they were just before our Revolutionary war with Britain. Well, are they?

The system employed is basically the same, although it is true that the workers are not as well off as they could be were they not progressively exploited. But the exploitation comes, not from the rich, as our friend supposes, but from the state.

We are all of us, rich and poor alike, looted systematically of what we produce to the enhancement of the political sinecure.

But this is not our friend's position. It is his view that the worker is robbed of what he produces by the man who owns the tools of production, the capitalist. If all the capital in this nation were seized by force and redistributed among all the workers, the total net result would not equal so much as one week's wages for each of the "robbed" workers. While claiming that no economist knows how wealth comes into being, it is our friend who does not seem to grasp it at all.

Here we have the discredited and outmoded "labor theory of value" at its primitive purity. "The only source of all increased wealth is the production arising from the toil of the masses."

Fiddlesticks! The only source of increased wealth for anyone comes from the accumulation of capital in the hands of far-seeing capitalists, who buy and develop the tools by means of which natural resources can be converted into wealth. Without those tools and without these accumulations of capital, beginning with the land and the buildings on them, we would still have the labor of the masses, toiling 18 hours a day trying to scratch a living from the earth.

Instead, less than 6 per cent of our total population is engaged in basic agriculture. And they aren't scratching. They have powerful tools that get out and do the work almost with push - button efficiency. And tools came into their hands because other men made it possible by putting millions and millions of dollars into one pile and from that pile, buying the machine tools and the raw materials which employ millions.

The same process is occuring to some degree in every area of production. New accumulations of capital make possible increased wealth on every hand particularly among the poor. While it is true that everyone in this nation is not gainfully employed at the moment, it is also true that the numbers of persons gainfully employed enlarge substantially each year on a numerical basis. Thus, while capitalism hasn't wiped out poverty, it has eliminated the bulk of the poverty that we once had.

Before attacking the free market system, we ought to pause a moment to reflect on the gains it has brought.

If it has not been 100 per cent effective, it also has not been 100 per cent free. What we should do is to strive to make the market more free. By doing so, we will be maximizing our ability to eliminate the poor.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question No. 520: "Would tax-supported schools collapse as T. Robert Ingram says in his pamphlet, 'Schools, Government or Public,' if compulsory attendance laws were repealed? Do you agree as he further states, 'If you did not empower the policemen to arrest anyone who does not send his children to a particular school how long do you think the wretched schools we must put up with would last?' "

Answer: Those are good sound questions. Whether they would collapse as he figures or not, it certainly would give them a good test.

T. Robert Ingram in closing his pamphlet writes, "I assure you the public would very soon restore good schools by supporting the good ones freely and withdrawing freely from the bad ones. That is the nature of public institutions and believe me, the voice of the people is a loud one. If we are truly a Christian people, we will take again the control of our schools and reassert our convictions that it is God that teacheth man knowledge — not Caesar."

This is a splendid pamphlet and can be purchased from the St. Thomas Press, P. O. Box 35096, Houston 35, Texas, for 35 cents. If you want to know how government schools got their start and what they are doing to us, it is well worth your money and time to read this 16-page pamphlet.

Questions are limited to general human relations questions that will improve the well-being of all mankind on this earth.

Wit and Whimsy

Heckler: "Are you sure of that?"

Speaker: "Yes, absolutely."

A man was taking an examination for an auto-driving license, and one of the questions asked was:

"What would you do if the driver of a car ahead moved arm up and down?"

"Man or woman?" asked the applicant.

ANTI-POVERTY PROPOSAL

To the Editor:

Senate Bill 2642 and House Bill 10440 are top - priority welfare (or give-away) bills proposed by the Johnson administration. They are being pushed to the limit because this is a presidential election year. They are Title 1 — Youth Programs, price tag: 412.5 millions annually. Work and training to male youths 16 to 21 years, to increase employability by education, vocational and work experience. Members assigned to about 100 camps and training centers. $190,000 to this program.

Title 2 — Community Action, price tag: 315 million annually. Calls for grants that would pay up to 90 per cent of the cost to provide assistance for low - income families in such areas as education, employment, job training, and counselling, health, vocational rehabilitation, housing, home management and welfare.

Title 3 — Rural Poverty, price tag: 50 million annually. Director would be authorized to make grants up to $1,500 to low-income rural families, if likely to produce an increase in the income of recipient. Loans up to $2,500 to low-income rural families to finance "non-agricultural" enterprises, that would increase their income. And assistance to non-profit corporations in acquiring land and developing it into family farms for sale to low-income families.

Title 4 — Employment and Investment Incentives, price tag: 25 million annually. Director could make or guarantee 25-year loans that would produce stable employment for individuals not already employed by the borrower. $25 million annually. Director could also make loans for 15 years for $15,000 to small businesses on more liberal terms than the Small Business Administration. The money would have to go for training and employment of long-term unemployed individuals. $25 million required for this part annually, would come from Small Business Administration, not H.R. 10440.

Title 5 — Family Unity, price tag: 150 million annually. Director could transfer $150 million to Health, Education and Welfare for demonstration projects for training unemployed fathers and others.

Title 6 — Salary of Director, $22,500. Four deputies $20,500, and $20,000 annually for a number of other helpers. Director would train "Volunteers for America," numbering from 3,000 to 5,000; each would be paid $40 per month plus room and board.

Title 7 — Authorizes $962.5 million for the fiscal year 1965, and such sums as are necessary in the future years.

This is Johnson's bill, with slight abbreviations. If President Johnson thinks he was put in the position he occupies temporarily with the object of shoveling out all the assets of the nation, he is sure doing a good job. He is continuing all the extravagances started by President Kennedy, and then adding on bigger ones of his own. If he is not stopped, he will have our national debt up to $500 billion. I imagine it is not far from that now in view of the obligations for Social Security, pensions for soldiers, and wounded, judges, lawmakers, ex-Presidents, and many other items that are not included in the present estimate of $315 billion. The loss the government will have in the bad mortgages of the housing that has been going on for years will help to swell the total. When you sell a house without any down payment, you are as crazy as our government; they do it all the time and often lose.

The salary of the director and his overpaid assistants would go a long way toward relieving poor folks, in fact they will be the ones that will profit most from this boondoggle. Even the ones who get $40 a month and board and room will probably be getting more than their present salary if they have any at the present time.

It will be no trouble for the director to make loans — they might as well be called by their right name, gifts. When you make loans like that, you are on the road that has no return, not even a thank you. They will be sure to come back for more of the same.

To make a short story of this I will plainly state that this bill will not alleviate the suffering of the poverty-stricken people. The few that will take the instructions will not be able to use them after they finish. If they do find jobs, they will probably displace some better man and let him hunt for another job.

If Mr. Johnson was in earnest about his desire to help the poor, he has ample opportunity to help with his own money, but no, he wants to increase the debt of the nation which has given him his highest honors. Without any legal right he is trying to obligate this entire nation to follow his petty program, that if enacted would obligate all the states to contribute heavily for the poor of just a few states. Doesn't he know that every state has its own poor to provide for? No, he wants to make everybody help save the poor of Appalachia, part of which includes the Johnson poor-farm.

He should take care of the poor on his own property before he takes on himself the responsibility of taking care of so many with the money of all the states.

Why does he not do something about the war in Cuba, the Panama Canal? Why is he disarming us in many ways? Why does he not get the Baker case settled? He claimed he was for economy, and has increased the employees in Washington by the hundreds, when they already had too many.

He shirks the things he should do, in order to force the Civil Rights Bill and now the Anti-Poverty Bill. In fact, he is not supposed to try to force Congress to do anything. He is the Executive, Congress is the lawmaker. He has no business trying to force things down their throats.

Congress could stop him by refusing to do his bidding. They might make their own laws without his help and do a better job.

Faith Flew Out the Window

By GEORGE BOARDMAN

And where did the silver dollars go?

Occasional press releases dictated by government, imply that hoarders and collectors have removed all the silver dollars from circulation without defining the words "hoarders" or "collectors." Of course, bright people who could afford it started collecting and hoarding silver dollars a couple of years ago, in the same sense that people save money, then hoard it by placing it in savings banks or a private piggy bank. But let's take a look at a couple of facts.

The Federal Reserve one-dollar bill brought home one of the facts of financial life to a good many people who paid no attention to Federal Reserve notes in $5 and $10 and $20 denominations. More and more conversation from government about withdrawing the last bare semblance of precious metal backing for money bit into the consciousness of others with rather frightening pain. Expert economists connected with government or fearfully tied to the status quo made a few remarks about a proposed stainless steel quarter, and more and more people began looking at what they were using for money.

People who never clicked one silver dollar against another before in their lives asked for a few silver dollars from banks, then took them out of circulation. Men and women looked at their one-dollar bills and tucked them away in the back of purses and billfolds when they noticed some redeemable in silver. They spent the Federal Reserve one dollar bills first, then fives and tens and 20's, while hanging on tightly to the dollar bills which are redeemable in silver. They put silver dollars in places of safe keeping and their lack of faith in paper currency which is not redeemable in precious metal has been graphically illustrated by the disappearance of silver dollars from circulation.

Candidates aspiring to political rulership aren't mentioning this obvious fact of economic life. Officialdom, as always, refuses to look any fact in the eye and the prattling conversation about the situation from experts has been worse than nonsense.

A few days ago, at a meeting of bankers, striving with gutless vigor to ride a third rail which didn't exist, a momentary break in the dullness resulted in a resolution asking government to mint 175 million nice, new silver dollars immediately, if not sooner. Despite their enslavement to government and the Federal Reserve System, bankers occasionally come in contact with depositors and customers of the banks, generally, and they are just beginning to recognize a situation which has been in the building for a couple of years.

Privately, a good many wealthy people wish they could find something which might renew their faith in American money sufficiently so they could quit paying Swiss bankers to guard their wealth, and don't try to imagine I'm just writing off the top of my head.

In the midst of "plenty" and all us poverty-stricken but tax-plagued subjects of governmental compassion, every political candidate who is not blind as well as being deaf and dumb, is occasionally discovered mumbling something which sounds like, "I hope nothing happens until after the election." If a shred of conscience remains, politicians must numb their narrow thinking to a currency in which a great many people have obviously lost faith and the bankrupt social security system, and it's not easy, even for them.

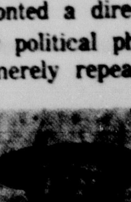
Of course, we poverty-stricken victims of government compassion haven't a great deal to worry about. I still possess a 75-year-old double-cased gold watch which is worth more and more funny money every day, and one or two other relics of a superstitious age. But, don't make me an offer unless you have silver dollars.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

The Old Mountaineer

Challenge to Beliefs

By FRANK McDONOUGH, JR.



We have confronted a direct opposition to our political philosophies. This merely repeats the history of conflicts between nations of the earth. The true conflict now comes out into the open. All peoples have in their own way worshipped a God which to them is omnipotent. Now the attack comes directly against God and will determine whether we shall continue upon the very basis which has supported our nation.

Our enemies have infiltrated all too far into our social structure, and in our courts and schools and our social life the existence of an omnipotent power is not only questioned but attacked.

Is there a God? Truly, this earth has been formed with definite planning which has varied but little over the years. There are physical laws which are studied and which we must obey, otherwise chaos would result. Truly, there are also spiritual laws which are as immutable as the physical structure which we recognize. Schemes of things do not exactly happen. They are the result of a definite plan by a Creator whom we do not exactly understand. Perhaps this is our weakness.

Now in our courts, in our schools, and in our general social structure the existence and the power and the glory of God is challenged.

Today is truly an hour of decision. We may concede the battle as being the easiest way out because it is always irksome to have to obey laws. As I see it, conceding to our enemies a false philosophy would be the beginning of the loss of all decent laws of life and we would fast take on a demoralization affecting every phase of our lives.

Our God is the foundation stone of our governmental life. Without a true God, we would have no place in which to turn for courage and strength in our daily life. With freedom of religion let all who disbelieve go their own ways but let us preserve to our nation a belief that we are guided by One who created the place in which we live and our own pathways of rectitude. We must continue to trust in that power which is so much greater than we are. We must continue to abide by all of His laws and we must continue our pathways of the past in the belief of an almighty God that we may continue in the strength that we gained by our reliance upon Him.

This is your fight and mine, and we cannot let our trust and our belief go by default to those who would destroy our basic foundation.

LIBERTY

If the true spark of religious and civil liberty be kindled, it will burn. Human agency cannot extinguish it. Like the earth's central fire, it may be smothered for a time, but at some time or other, in some place or other, the volcano will break out and flame up to heaven.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Work for Its Own Sake

We're going to comment on the present kaleidoscopic political scene.

Ordinarily, we refrain from discussing it. But the current mania has reached the proportions of a national move toward mental delinquency and possibly something should be said.

One of the reasons we don't get too heated up over these campaigns is that after all the tumult and shouting dies away, regardless of the name of the victor, the results are pathetically repetitious of whatever has gone before.

Reform, in the grand tradition, seems to mean nowadays that a few new names go into mail slots in Washington, D.C., postboxes and the same old effort is made to enlarge the government, collect more taxes, and dream up new cliches to show that we live in the best of all possible worlds.

But we'll have to tip our hat to Barry Goldwater. Here is a man who knows what he wants and is out working to get it. And we do admire a worker.

Why Mr. Goldwater wants to be president, we can't imagine. He used to have a connection with a lucrative business down in Arizona but he gave up that connection. But Mr. Goldwater wants to be the president of this country and we'll give him a small gold star for showing the rest of the candidates in the country how to work for what he wants.

We don't have a computer handy and we have no way of forecasting the results of the current hypertension, but we will say that if Barry wins the nomination it will be because he deserves it. It's been a long time since we've seen anyone with the willingness to get out and work up a sweat the way this man does. We can only ruefully reflect on the amount of good he could be doing if he were tending to business (down in Arizona) and building up his ability to produce and to provide goods and services for his customers. This same energy, channeled into the market place, could make a lot of difference to a lot of people. And it might conceivably turn the candidate into a respected and respectable business success.

Assuming that Mr. Goldwater wins the GOP nod at the convention (July 13) he will then be confronted with the real contest. But it's a tough chore to take on any office holder and with the prestige and the power of the presidential office behind him, Lyndon Johnson is going to be difficult if not impossible to overcome.

Still, if pure work will accomplish anything, Johnson is in for a fight. Not that Johnson is afraid of work, either. The two titans will probably conduct a running duel that will burn some astonishing facts into the record.

Of course, Goldwater may not win the primary. Here he's up against, not merely the job of attracting a following, but of bucking a machine which is fairly well oiled and is manned by the pros. But if his behavior for the past two years is any criterion, once more the Goldwater formula, spelled W-O-R-K, may be all that it takes.

Thus, win or lose, Goldwater has spelled out something that all Americans ought to take to heart. Never mind the political outcome. Somebody will win in November and whoever it is, politically speaking, conditions will remain much as they have been.

But Goldwater has delivered a stern lesson to the flagging ambitions of millions of Americans. If there is something in life that you want. . .there is one excellent method of getting it. Get out and hustle.

Goldwater hasn't always been wise and often he falls to windward of anything resembling wisdom. But this is true of all of us. And what we can learn from him is the fact that even bad judgment or bad temper can be overcome if a guy will just keep everlastingly plugging for the goal he has in mind.

This is a lesson that is both important and going begging.

Too many folks, unless they get "the breaks" or unless somebody comes forward to offer some kind of assistance, wither and die on the vine. These are the alibi ikes. They don't expect to EARN their way; they expect to WIN by good fortune and a lucky flip of the dice.

You see, the real merit of the Goldwater epoch doesn't lie in the possibility of victory. That may or may not come. Work is something that, in itself, provides the uttermost soul satisfaction. Anyone can lose sometimes. But what is important is that in spite of a loss, you fought the good fight.

If Goldwater does lose, we hope he'll return to the market place and, like the capable worker that he is, buckle down to produce. That would be really worth while.

Expectations

Lots of people go looking for a job expecting to BE someone and not expecting to WORK.

'The Rich, Richer-The Poor, Poorer'

We have recently heard from a very fine man who is an active socialist and probably does not even know it. This is not really unusual. There are more people in the nation who are semi-socialists than is generally recognized.

But what is unusual about the communication we have from this particular gentleman is the incredible naivete he displays regarding economic facts, when he himself assumes the role of economic adviser.

For instance, he says in his letter, "Most economists as well as the rank and file of our educators assume that the increase in total wealth of society during any given period of time simply happened."

Frankly, we don't know of a single economist who would make such a statement. The entire purpose and scope of economic study is an inquiry into the production of wealth in an effort to explain why it happens. Granted that there are nearly as many theories as to how this process occurs as there are men studying the matter, the fact is that no one we know of assumes that it "simply happened."

It is axiomatic that an economist is often wrong but never in doubt. But our communicant goes on from this preposterous beginning by taking up the age-old fallacy of Marx that in a modern economic system the rich get richer and the poor get poorer. He bases his view on what he calls the "system of privilege" in our own society, in which a certain class obtains wealth by robbing all other classes, notably the working class.

His argument is classic Marxism, which, we have been advised, is dying out. Certainly, it ought to die out for it has been refuted time and again. But let's attempt it once more.

First, we'd suggest that our friend take a good look around him at the EVIDENCE before he continues advising people along the line he has chosen. Marx to the contrary, the overwhelming data shows that while the rich may get richer, the poor get richer, too. The poor are not the employed workers, which is what we are now told. The poor are merely the few who are not working.

For in today's world, especially in our productive economy in this country, the worker commands a flow of wealth pouring into his hands that was unequaled by even the very wealthy of a couple of hundred years ago.

If the theory is factual that the poor get poorer, then the impoverished workers of 1764 are now in worse shape in 1964 than they were just before our Revolutionary war with Britain. Well, are they?

The system employed is basically the same, although it is true that the workers are not as well off as they could be were they not progressively exploited. But the exploitation comes, not from the rich, as our friend supposes, but from the state.

We are all of us, rich and poor alike, looted systematically of what we produce to the enhancement of the political sinecure.

But this is not our friend's position. It is his view that the worker is robbed of what he produces by the man who owns the tools of production, the capitalist. If all the capital in this nation were seized by force and redistributed among all the workers, the total net result would not equal so much as one week's wages for each of the "robbed" workers. While claiming that no economist knows how wealth comes into being, it is our friend who does not seem to grasp it at all.

Here we have the discredited and outmoded "labor theory of value" at its primitive purity. "The only source of all increased wealth is the production arising from the toil of the masses."

Fiddlesticks! The only source of increased wealth for anyone comes from the accumulation of capital in the hands of far-seeing capitalists, who buy and develop the tools by means of which natural resources can be converted into wealth. Without those tools and without these accumulations of capital, beginning with the land and the buildings on them, we would still have the labor of the masses, toiling 18 hours a day trying to scratch a living from the earth.

Instead, less than 6 per cent of our total population is engaged in basic agriculture. And they aren't scratching. They have powerful tools that get out and do the work almost with push - button efficiency. And tools came into their hands because other men made it possible by putting millions and millions of dollars into one pile and from that pile, buying the machine tools and the raw materials which employ millions.

The same process is occuring to some degree in every area of production. New accumulations of capital make possible increased wealth on every hand particularly among the poor. While it is true that everyone in this nation is not gainfully employed at the moment, it is also true that the numbers of persons gainfully employed enlarge substantially each year on a numerical basis. Thus, while capitalism hasn't wiped out poverty, it has eliminated the bulk of the poverty that we once had.

Before attacking the free market system, we ought to pause a moment to reflect on the gains it has brought.

If it has not been 100 per cent effective, it also has not been 100 per cent free. What we should do is to strive to make the market more free. By doing so, we will be maximizing our ability to eliminate the poor.

These Days

The Party Is Still Alive

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Goldwater victory in California means that the Republican Party is still breathing. But it is still a long way from being in robust health.

If the battle had gone the other way, the party would, in the estimation of this columnist, be dead insofar as 1964 is concerned. My reason for thinking this derives from many conversations with people who have been working their hearts out in the Goldwater grassroots movement for well over a year. These people are not now, and never have been, in the mood to take a liberal Republican candidate in 1964. Intensity in politics does not, of course, register at the polls with any more numerical effectiveness than a casual or half-hearted pull at the lever. But the grassroots Goldwaterites, despite their chief's pleas for Republican regularity no matter whom the candidate might be, would certainly stay home rather than vote for a liberal. Some of them, indeed, would vote for Lyndon Johnson purely out of spite, or out of a wish to give Republicans a lesson.

'PLOT' THEORY

Psychologically, many of the grassroots Goldwaterites reacted to the post-Oregon news of a Rockefeller upsurge with a bitter rehearsal of the "plot" theory of Republican "establishment" domination. The mails were flooded with their forebodings. Robert A. Taft was quoted as saying of his defeat at the 1952 convention. "First, it was the power of the New York financial interests and a large number of businessmen subject to New York influence . . .second, four-fifths of the influential newspapers in the country were opposed to me continuously and vociferously and many turned themselves into propaganda sheets for my opponent. . ." The "plot" theory went on to say, in a typical mimeographed letter sent out by an outraged Goldwaterite: "In 1940 Wendell Willkie had moved to the springboard of New York and received 105 votes on the first ballot in the Republican convention. Propelled by the establishment, Republican delegates began climbing the Willkie bandwagon like monkeys on a string."

The California result this year proves, of course, that Pacific coast Republicanism is not dominated by New York bankers and newspaper proprietors. But if the vote had gone the other way for whatever reason, no fervent Goldwaterite would ever have believed that the result was natural.

ELSEWHERE

In the New York State primaries, held simultaneously with the California show, the Goldwaterites elected one delegate in Erie County and came within 38 votes of putting over a second delegate. Elsewhere in Nassau, Staten Island and Queens, they came close enough to throw a distinct scare into the dominant organization bosses. Moreover, conservative Republicans such as U.S. Congressmen Becker and Derounian, as delegates from Long Island districts, will hardly lend themselves to any stop Goldwater movement on the second or third ballot at San Francisco.

If the Republican Party has been saved by the Goldwater victory from a ponderable secession of middle class suburbanites from its ranks, this does not necessarily mean that the party can win in November under conservative leadership. The liberals have their menacing swing vote, too. And the great number of liberal publicists who want a choice between two major party liberals will, in the very likely event that Goldwater gets his necessary 655 convention votes in San Francisco, line up practically en masse behind Lyndon Johnson. Maybe they were destined to turn up there anyway.

If Goldwater carries the day at San Francisco, he will be in a good position to make peace with the party regulars among the liberals. He refrained from saying nasty things about liberals all through the last hectic days in California. And he has set a record around the country for helping regular Republicans of all shades of opinion to extinguish past debts and raise new campaign money.

However, to counter the liberal defections from a Goldwater slate, the most intense sort of campaign against Lyndon Johnson must be waged. A polite, good-natured Goldwater will not be able to do it. Whether Barry can take the gloves off has yet to be proved. He will never be a mean man, but he must become an angry man to win.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question No. 520: "Would tax-supported schools collapse as T. Robert Ingram says in his pamphlet, 'Schools, Government or Public,' if compulsory attendance laws were repealed? Do you agree as he further states, 'If you did not empower the policemen to arrest anyone who does not send his children to a particular school how long do you think the wretched schools we must put up with would last?' "

Answer: Those are good sound questions. Whether they would collapse as he figures or not, it certainly would give them a good test.

T. Robert Ingram in closing his pamphlet writes, "I assure you the public would very soon restore good schools by supporting the good ones freely and withdrawing freely from the bad ones. That is the nature of public institutions and believe me, the voice of the people is a loud one. If we are truly a Christian people, we will take again the control of our schools and reassert our convictions that it is God that teacheth man knowledge — not Caesar."

This is a splendid pamphlet and can be purchased from the St. Thomas Press, P. O. Box 35096, Houston 35, Texas, for 35 cents. If you want to know how government schools got their start and what they are doing to us, it is well worth your money and time to read this 16-page pamphlet.

Questions are limited to general human relations questions that will improve the well-being of all mankind on this earth.

Wit and Whimsy

Heckler: "Are you sure of that?"

Speaker: "Yes, absolutely."

A man was taking an examination for an auto-driving license, and one of the questions asked was:

"What would you do if the driver of a car ahead moved arm up and down?"

"Man or woman?" asked the applicant.

To the Editor:

Senate Bill 2642 and House Bill 10440 are top - priority welfare (or give-away) bills proposed by the Johnson administration. They are being pushed to the limit because this is a presidential election year. They are Title 1 — Youth Programs, price tag: 412.5 millions annually. Work and training to male youths 16 to 21 years, to increase employability by education, vocational and work experience. Members assigned to about 100 camps and training centers. $190,000 to this program.

Title 2 — Community Action, price tag: 315 million annually. Calls for grants that would pay up to 90 per cent of the cost to provide assistance for low - income families in such areas as education, employment, job training, and counselling, health, vocational rehabilitation, housing, home management and welfare.

Title 3 — Rural Poverty, price tag: 50 million annually. Director would be authorized to make grants up to $1,500 to low-income rural families, if likely to produce an increase in the income of recipient. Loans up to $2,500 to low-income rural families to finance "non-agricultural" enterprises, that would increase their income. And assistance to non-profit corporations in acquiring land and developing it into family farms for sale to low-income families.

Title 4 — Employment and Investment Incentives, price tag: 25 million annually. Director could make or guarantee 25-year loans that would produce stable employment for individuals not already employed by the borrower. $25 million annually. Director could also make loans for 15 years for $15,000 to small businesses on more liberal terms than the Small Business Administration. The money would have to go for training and employment of long-term unemployed individuals. $25 million required for this part annually, would come from Small Business Administration, not H.R. 10440.

Title 5 — Family Unity, price tag: 150 million annually. Director could transfer $150 million to Health, Education and Welfare for demonstration projects for training unemployed fathers and others.

Title 6 — Salary of Director, $22,500. Four deputies $20,500, and $20,000 annually for a number of other helpers. Director would train "Volunteers for America," numbering from 3,000 to 5,000; each would be paid $40 per month plus room and board.

Title 7 — Authorizes $962.5 million for the fiscal year 1965, and such sums as are necessary in the future years.

This is Johnson's bill, with slight abbreviations. If President Johnson thinks he was put in the position he occupies temporarily with the object of shoveling out all the assets of the nation, he is sure doing a good job. He is continuing all the extravagances started by President Kennedy, and then adding on bigger ones of his own. If he is not stopped, he will have our national debt up to $500 billion. I imagine it is not far from that now in view of the obligations for Social Security, pensions for soldiers, and wounded, judges, lawmakers, ex-Presidents, and many other items that are not included in the present estimate of $315 billion. The loss the government will have in the bad mortgages of the housing that has been going on for years will help to swell the total. When you sell a house without any down payment, you are as crazy as our government; they do it all the time and often lose.

The salary of the director and his overpaid assistants would go a long way toward relieving poor folks, in fact they will be the ones that will profit most from this boondoggle. Even the ones who get $40 a month and board and room will probably be getting more than their present salary if they have any at the present time.

It will be no trouble for the director to make loans — they might as well be called by their right name, gifts. When you make loans like that, you are on the road that has no return, not even a thank you. They will be sure to come back for more of the same.

To make a short story of this I will plainly state that this bill will not alleviate the suffering of the poverty-stricken people. The few that will take the instructions will not be able to use them after they finish. If they do find jobs, they will probably displace some better man and let him hunt for another job.

If Mr. Johnson was in earnest about his desire to help the poor, he has ample opportunity to help with his own money, but no, he wants to increase the debt of the nation which has given him his highest honors. Without any legal right he is trying to obligate this entire nation to follow his petty program, that if enacted would obligate all the states to contribute heavily for the poor of just a few states. Doesn't he know that every state has its own poor to provide for? No, he wants to make everybody help save the poor of Appalachia, part of which includes the Johnson poor-farm.

He should take care of the poor on his own property before he takes on himself the responsibility of taking care of so many with the money of all the states.

Why does he not do something about the war in Cuba, the Panama Canal? Why is he disarming us in many ways? Why does he not get the Baker case settled? He claimed he was for economy, and has increased the employees in Washington by the hundreds, when they already had too many.

He shirks the things he should do, in order to force the Civil Rights Bill and now the Anti-Poverty Bill. In fact, he is not supposed to try to force Congress to do anything. He is the Executive, Congress is the lawmaker. He has no business trying to force things down their throats.

Congress could stop him by refusing to do his bidding. They might make their own laws without his help and do a better job.

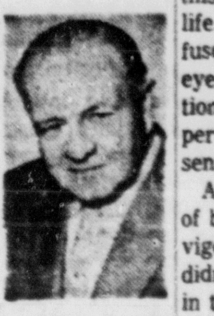
Faith Flew Out the Window

By GEORGE BOARDMAN



And where did the silver dollars go?

Occasional press releases dictated by government, imply that hoarders and collectors have removed all the silver dollars from circulation without defining the words "hoarders" or "collectors." Of course, bright people who could afford it started collecting and hoarding silver dollars a couple of years ago, in the same sense that people save money, then hoard it by placing it in savings banks or a private piggy bank. But let's take a look at a couple of facts.

The Federal Reserve one-dollar bill brought home one of the facts of financial life to a good many people who paid no attention to Federal Reserve notes in $5 and $10 and $20 denominations. More and more conversation from government about withdrawing the last bare semblance of precious metal backing for money bit into the consciousness of others with rather frightening pain. Expert economists connected with government or fearfully tied to the status quo made a few remarks about a proposed stainless steel quarter, and more and more people began looking at what they were using for money.

People who never clicked one silver dollar against another before in their lives asked for a few silver dollars from banks, then took them out of circulation. Men and women looked at their one-dollar bills and tucked them away in the back of purses and billfolds when they noticed some redeemable in silver. They spent the Federal Reserve one dollar bills first, then fives and tens and 20's, while hanging on tightly to the dollar bills which are redeemable in silver. They put silver dollars in places of safe keeping and their lack of faith in paper currency which is not redeemable in precious metal has been graphically illustrated by the disappearance of silver dollars from circulation.

Candidates aspiring to political rulership aren't mentioning this obvious fact of economic life. Officialdom, as always, refuses to look any fact in the eye and the prattling conversation about the situation from experts has been worse than nonsense.

A few days ago, at a meeting of bankers, striving with gutless vigor to ride a third rail which didn't exist, a momentary break in the dullness resulted in a resolution asking government to mint 175 million nice, new silver dollars immediately, if not sooner. Despite their enslavement to government and the Federal Reserve System, bankers occasionally come in contact with depositors and customers of the banks, generally, and they are just beginning to recognize a situation which has been in the building for a couple of years.

Privately, a good many wealthy people wish they could find something which might renew their faith in American money sufficiently so they could quit paying Swiss bankers to guard their wealth, and don't try to imagine I'm just writing off the top of my head.

In the midst of "plenty" and all us poverty-stricken but tax-plagued subjects of governmental compassion, every political candidate who is not blind as well as being deaf and dumb, is occasionally discovered mumbling something which sounds like, "I hope nothing happens until after the election." If a shred of conscience remains, politicians must numb their narrow thinking to a currency in which a great many people have obviously lost faith and the bankrupt social security system, and it's not easy, even for them.

Of course, we poverty-stricken victims of government compassion haven't a great deal to worry about. I still possess a 75-year-old double-cased gold watch which is worth more and more funny money every day, and one or two other relics of a superstitious age. But, don't make me an offer unless you have silver dollars.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

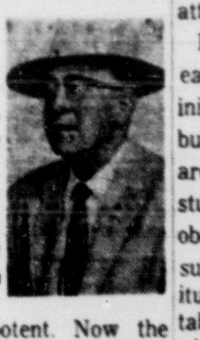
Challenge to Beliefs

By FRANK McDONOUGH, JR.



We have confronted a direct opposition to our political philosophies. This merely repeats the history of conflicts between nations of the earth. The true conflict now comes out into the open. All peoples have in their own way worshipped a God which to them is omnipotent. Now the attack comes directly against God and will determine whether we shall continue upon the very basis which has supported our nation.

Our enemies have infiltrated all too far into our social structure, and in our courts and schools and our social life the existence of an omnipotent power is not only questioned but attacked.

Is there a God? Truly, this earth has been formed with definite planning which has varied but little over the years. There are physical laws which are studied and which we must obey, otherwise chaos would result. Truly, there are also spiritual laws which are as immutable as the physical structure which we recognize. Schemes of things do not exactly happen. They are the result of a definite plan by a Creator whom we do not exactly understand. Perhaps this is our weakness.

Now in our courts, in our schools, and in our general social structure the existence and the power and the glory of God is challenged.

Today is truly an hour of decision. We may concede the battle as being the easiest way out because it is always irksome to have to obey laws. As I see it, conceding to our enemies a false philosophy would be the beginning of the loss of all decent laws of life and we would fast take on a demoralization affecting every phase of our lives.

Our God is the foundation stone of our governmental life. Without a true God, we would have no place in which to turn for courage and strength in our daily life. With freedom of religion let all who disbelieve go their own ways but let us preserve to our nation a belief that we are guided by One who created the place in which we live and our own pathways of rectitude. We must continue to trust in that power which is so much greater than we are. We must continue to abide by all of His laws and we must continue our pathways of the past in the belief of an almighty God that we may continue in the strength that we gained by our reliance upon Him.

This is your fight and mine, and we cannot let our trust and our belief go by default to those who would destroy our basic foundation.

LIBERTY

If the true spark of religious and civil liberty be kindled, it will burn. Human agency cannot extinguish it. Like the earth's central fire, it may be smothered for a time, but at some time or other, in some place or other, the volcano will break out and flame up to heaven.

Opposite Voting Records Noted by Scranton, Barry

WASHINGTON (AP) — On six major domestic and foreign issues involved during the two years their congressional service overlapped, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania had directly opposite voting records.

Scranton served in the House during the two sessions of the 87th Congress, in 1961 and 1962. He did not seek re-election.

All six of the issues on which the two major contenders for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination differed were sponsored by the John F. Kennedy Democratic administration.

Scranton voted for all of them. Goldwater voted for none.

Scranton started his congressional service by siding with the administration and the Democratic leadership in voting to enlarge the House Rules Committee.

That was not an issue in the Senate, since it involved the House only.

An increase in the national debt limit to $308 billion,

The manpower retraining bill,

Extension and broadening the reciprocal trade agreements law,

Continuation of the foreign aid program,

The area redevelopment bill, and

The 1961 omnibus housing bill.

Both opposed the Democratic proposal to create a Department of Urban Affairs and the 1962 farm bill. Both supported postal rate increases and the antipoll tax constitutional amendment.

Uphill Battle Faces Scranton In Kansas Vote

By WILLIAM L. EBERLINE

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton carried his uphill fight for the Republican presidential nomination into Kansas today, cheered by an Iowa welcome he described as "the best in my life."

It remained to be seen, though, how fruitful was his quest for votes among Iowa's 24 GOP national convention delegates. Scranton is out to wrest the nomination from Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Scranton met with Iowa delegates for nearly an hour behind closed doors Monday night. He told reporters afterward, "I think we made substantial progress."

Delegates said the governor spoke and answered questions. They termed it "a very impressive appearance." However, no delegate beyond the five already committed to him came out publicly in support of Scranton.

Scranton's backers said they were encouraged by:

—the governor's greeting here by a cheering crowd of 3,700;

—the news that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had withdrawn from the nomination race and called on moderates to back Scranton;

—a public endorsement of the Pennsylvanian by Gov. John Anderson of Kansas.

Scranton was almost mobbed as he alighted from the plane. Chants of "We want Bill, we want Bill" answered the "We want Barry, we want Barry" cries of a noisy, though comparatively small, group of Goldwater backers.

The Goldwater forces conceded the turnout was surprisingly large, considering that Scranton's Iowa backers learned only late Saturday that he was coming to their state.

"I never had such a reception in my life, even in Pennsylvania," Scranton told the crowd.

In his speech, Scranton did not mention Goldwater by name but said this is not the time to join "extreme reactionaries who are anything but conservative—those radicals of the right who would launch a system of dime-store feudalism.

"We must have people in the White House who think, because the decision is made there whether we should have war or have peace," he declared.

"This is not the hour for us to go off half-cocked in the field of foreign policy—the very field in which the American people have always supported the steady judgment and sound leadership of the Republican party when in power."

Earlier Scranton described as a "tremendous boost" the support announced for him by Rockefeller Monday.

"I appreciate support from anyone—especially from one of the real leaders of our party," he said.

Freshman Legislator Wins Maine Party Nod

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Kenneth P. MacLeod, a freshman state legislator, has won the GOP congressional nomination in Maine's 2nd District.

MacLeod didn't have the endorsement of party regulars in Monday's primary, but he defeated Herbert T. Silsby II, 20,095 to 12,416.

Kenneth M. Curtis, former director of the Area Development Administration in Maine, won the 1st District Democratic nomination over little - known Henry J. Desmarais, 8,677 to 4,560.

U.S. Senate nominations were not contested in the primary. Neither were the Republican nomination in the 1st District and the Democratic nomination in the 2nd.

MacLeod will run in November against State Democratic Chairman William D. Hathaway for the seat being vacated by Republican Clifford G. McIntire.

Curtis will face two-term Republican Stanley R. Tupper. Nominees for the senate are McIntire and Democratic incumbent Edmund S. Muskie.

Dixie Leaders Still Stall Civil Rights

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders drove to complete action on amendments to the civil rights bill today, but Southern opponents had control of the situation.

An early morning caucus of the Dixie forces was called by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., to consider how many more amendments to call up for a vote.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., floor manager of the bill told newsmen he saw a very good chance that voting on amendments would be completed by tonight.

He said, however, that this was based just on his "feeling of the pulse of the Senate" rather than on any understanding with Southern foes of the measure.

If the Southerners insist on bringing up a large number of additional amendments, he said the Senate will stay in session late into the night in an effort to dispose of them.

Humphrey said that once action on amendments is completed, he expects two days of general debate before the Senate reaches a vote on passage of the bill.

Debate on the bill and all amendments has been limited to one hour for each senator since the Senate's history - making 71-29 vote last Wednesday to invoke its anti-filibuster cloture rule.

But despite the limit on debate, Southern senators can call up for a vote more than 500 amendments still on file, even if they run out of time to explain or discuss them.

After 14 roll call votes Monday, in which all amendments offered by opponents of the bill were rejected, the Senate recessed at 5:49 p.m.

Humphrey and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., GOP floor manager of the bill, announced Monday they and the 14 bipartisan civil rights team captains had agreed not to call up strengthening amendments they have proposed.

Their purpose, they said, was to speed up final action on the bill.

Half the amendments defeated Monday dealt with the section of the bill prohibiting discrimination in public accommodations such as motels, restaurants, theaters and gasoline stations.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va. offered an amendment to strike out this part of the bill altogether. It was defeated 63 to 23.

Among the five Republicans voting for Byrd's amendments was Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, leading contender for the GOP presidential nomination.

Party to People Forum Headed By Eisenhower

The discussion took on new importance with the entry of Gov. William W. Scranton into the race for the GOP presidential nomination against Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona at the July 13 convention in San Francisco.

Named to serve with Eisenhower on the panel were former Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates; former Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota; former Ambassador to Italy Clare Boothe Luce; Dr. Robert Strausz-Hupe, director of the University of Pennsylvania's Foreign Policy Research Institute; and Dr. William Kitner, the institute's deputy director.

Robert E. Merriam, national coordinator of the Party to People program for the Republican National Committee, said the meeting should provide "a vital preview of the Republican position on foreign policy as it may be reflected in our party platform next month."

The platform committee of the GOP convention will start its hearings iin San Francisco on July 7. Five previous "Party to People Forums" on various topics were held earlier this year.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a Scranton backer, was assigned to moderate the panel.

Judy Couldn't Care Less About 'Doubts'

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — "I couldn't care less," retorted Judy Garland when newsmen pressed her today about Hollywood doubts that the singer and her traveling companion, actor Mark Herron are married.

Judy arrived with Herron aboard the line, President Roosevelt and flashed a Chinese marriage certificate which she claimed proved the wedding took place in Hong Kong last week.

Hollywood associates of the 41-year-old star had termed reports of the marriage just a gag saying she had not been divorced from Sid Luft. Judy and Luft have been separated for two years and are involved in a custody battle for their two children.

Herron said Miss Garland had obtained a Mexican divorce when questioned earlier about his announcement that they had wed aboard a ship in Hong Kong harbor.

Suspicious Bank Robber Is Caught

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—It looked suspicious to a woman passerby in the bank parking lot.

First a man clutching a handful of money ran out of the bank climbed into the trunk of a parked car and slammed the lid shut.

Then out of the bank came bank employes, yelling for police.

When officers arrived, the woman related what she had seen.

Scranton Calls Conservatism Dynamic, Living

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton contended today "conservatism is a living, vital, dynamic political concept" as he stalked Kansas delegate votes in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

Scranton declared in remarks prepared for delivery to a Republican luncheon that Democrats can build a case against the GOP this fall "if we Republicans let them."

"If we allow the conservative point of view to become tarnished and shopworn," he said, then Democrats could logically attack the GOP.

"The opposition party can't sell its gimcracks on the open American market unless we Republicans can fairly be accused of not offering a sane and reasonable alternative," he added.

Scranton sought support of the Kansas delegation to the San Francisco Republican convention after a foray Monday into Iowa that included an enthusiastic reception for him in Des Moines.

Scranton's address appeared to soft-pedal some of his differences with the senator over foreign affairs and civil rights.

Humphrey and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., GOP floor manager of the bill, announced Monday they and the 14 bipartisan civil rights team captains had agreed not to call up strengthening amendments they have proposed.

Their purpose, they said, was to speed up final action on the bill.

Half the amendments defeated Monday dealt with the section of the bill prohibiting discrimination in public accommodations such as motels, restaurants, theaters and gasoline stations.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va. offered an amendment to strike out this part of the bill altogether. It was defeated 63 to 23.

Among the five Republicans voting for Byrd's amendments was Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, leading contender for the GOP presidential nomination.

Party to People Forum Headed By Eisenhower

The discussion took on new importance with the entry of Gov. William W. Scranton into the race for the GOP presidential nomination against Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona at the July 13 convention in San Francisco.

Named to serve with Eisenhower on the panel were former Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates; former Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota; former Ambassador to Italy Clare Boothe Luce; Dr. Robert Strausz-Hupe, director of the University of Pennsylvania's Foreign Policy Research Institute; and Dr. William Kitner, the institute's deputy director.

Robert E. Merriam, national coordinator of the Party to People program for the Republican National Committee, said the meeting should provide "a vital preview of the Republican position on foreign policy as it may be reflected in our party platform next month."

The platform committee of the GOP convention will start its hearings iin San Francisco on July 7. Five previous "Party to People Forums" on various topics were held earlier this year.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a Scranton backer, was assigned to moderate the panel.

Judy Couldn't Care Less About 'Doubts'

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — "I couldn't care less," retorted Judy Garland when newsmen pressed her today about Hollywood doubts that the singer and her traveling companion, actor Mark Herron are married.

Judy arrived with Herron aboard the line, President Roosevelt and flashed a Chinese marriage certificate which she claimed proved the wedding took place in Hong Kong last week.

Hollywood associates of the 41-year-old star had termed reports of the marriage just a gag saying she had not been divorced from Sid Luft. Judy and Luft have been separated for two years and are involved in a custody battle for their two children.

Herron said Miss Garland had obtained a Mexican divorce when questioned earlier about his announcement that they had wed aboard a ship in Hong Kong harbor.

Guarani Indians of Paraguay and southern Brazil are said to have first cultivated pineapples.

Hit, Run Costs Driver $15 Fine

Larry Wayne Chisman, 17, 2404 N. Corona St. was fined $15 and costs by Justice of the Peace James F. Quine Monday for hit and run. The incident happened Thursday on North Wahsatch Avenue and the officer was E. J. Butler of the police.

State Patrolman Ken Smith ticketed Wallace Linn Earnhart, 24, Air Force Academy for not yielding the right of way Friday on U.S. Highway 85 - 87. A $5 fine and costs was imposed.

Suspicious Bank Robber Is Caught

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)— It looked suspicious to a woman passerby in the bank parking lot.

First a man clutching a handful of money ran out of the bank climbed into the trunk of a parked car and slammed the lid shut.

Then out of the bank came bank employes, yelling for police.

When officers arrived, the woman related what she had seen.

Out of the trunk they flushed Wilford Lawrence Taylor, 23, along with a pistol and $1,930. He offered no resistance.

Scranton Calls Conservatism Dynamic, Living

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton contended today "conservatism is a living, vital, dynamic political concept" as he stalked Kansas delegate votes in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

Scranton declared in remarks prepared for delivery to a Republican luncheon that Democrats can build a case against the GOP this fall "if we Republicans let them."

"If we allow the conservative point of view to become tarnished and shopworn," he said, then Democrats could logically attack the GOP.

"The opposition party can't sell its gimcracks on the open American market unless we Republicans can fairly be accused of not offering a sane and reasonable alternative," he added.

Scranton sought support of the Kansas delegation to the San Francisco Republican convention after a foray Monday into Iowa that included an enthusiastic reception for him in Des Moines.

Kansas generally is viewed as a state favoring the presidential aspirations of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the front runner for delegate support at San Francisco.

Scranton's address appeared to soft-pedal some of his differences with the senator over foreign affairs and civil rights.

Armed Forces News

By STEVE TILLMAN

WASHINGTON (Special to the Gazette Telegraph) — Latest word here is that it will be early in July, or at least the latter part of June, before the House subcommittee studying the policy for medicare for military retirees, can start hearings. Informal advance word is that an insurance program, costs to be shared by the government and uniformed personnel, will probably be recommended.

One item that has come up in the preliminary checking into the needs of the retirees, indicate that very few are really informed as to just what benefits are provided for by the government, including service facilities and the Veterans Administration.

Alert is being again used to inform retirees not to go to a military installation for treatment, except on an emergency basis, without pre-checking with the facilities. Medicare for the retiree and his dependents is only available on a space available basis and most of the installations are very crowded these days.

Retired personnel of the Armed Forces are reminded that if their active duty period included any wartime service, they are eligible to medical and hospital care by the Veterans Administration as veterans. For retirees without the wartime service they would be eligible only if the retirement was due to disability in line of duty. The VA does not include medicare for dependents in its program.

Air Force will attempt the first launching of the Titan 3, the most powerful military rocket we have, sometime this summer. The Titan 3 will be an all-purpose military booster, capable some day of carrying large weapons into orbit, or retain its present assigned duty which is to lift a large man-carrying space laboratory.

Reliable Washington News sources say that the Department of Defense has planned a substantial Reserve Force cutback. The cutback would be applicable only to the Army and Air Force. The first step in this has been taken with the announced cutback in the number of Air Force Reserve units set-up to keep warplanes from flying from civilian airports in the event of nuclear attack on the United States. Some 8,500 reservists are affected by the order de-activating 40 Recovery Groups and 91 Recovery Squadrons by Aug. 31.

New rule under consideration by Pentagon would give enlisted men first priority for all on-base family housing. Proposal would have 80 per cent of on-base housing assigned to qualified enlisted personnel.

Pentagon is to consider proposal that families which abuse government housing should be barred from second occupancy. Defense legal specialists looking into the legal angles to such a ban.

Armed Forces active duty personnel will vote Sept 25 in absentee ballot drive by the several services. The services now sending out data to the field on state voting requirements.

Department of Defense planning a new study of its overseas schools for dependents Plans are in the making to step up the program by urging retirees to enter the teaching profession with employment in these schools.

When an Armed Forces installation is closed out the local school system no longer collects the government "bounty" for children of federal employes and service families that attend the local schools. The local governments are worried over the possible loss of this source of income.

Due to pressure from nearby communities military installations getting warning notice from the Pentagon to be more cautious in allowing use of Open Mess facilities by non-military activities. Exemption from state taxes and the right to serve drinks on Sunday in the Open Messes is frowned on by local clubs and restaurants which are not exempted.

Army asking for Bachelor Officers Quarters (BOQ) as means of retaining young officers in career. For example the setup for the 2nd Armored Division at Ft. Hood is to assist that division rather than the First Armor also at Ft. Hood.

Sometimes politics gets into the administration of the installations. Army would like to have oil heating plant for new headquarters at Ft. Sheridan. Defense Department however insists that Army first try out coal heating.

Effective July 1 of this year several thousand Navy enlisted men will become aware of the changes to be made in skill identification. Under the new plan every naval enlisted classification will be assigned to one or more basic source ratings.

In planning stage for more than two years the Navy's three times a year SEAVEY, will start becoming effective as of Oct. 1. Eventually the program will eliminate the present segments and announce sea-duty cut-off dates for all naval ratings.

The President has approved and sent to the Senate for confirmation the names of 31 naval officers for promotion to flag grades. The selections indicate close adherence to the new policy of youthful age, high degrees, and joint staff duty experience.

Marines changing ribbon stars from downward point to an upward one. No rush in making change over says corps spokesman. As ribbons are replaced the stars should point upward.

Due to liberalizing of Marine Corps "pro-pay" program some 1,500 Marines soon will be getting from $50 to $75 a month more pay. In addition some others in ten MOS's will have their "pro-pay" upped from $50 monthly P-1 to $75 or $100 a month.

Next General Officer Selection Board of Marines to recommend five Brig. Generals for 2nd star. Effective with FY 1965 twice-passed over Lieutenant Colonels will be permitted to complete 26 years of service prior to retirement from the Marine Corps.

A tentative plan of the Navy now calls for sending only the Enterprise around the world rather than the 3-ship fleet originally proposed.

Jazz Session Set in September

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Eighteen widely known dixieland jazz musicians will be featured at a party in the Jerome Hotel Sept. 18-20.

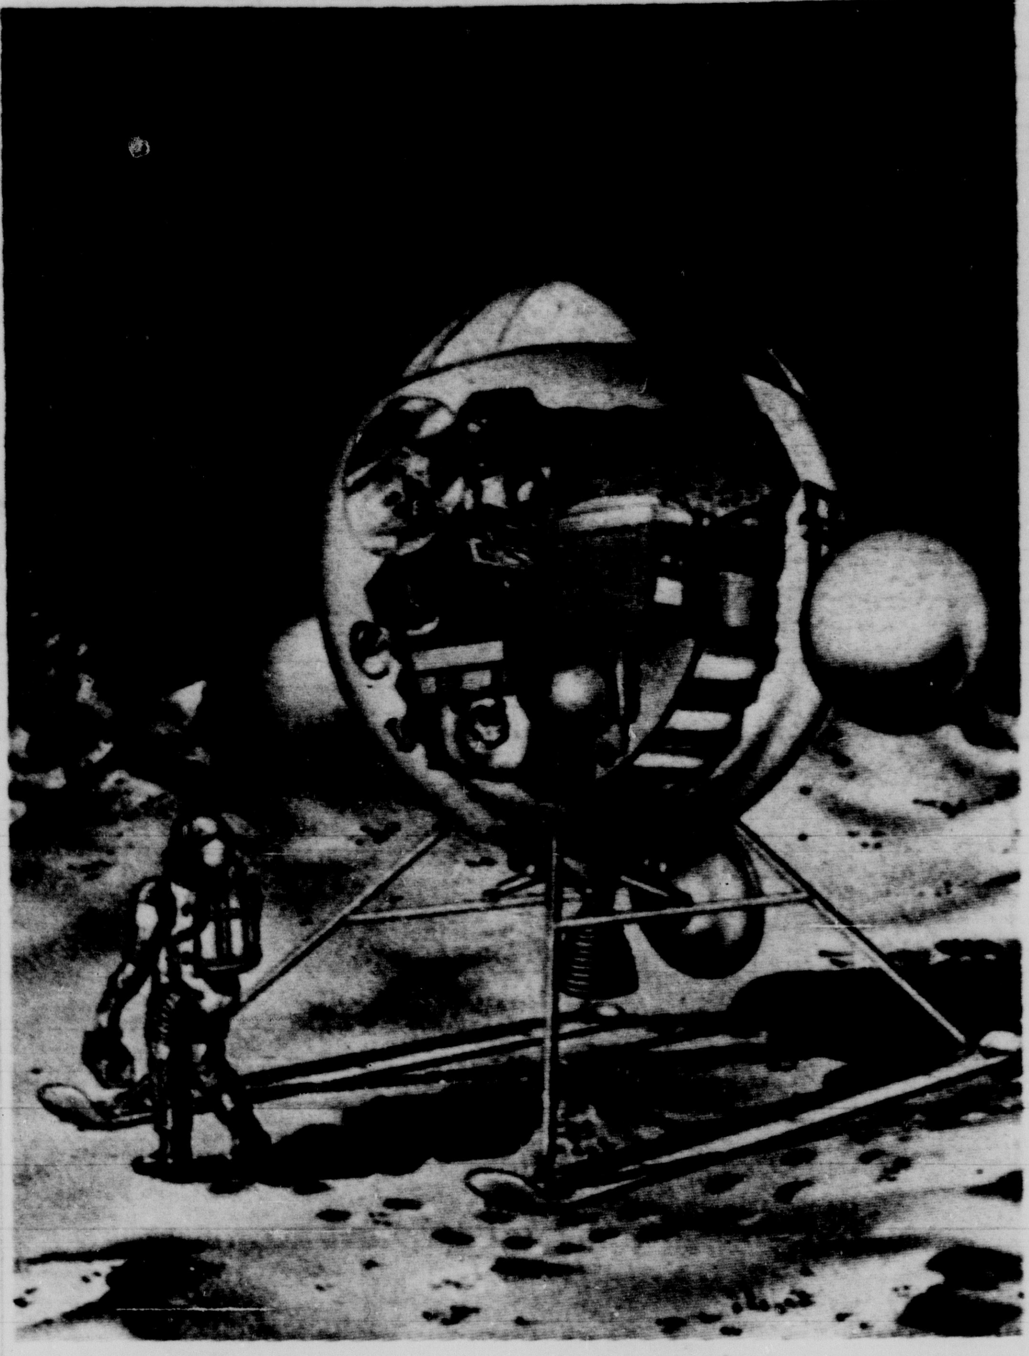
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gibson are sponsoring the event similar to last year's party in September that attracted 10 jazz musicians.

The party will begin at 10 p.m. Friday and continue through the night.

Invited persons can attend at a cost of $62.50 per person. That is to defray the $13,000 cost of importing the musicians.

BUILDS SUBSYSTEMS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. will build electronic subsystems for a French scientific satellite, whose mission is to measure very low frequency wave propagation in the earth's upper atmosphere.



CAR ON MOON — This, according to some scientists, might well be the kind of vehicle early moon-explorers would use in their travels through space. Designed for a 600-mile roundtrip from a lunar base site, the vehicle would provide almost 200 hours at a destination site for exploratory purposes. Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., scientists dreamed up this vehicle. (AP Wirephoto)

Parisian Killer Hunted After Many Letters

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP)—A voluble fugitive with a compulsion to kill and tell has Parisian parents on tenterhooks.

The man who signs himself "The Strangler" claims he killed 11-year-old Luc Taron before dawn on May 27, and that he has also murdered two men. He has written 27 times to police, newspapers and radio stations.

"I already know which child I want to talk about for the announcement of my next kidnaping," he wrote.

At first the letters were considered the work of a crank. But Yves Taron, Luc's father, said, "It's he—the killer. There is no doubt. He gives too many precise details."

The police also are convinced that the letter writer knows too much to be crossed off as a mentally deranged person who has no connection with the killing of the Taron boy.

The clues the letter writer has given have been tantalizingly vague, however. The man said he lives in the 15th Arrondissement of Paris, has a Citreon DS19 automobile and is the son of a high civil servant. The handwriting slants backwards, as if written with the left hand.

But he warned: "In what I say, it must be understood there is both true and false."

The Strangler says that he encountered Luc about 11:30 p.m., on May 26 at the Etoile subway station. They went for a walk in Luc's neighborhood, took the subway, got off near the Eiffel Tower and then went by car to the Varrieres forest south of Paris.

During the trip, the man wrote, he telephoned Luc's home and asked for ransom but was curtly refused. He later wrote that he must have gotten the wrong number.

The Strangler said Luc went to sleep in the forest and that he awakened him between 3 and 5 a.m., took him deeper into the woods and strangled him. The body was found later in the day.

When asked through newspapers the names of the two men he claims to have killed, the Strangler replied that one was a banker whose case caused a stir at the time and the other was a policeman who tried to stop him at a roadblock.

The only banker known to have been killed in several years was Henri Lafond, shot down outside his home in suburban Neuilly on March 6, 1963. The killing was attributed to the anti-De Gaulle secret army.

ANIMAL ARTIST

NEW YORK (AP) — L. L. Sandford, the staff artist of the New York Zoological Society at the Bronx Zoo recently started his 4,000th painting of zoo animals, fish, and birds, many of which are used on signs outside the cages. He also has illustrated 15 nature books.

Scooter Thief Caught By Flying Tackle

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Bobby Leonard Wynn, 19, chose the wrong scooter and the wrong driveway Saturday night and ended up surrounded by police.

Officers said Wynn stole a three-wheel police scooter from a shopping center. The theft was noticed when a cruising policeman saw the scooter speed around a corner on two wheels.

In the ensuing chase, the scooter dodged down a driveway leading to the central police station and rammed into a squad car. Wynn jumped from the scooter and officers poured from headquarters, catching him with a flying tackle.

'Miss Denver' Crown Goes to Negro Co-ed

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A 19-year-old Negro girl was elected Miss Denver Sunday night and she said: "I'd like to cry."

Ernesdyne Elizabeth Toliver won over 12 other candidates in her first beauty contest. She was awarded a set of luggage and a $300 scholarship.

Parisian Killer Hunted After Many Letters

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP)—A voluble fugitive with a compulsion to kill and tell has Parisian parents on tenterhooks.

The man who signs himself "The Strangler" claims he killed 11-year-old Luc Taron before dawn on May 27, and that he has also murdered two men. He has written 27 times to police, newspapers and radio stations.

"I already know which child I want to talk about for the announcement of my next kidnaping," he wrote.

At first the letters were considered the work of a crank. But Yves Taron, Luc's father, said, "It's he—the killer. There is no doubt. He gives too many precise details."

The police also are convinced that the letter writer knows too much to be crossed off as a mentally deranged person who has no connection with the killing of the Taron boy.

The clues the letter writer has given have been tantalizingly vague, however. The man said he lives in the 15th Arrondissement of Paris, has a Citreon DS19 automobile and is the son of a high civil servant. The handwriting slants backwards, as if written with the left hand.

But he warned: "In what I say, it must be understood there is both true and false."

The Strangler says that he encountered Luc about 11:30 p.m., on May 26 at the Etoile subway station. They went for a walk in Luc's neighborhood, took the subway, got off near the Eiffel Tower and then went by car to the Varrieres forest south of Paris.

During the trip, the man wrote, he telephoned Luc's home and asked for ransom but was curtly refused. He later wrote that he must have gotten the wrong number.

The Strangler said Luc went to sleep in the forest and that he awakened him between 3 and 5 a.m., took him deeper into the woods and strangled him. The body was found later in the day.

When asked through newspapers the names of the two men he claims to have killed, the Strangler replied that one was a banker whose case caused a stir at the time and the other was a policeman who tried to stop him at a roadblock.

The only banker known to have been killed in several years was Henri Lafond, shot down outside his home in suburban Neuilly on March 6, 1963. The killing was attributed to the anti-De Gaulle secret army.

Scooter Thief Caught By Flying Tackle

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Bobby Leonard Wynn, 19, chose the wrong scooter and the wrong driveway Saturday night and ended up surrounded by police.

Officers said Wynn stole a three-wheel police scooter from a shopping center. The theft was noticed when a cruising policeman saw the scooter speed around a corner on two wheels.

In the ensuing chase, the scooter dodged down a driveway leading to the central police station and rammed into a squad car. Wynn jumped from the scooter and officers poured from headquarters, catching him with a flying tackle.
